Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf,2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Self-Observation in the Social Sciences Joshua W. Clegg,2018-04-17 Notwithstanding the mythical demise of introspection self observation has always been an integral aspect of the social sciences In the century following the behavioral revolution psychology has seen a reduction not so much in the frequency as in the rigor with which self observation is practiced A great deal of self observation has been renamed or obscured as for example self report but this has served only to defer and impoverish important theoretical and technical work This volume which contributes to the development of a rigorous theory of self observation is organized around three general objectives to re animate a discourse on self observation through a historical analysis of various self observation traditions to outline and begin to address some of the unique theoretical challenges of self observation and to elaborate some of the technical and practical details necessary for realizing a program of research dedicated to self observation In the first section of the book three historians of psychology trace the evolution of self observation In the second three scholars who are currently working in contemporary traditions of self observation discuss the basic theoretical and practical challenges involved in conducting self observation research In the final two sections of the book scholars from the phenomenological and narrative traditions trace the history theory and practice of self observation in their respective traditions Self Observation in the Social Sciences continues the fine tradition set by Transaction s History and Theory of Psychology series edited by Jaan Valsiner It is of interest to psychologists and to those who study methodology within the social sciences

A History of the Surrealist Novel Anna Watz, 2023-02-16 A History of the Surrealist Novel offers a rich long and elastic historiography of the surrealist novel taking into consideration an abundance of texts previously left out of critical accounts Its twenty thematically organized chapters examine surrealist prose texts written in French English Spanish German Greek and Japanese from the emergence of the surrealist movement in the 1920s and 1930s through the post war and postmodern periods and up to the contemporary moment This approach extends received narratives regarding surrealism s geographical locations and considers its transnational movement and modes of circulation Moreover it challenges critical biases that have defined surrealism in predominantly masculine terms and which tie the movement to the interwar or early post war years This book will appeal both to scholars and students of surrealism and its legacies modernist literature and the history of the novel

The Colonial Origins of Modern Social Thought George Steinmetz, 2025-02-25 A new history of French social thought that connects postwar sociology to colonialism and empire In this provocative and original retelling of the history of French social thought George Steinmetz places the history and development of modern French sociology in the context of the French empire after World War II Connecting the rise of all the social sciences with efforts by France and other imperial powers to consolidate control over their crisis ridden colonies Steinmetz argues that colonial research represented a crucial core of the renascent academic discipline of sociology especially between the late 1930s and the 1960s Sociologists who became favored partners of colonial governments were asked to apply their expertise to such social problems as detribalization urbanization poverty and labor migration This colonial orientation permeated all the major subfields of sociological research Steinmetz contends and is at the center of the work of four influential scholars Raymond Aron Jacques Berque Georges Balandier and Pierre Bourdieu In retelling this history Steinmetz develops and deploys a new methodological approach that combines attention to broadly contextual factors dynamics within the intellectual development of the social sciences and sociology in particular and close readings of sociological texts He moves gradually toward the postwar sociologists of colonialism and their writings beginning with the most macroscopic contexts which included the postwar reoccupation of the French empire and the turn to developmentalist policies and the resulting demand for new forms of social scientific expertise After exploring the colonial engagement of researchers in sociology and neighboring fields before and after 1945 he turns to detailed examinations of the work of Aron who created a sociology of empires Berque the leading historical sociologist of North Africa Balandier the founder of French Africanist sociology and Bourdieu whose renowned theoretical concepts were forged in war torn late colonial Algeria

The New Midlife Self-Writing Emily O.

Wittman, 2021-11-04 In The New Midlife Self Writing Wittman treats recent self writing by Rachel Cusk Roxane Gay Sarah Manguso and Maggie Nelson carefully situating these vital midlife works within the history of self writing She argues that they renew and redirect the autobiographical trajectories characteristic of earlier self writing by switching their orientation to face the future and by celebrating midlife as a growing season a time of Bildung In each chapter writer by writer she demonstrates how the midlife self writers in question trace confident and future oriented paths through the past rejecting triumphalism and complicating both identity and individualism just as they refine and redefine genres Exploring these midlife self writers as chroniclers of Generation X's midlife in particular Wittman coins the term digital absence to map their unique relationship to new forms of knowledge and knowledge gathering in an Information Age that they are both of and set apart from She theorizes that their works share a pedagogical style a style characterized by clarity exposition and classical rhetoric as well as a concern with the classroom offering a warrant for reading them in pedagogical terms in concert with traditional scholarly approaches Furthermore Wittman presents readers with a look ahead at the future of midlife self writing as well as self writing overall concluding that we might be looking at the scholarship of the future
