THE FOURTEENTH CLIFFEHAVEN NOVEL BY SUNDAY TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR ELLIE DEAN Cliffhaven May 1944 The tension is rising for Peggy Reilly and the inhabitants of Cliffhaven as the planes continue to roar above the town and there is still no news of the long awaited Allied invasion into France There seems to be no end in sight of this war which has scattered her family and brought conflict right to the door of Beach View Boarding House but Peggy cannot work miracles and the toll of the war is beginning to weigh on her slender shoulders Meanwhile Ron Reilly has landed himself in hot water with his sweetheart Rosie and this time his Irish charm will not be enough to get him out of trouble The war has forever changed the lives of Peggy's loved ones but with the promise of an Allied invasion comes the hope that her beloved husband and family will at last be coming home It will take an enormous amount of spirit to keep that hope alive and bring harmony back to Beach View FIND LOVE FIND HOPE FIND CLIFFEHAVEN With a Kiss and a Prayer is set almost exclusively in Cliffhaven in the heart of Ellie Dean's world the Beach View Boarding House The Woman in Me Mama Sophia, 2010-09-07 This book contains a two fold purpose it shares the experiences of an African woman who developed from powerlessness to great empowering heights and it also attempts to communicate to the world the experiences and stories of the many voiceless African women and their children The book is an introduction to a five year on going research on the African Women and Psychology of Oppression The contents are mostly stories beliefs and philosophies of African women They are true experiences Some of them are breathtaking some are heartbreaking Vocations Gerald O'Donovan, 1922 Army-Navy-Air Force Register and Defense Times, 1918 Negotiating Work, Family, and Identity among Long-Haul Christian Truck Drivers Rebecca L. Upton, 2016-08-12 This book draws upon ethnographic and qualitative research in the United States to demonstrate the means through which long haul truck drivers navigate work and family tensions in ways that resonate across categories of race class gender and religion It examines how Christianity and constructions of masculinity are significant in the lives of long haul drivers and how truckers work to construct narratives of their lives as good moral individuals in contrast to competing cultural narratives which suggest images of romantic rule free renegade lives on the open road Based upon ethnographic fieldwork interviews observations of long haul truckers and participation in a CDL school this rich ethnography highlights how Christian trucking opportunities provide avenues through which balance is struck between work and family masculinity and other identities Embedded in larger social discourse about the meaning of masculinity and similar to evangelical perspectives such as those of the Promise Keepers Christian truckers often draw upon older ideas about responsible breadwinning fatherhood in their discourse about being good fathers while on the road This discourse is in some conflict with the lived experiences of Christian truckers who simultaneously find themselves confronted by more contemporary cultural narratives of the work family balance and expectations of what it means to be a good worker or a good trucker The book offers new insight in the field of work and family studies and an extremely relevant voice in the broader contemporary discourse in the United States on the meaning of fatherhood and religion in the 21st century Canadian Saturday Night ,1998 The Better Woman Ber Carroll,2009-04-01 Sarah Ryan grows up in her grandmother s house in a small Irish village Sarah is clever and ambitious and eager to move away from the sleepy village She fully believes that John Delaney the boy next door and her first love will be right by her side until he breaks her heart Jodi Tyler is raised on Sydney s northern beaches amidst a close and loving family But Jodi has a secret a tragic secret which leaves her determined to make a success of her life Like Sarah Jodi s grandmother ends up providing her with a home And when Jodi falls head over heels in love she too ends up with a broken heart This is a story of two remarkable women who face all life s challenges head on and those they love and lose on their journey Set in Ireland Australia London and New York Sarah and Jodi make their way in the world unaware that their lives are running in parallel and it is only when they both want the same thing that their paths will finally cross Food, Medicine, and the Quest for Good Health Nancy N. Chen,2009 What we eat how we eat where we eat and when we eat are deeply embedded cultural practices Eating is also related to how we medicate The multimillion dollar diet industry offers advice on how to eat for a better body and longer life and avoiding harmful foods or choosing healthy ones is considered separate from consuming medicine another multimillion dollar industry In contrast most traditional medical systems view food as inseparable from medicine and regard medicinal foods as the front line of healing Drawing on medical texts and food therapy practices from around the world and throughout history Nancy N Chen locates old and new crossovers between food and medicine in different social and cultural contexts The consumption of spices sugar and salt was once linked to specific healing properties and trade in these commodities transformed not just the political economy of Europe Asia and the New World but local tastes and food practices as well Today s technologies are rapidly changing traditional attitudes toward food enabling the cultivation of new admixtures such as nutraceuticals and genetically modified food that link food to medicine in novel ways Chen considers these developments against the evolving food regimes of the diet industry in order to build a framework for understanding diet as individual practice social prescription and political formation The Ignatious Nathan Gann Family William R. The Role of Nonliving Organic Matter in the Earth's Carbon Cycle Richard G. Zepp, Ch. Sonntag, 1995-07-11 Nonliving organic matter NLOM comprises the bulk of the organic carbon stored in the terrestrial biosphere and a major part of the organic carbon in the sea Organic substances which include litter marine detritus dissolved organic matter and soil organic matter have diverse effects on the Earth's biogeochemical processes and serve as a major reservoir of biospheric carbon which can be transformed to carbon dioxide methane and other greenhouse gases Given this broad spectrum of effects efforts to adapt to or perhaps benefit from global change require a better understanding and an ability to predict the role of NLOM in the global environment The overall objective of this volume is to provide experimental and modeling strategies for the assessment of the sensitivity of the global carbon cycle to changes in nonliving organic pools in terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems The discussions in this volume consider how best to characterize and quantify pools and fluxes of NLOM the role of NLOM cycling on a global scale human and climatic perturbations of interactions between NLOM and nutrients and biological chemical and physical processes that control the production and degradation of NLOM with an emphasis on processes that affect the persistence of NLOM in the environment One of the most unique aspects of this volume is that it represents extensive exchanges between leading international scientists from both aquatic and terrestrial backgrounds It will be of particular interest to organic geochemists microbiologists ecologists soil scientists agricultural scientists marine chemists limnologists and modelers Goal of this Dahlem Workshop to devise experimental and modeling strategies for assessment of the sensitivity of the global carbon cycle to changes in nonliving organic pools

Signs of the Great Refusal Tedd Siegel, 2023 In recent years developed countries have seen the rise of discussions concerning the problem with work today Since this literature tends to reflect the frustrations of the professional managerial class as well as other workers in globalized services industries in the digital age it is often at a significant distance from the concerns of the organized labor movement and the traditional Left Much of this literature presents an unacceptable either or workers are encouraged either to lean in and become better human capital or else to develop forms of palliative care for these same neoliberal selves by means of personal projects of self optimization recovery and wellness In Signs of the Great Refusal Tedd Siegel challenges the assumptions supporting these highly constrained possibilities asking instead what it might take to deprivatize and repoliticize work itself under contemporary conditions in order to make a broad based politics of refusal potentially viable Where postwork antiwork and degrowth discussions taking place today often describe and promote various postwork imaginaries in which the decommodification of labor is only implied Signs of the Great Refusal is concerned specifically with the postwork political imaginary Taking up a question formulated by Peter Fleming Siegel asks Can the impossibility at the heart of contemporary capitalism be politically activated to oppose and escape work as we know it Journal California.
