New Economic Systems Of Eastern Europe:

The New Economic Systems of Eastern Europe Hohmann, Hans-Hermann Höhmann, Michael Charles Kaser, Karl Christian Thalheim, 1975-01-01 Monograph comprising a comparison of the economic systems of Eastern European countries covers the reform of economic administration economic planning the foreign trade system the situation of public enterprises pricing CMEA relations farming etc References and statistical tables Building the New Europe Mario Baldassarri, Robert Mundell, 1993-10-15 Building the New Europe is at the core of the new international economic and political initiatives leading the world through the nineties and toward the twenty first century This challenge rests on dual processes on the one hand the European Community wide single market and monetary integration and on the other the East European transition to the market place and integration with Western economies The volume is divided into two parts The first section includes essays on the general and specific topics linked to the transitions to a market economy and to a pluralist political system The second section comprises essays on individual countries such as Hungary Poland Yugoslavia and the Republics of the former Soviet Union The New Eastern Europe And The World Economy Jozef M. Van Brabant, 2019-08-21 The unprecedented economic political and social changes that have followed the east European revolutions of late 1989 rank among the epochal events of the twentieth century The end of the cold war has opened up far reaching possibilities for international economic cooperation which may be able to stimulate economic growth in the region and revive interactions with the global economy This collection of essays comes to grips with the problems of repositioning the new Eastern economies in the global arena The contributors address four main themes freeing up foreign economic sectors through trade liberalization currency convertibility and greater access to markets for international capital the disintegration of the trade payment pricing and settlements systems based on the transferable ruble active participation in the key organizations entrusted with international financial monetary and trading regimes and strategies for using international economic assistance to alleviate adjustment costs with ongoing transition policies East European Economies Post-Helsinki United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee, 1977 Industrial Policy in Eastern Europe J.M. Van Brabant, 2012-12-06 This volume in essence continues my recent contributions towards building up a better understanding of the wide range of obstacles besetting the transitions away from administrative planning in the former communist regimes in the eastern part of Europe It is self contained however As such it specifically addresses issues revolving around how best to govern economies and indeed societies more generally that are undergoing fundamental structural transformation and whether industrial policy can facilitate progressing with the vexing transformations that will have to be enacted over a protracted period of time Because of the bewildering variety of hindrances that the managers of the transition have been confronted with many of which were not even contemplated when the programs were first designed regaining a measure of good governance including notably good economic governance is critical in formulating a positive political economy of transition Arguably most critical is steering the processes of destruction and creation not creative destruction in the Schumpeterian sense In some cases this requires reallocating decommissioned resources both capital and labor to new activities Changing rules on the utilization of existing assets is evidently at the core of what the transition towards market based economic systems should be all about Very often however this requires establishing new economic activities from domestic and foreign savings

The East European Economies in the 1970s Alec Nove, Hans-Hermann Höhmnn, Gertraud Seidenstecher, 2013-10-22 The East European Economies in the 1970s reviews the development of economic policy in Eastern Europe in the 1970s This book includes individual country studies that compare and contrast both the aims of economic development and the results of the growth process as well as the instruments employed in economic policy More specifically this book examines what has happened during the past decade after the fundamental changes in economic policy that occurred in the 1960s This text is comprised of 10 chapters the first of which provides a background on economic reform in Eastern Europe during the 1970s Attention then turns to the economic policy methods and performance of the USSR after 1970 The chapters that follow focus on the German Democratic Republic Poland Czechoslovakia Hungary Bulgaria Romania and Yugoslavia This book concludes with a discussion on the economic system of Albania in the 1970s focusing on the country's conservative radicalism agriculture and sharp disputes on economic policy between 1974 and 1976 Throughout the book the emphasis is on how the process of reconstruction within the system has led to increasing differentiation of aims institutions and instruments of economic policy between individual countries This book will be of interest to political science students political scientists political economists and policy analysts

The East European Economy in Context David Turnock, 2003-09-02 Since 1989 the former communist countries of Eastern Europe have witnessed a profound and dramatic upheaval The economic coherence of this region formerly maintained through the adoption of the Soviet system of government has fractured In The East European Economy in Context Communism and Transition David Turnock examines the transition from communist to free market economies both within and between the states of Eastern Europe As well as containing an informative survey of the impact of communism The East European Economy in Context provides Political profiles of individual countries A clear study of the contrasts between northern and balkan groups Summaries of regional variations in the transition process An exploration of the new state structures and resources Discussion of political stability inter ethnic tensions and progress in economic change

Economic Reform and Political Change in Eastern Europe Judy Batt, 1988-06-21 Economic reform the introduction of elements of the market into a planned economy has been the central political problem for socialist states for at least three decades This book seeks to elucidate the nature of the problem through a reconsideration of the general theoretical issues and through a comparative analysis of the practice of economic reform in two countries Czechoslovakia and Hungary

U.S. Policy Toward Eastern Europe, 1985 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on Europe and the Middle East, 1986

Crisis in the East European Economy Jan Drewnowski, 2025-11-21

Crisis in the East European Economy 1982 is a collection of essays written by leading specialists in centrally planned economies examining developments in late stage Soviet style economies in East European countries The case of Poland is given special attention as the disorder was most spectacular there and started a political upheaval which shook the foundations of the Soviet style system the term Polish disease becoming synonymous with Eastern European decline Economic political social and institutional factors are examined across Eastern Europe to determine the inherent features common to all Soviet style economies
