Molho, Gordon S. Wood, 2018-06-05 This collection of essays by twenty one distinguished American historians reflects on a peculiarly American way of imagining the past At a time when history writing has changed dramatically the authors discuss the birth and evolution of historiography in this country from its origins in the late nineteenth century through its present more cosmopolitan character In the book's first part concerning recent historiography are chapters on exceptionalism gender economic history social theory race and immigration and multiculturalism Authors are Daniel Rodgers Linda Kerber Naomi Lamoreaux Dorothy Ross Thomas Holt and Philip Gleason The three American centuries are discussed in the second part with chapters by Gordon Wood George Fredrickson and James Patterson The third part is a chronological survey of non American histories including that of Western civilization ancient history the middle ages early modern and modern Europe Russia and Asia Contributors are Eugen Weber Richard Saller Gabrielle Spiegel Anthony Molho Philip Benedict Richard Kagan Keith Baker Joseph Zizak Volker Berghahn Charles Maier Martin Malia and Carol Gluck Together these scholars reveal the unique perspective American historians have brought to the past of their own nation as well as that of the world Formerly writing from a conviction that America had a singular destiny American historians have gradually come to share viewpoints of historians in other countries about which they write The result is the virtual disappearance of what was a distinctive American voice That voice is the subject of this book Handbook on Teaching Social Issues Ronald W.

Evans, David W. Saxe, 2007-10-01 There's no book like this one for educators interested in issues centered teaching More than 40 experts have contributed articles offering comprehensive coverage of the field of social issues education In addition to a full examination of objectives and methods contributors show how social issues can be taught as part of history geography the social sciences and global and environmental studies The challenges of assessment curriculum and effective teacher education are fully explored With its teaching ideas and useful resource section this book is an indispensable addition to your library Contributors include Shirley Engle Anna Ochoa Becker Jack Nelson Carole Hahn Byron Massialas Jeff Passe Jesus Garcia Gloria Ladson Billings Merry Merryfield Patricia Avery Sam Totten Bill Wraga Walter Parker and James Shaver Full History Steven G. Smith, 2016-12-15 How can we take history seriously as real and relevant Despite the hazards of politically dangerous or misleading accounts of the past we live our lives in a great network of cooperation with other actors past present and future We study and reflect on the past as a way of exercising a responsibility for shared action In each of the chapters of Full History Smith poses a key question about history as a concern for conscious participants in the sharing of action starting with What Is Historical Meaningfulness and ending with How Can History Have an Aim Constructing new models of historical meaning while engaging critically with perspectives offered by Ranke Dilthey Rickert Heidegger Eliade Sartre Foucault and Arendt Smith develops a philosophical account of thinking about history that moves beyond postmodernist skepticism Full History seeks to expand the cast of significant actors establishing an inclusive version of the historical that recognizes large scale cumulative actions but also encourages critical revision and expansion of any paradigm of shared action

Unsettled History Leslie Witz, Gary

Minkley, Ciraj Rassool, 2017-02-27 Unsettled History examines South African society and the construction and presentation of its public pasts from Nelson Mandela's release from prison in 1990 to South Africa's hosting of the 2010 FIFA World Cup. Conventionally represented as a time of rectifying the silences and distortions of settler history through inclusion and recovery, the focus here instead is on the shifts in processes and locations of historicizing and the unsettled state of categories of framing history in post-apartheid South Africa. This era saw fundamental transformations in the order of knowledge from the academy to the public from popular history to public history from history as lesson to history as forum. Leslie Witz, Gary Minkley, and Ciraj Rassool take the reader to sites of historical production in which complex ideas about pasts are invoked and navigate a path toward understanding the agencies of image making and memory production. This volume is the outcome of the authors' intensive collaborative research and engagement over twenty-five years on questions including the production and performance of apartheid history, the cultural politics of social history, South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission and practices of orality, tourism as an arena of image making and historical construction, museums as sites of heritage production for a new South Africa, photographs' archival meanings and the construction of the social documentary, and the centenary commemorations of the South African War and the making of race. The authors not only witnessed many of these instances of history making but were also participants in their constitution.
