Race Rules Baodong Liu, James M. Vanderleeuw, 2007-10-15 Race Rules Electoral Politics in New Orleans 1965 2006 examines one of the innumerable ramifications of Hurricane Katrina a reversal in the decades long process of racial transition from white dominant to black dominant The electoral consequences of such a racial change in a city where race has historically played a pronounced social economic and political role are potentially dramatic In light of the 2006 New Orleans mayoral election the following emerges as a significant question Does a change in the population's racial composition mean a reversal in the political status of African Americans in New Orleans To address this question Liu and Vanderleeuw investigate racial voting patterns in New Orleans municipal elections over a forty year span from 1965 to 2006 Race Rules argues that as an enduring influence in urban politics race manifests as either electoral conflict or electoral accommodation but not as acceptance of the political empowerment of other race members What Can You Say? John Hartigan Jr.,2010-06-10 We are in a transitional moment in our national conversation on race Despite optimistic predictions that Barack Obama s election would signal the end of race as an issue in America the race related news stories just keep coming Race remains a political and polarizing issue and the sprawling unwieldy and often maddening means we have developed to discuss and evaluate what counts as racial can be frustrating In What Can You Say John Hartigan Jr examines a watershed year of news stories taking these events as a way to understand American culture and challenge our existing notions of what is racial or not The book follows race stories that have made news headlines including Don Imus s remarks about the Rutgers women s basketball team protests in Jena Louisiana and Barack Obama s presidential campaign to trace the shifting contours of mainstream U S public discussions of race as they incorporate new voices words and images Focused on the underlying dynamics of American culture that shape this conversation this book aims to make us more fluent in assessing the stories we consume about race Advancing our conversation on race hinges on recognizing and challenging the cultural conventions governing the ways we speak about and recognize race In drawing attention to this curious cultural artifact our national conversation on race Hartigan ultimately offers a way to to understand race in the totality of American culture as a constantly evolving debate As this book demonstrates the conversation is far from over Immigrants and Electoral Politics Heath Brown,2016-08-31 In Immigrants and Electoral Politics Heath Brown shows why nonprofit electoral participation has emerged in relationship to new threats to immigrants on one hand and immigrant integration into U S society during a time of demographic change on the other Immigrants across the United States tend to register and vote at low rates thereby limiting the political power of many of their communities In an attempt to boost electoral participation through mobilization some nonprofits adopt multifaceted political strategies including registering new voters holding candidate forums and phone banking to increase immigrant voter turnout Other nonprofits opt to barely participate at all in electoral politics preferring to advance the immigrant community by providing exclusively social services Brown interviewed dozens of nonprofit leaders and surveyed hundreds of organizations To capture the breadth of the immigrant experience Brown selected organizations operating in traditional centers of immigration as well as new gateways for immigrants across the South Florida Illinois Michigan New Jersey New York and North Carolina The stories that emerge from his research include incredible successes in mobilizing immigrant communities including organizations that registered sixty thousand new immigrant voters in New York They also reveal efforts to suppress nonprofit voter mobilization in Florida and describe the organizational response to hate crimes directed at immigrants in Illinois
