Between Conviction and Uncertainty Jerry N. Downing,2000-07-13 At a time when scores of seemingly incompatible theories and methods are competing for ascendancy in psychotherapy one could argue that the crucial intellectual and moral dilemmas of this field are largely philosophical in nature Yet most psychotherapists are never formally exposed to philosophical thinking during their training years or subsequent careers Between Conviction and Uncertainty Philosophical Guidelines for the Practicing Psychotherapist makes a significant contribution by bridging this gap Jerry Downing examines and clarifies the philosophical context epistemological scientific moral within which psychotherapy functions He demonstrates the necessity of maintaining a creative tension a dialectic between conviction and uncertainty in the work of the therapist and more importantly he explores in depth how this might be done Further he presents these sometimes complex ideas in prose that is truly reader friendly This book should appeal to all practitioners supervisors and students trainees who find value in reflecting on the nature of psychotherapeutic practice as well as to readers with theoretical or philosophical interests in psychotherapy

Contemporary Art Therapy with Adolescents Shirley Riley,1999-01-01 Art therapy provides a particularly helpful method for treating adolescents A notoriously difficult age group to work with teenagers often respond better to making artworks than they do to talking to adults It is the gift of the well trained art therapist to channel this creative impulse into therapy

Adult Development, Therapy, and Culture Gerald D. Young, 2013-06-29 This volume proposes a theoretical integration of several major streams in contemporary psychological theory about adult development and therapy It adopts the perspective that there are steps in development throughout the adult period and that they are characterized by a union of the cognitive and affective the self and the other and idea with idea in second order collective abstractions That is they are at once postformal in terms of Piaget s theory sociocultural in terms of Vygotsky s theory and postmodern with the latter perspective providing an integrating theme The affirmative multivoiced contextual relational other sensitive side of postmodernism is emphasized Levinas s philosophy of responsibility for the other is seen as congruent with this ethos The neopiagetian model of development on which the current approach is based proposes that the last stage in development concerns collective intelligence or postmodern postformal thought Kegan 1994 has attempted independently to describe adult development from the same perspective His work on the development of the postmodern mind of the adult is groundbreaking and impressive in its depth However I analyze the limitations as well as the contributions of his approach under scoring the advantages of my particular model
