2000 Raoul Wallenberg Lecture Michael Benedikt, 2000 Portico, 2000 Synchronizing Science and Technology with Human Behaviour Ralf Brand, 2010-09-23 A rare achievement one of the first books to link technological and behavioural change to the sustainability agenda Charles Landry author of The Creative City Any course interested in sustainable development in practice would benefit from the case studies here Dr Adrian Smith SPRU Science and Technology Policy Research Unit University of Sussex UK Two disjointed voices can be identified in the prevailing sustainability discourse one technology focused the other favouring behavioural solutions This new practical text bridges the gap in a co evolutionary framework enabling more sustainable policies and projects to be developed Arguing that technical and social realms are much more connected than most people concerned with sustainability tend to admit the author has developed an innovative and integrated strategy that encourages planners architects and politicians to work with end users in co designing technologies and infrastructures that make socially desired behaviours more attractive Having explained the nature of the problem the author outlines key concepts and shared characteristics of co evolutionary projects and anticipates possible criticisms Through detailed analysis and diverse case studies the reader is presented with a clear picture of a more holistic approach to planning sustainable cities and regions which will be invaluable for students and professionals alike This will be an invaluable textbook and planning tool suitable for students of science and technology studies STS regional policy and planning and practitioners including city and regional planners policy makers and consultants Architecture, Culture, and Spirituality Thomas Barrie, Julio Bermudez, Phillip James Tabb, 2016-03-09 Architecture has long been understood as a cultural discipline able to articulate the human condition and lift the human spirit yet the spirituality of architecture is rarely directly addressed in academic scholarship The seventeen chapters provide a diverse range of perspectives grouped according to topical themes Being in the World Sacred Secular and the Contemporary Condition Symbolic Engagements Sacred Landscapes and Spirituality and the Designed Environment Even though the authors approach the subject from a range of disciplines and theoretical positions all share interests in the need to rediscover redefine or reclaim the sacred in everyday experience scholarly analysis and design Developing Creative Thinking in Beginning Design Stephen Temple, 2018-10-03 Learning to think and act creatively is a requisite fundamental aspect of design education for architectural and interior design as well as industrial and graphic design Development of creative capacities must be encountered early in design education for beginning students to become self actualized as skillful designers With chapters written by beginning design instructors Developing Creative Thinking in Beginning Design addresses issues that contribute to deficiencies in teaching creativity in contemporary beginning design programs Where traditional pedagogies displace creative thinking by placing conceptual abstractions above direct experiential engagement the approaches presented in this book set forth alternative pedagogies that mitigate student fears and misconceptions to reveal the potency of authentic encounters for initiating creative transformational development These chapters challenge design pedagogy to address such issues as the spatial body phenomenological thinking making as process direct material engagement and its temporal challenges creative decision making and the wickedness of design and the openness of the creative design problem In doing so this book sets out to give greater depth to first design experiences and more effectively enable the breadth and depth of the teacher student relationship as a means of helping your students develop the capacity for long term self transformation
