Re Emergence Of Correctional Intervention:

The Re-Emergence of Correctional Intervention Ted Palmer, 1992-03-30 Ted Palmer gives particular attention to the development of intensive supervision in probation and after care and sets out an agenda for the future. He offers a developmental stages perspective for work with juveniles which should address changes to the offender and or changes to the offenders life circumstances. LCCJ Newsletter Looking back to successful intervention programs of the 1970s programs based on skill development methods control surveillance techniques psychologically oriented programs and combinations of these procedures Ted Palmer strongly supports such correctional intervention programs through an analysis of several recent studies including his own. He evaluates the research to date on rehabilitation and describes the role past present and future of rehabilitation habilitation within the context of other correctional modalities including the justice model philosophy. He also presents an intervention framework and a related theoretical structure that can assist in program development intervention planning for offenders and understanding and evaluating change processes. This timely volume will inspire passionate debate in the coming decade for practitioners academics and students alike in criminology. Palmer a recognized scholar of correctional practice and policy answers critics of treatment and addresses the current emphasis on punishment as the sole disposition of offenders by assembling evidence supporting growth centered habilitation intervention for juveniles and adults. Reviewing the past 15 years of evaluation of correctional intervention he has identified key intervention elements connections and community offender outcomes. The concluding chapter is an extremely valuable investigation into offender intervention programs in which Palmer assesses prospects for change and effectiveness. Excellent bibliography.

Undergraduate graduate faculty professional Choice Integrates several important components of the development correctional treatment policy 1 the political historical development of correctional treatment policy 2 evolution of the debate on treatment effectiveness 3 the methodology of treatment evaluation 4 improved knowledge of recommendations for future programming and evaluation efforts. Since it interweaves numerous areas of expertise such as psychology research and policy analysis it is a unique contribution. It is this multifaceted approach to the topic which is sorely needed. To date I have required readings on theory and policy but I have provided and have required students to do the integrating. Palmer's book will be a valuable addition to this course. Furthermore there is a growing group of planners administrators policy analysts researchers and scholars in the area of correctional treatment who would benefit from and be interested in Palmer's book. Again the integration of theory policy and research offers a crucial resource to such an audience. This is a book that will be heavily cited in the years to come. The analysis is brilliant. Added to the fact that Palmer already has a stellar reputation in this field it is likely to become a benchmark publication.

Smart on Crime Garrick L. Percival,2015-07-28 The most punitive era in American history reached its apex in the 1990s but the trend has reversed in recent years Smart on Crime The Struggle to Build a Better American Penal System examines the factors causing this dramatic turnaround It relates and echoes the increasing need and desire on the part of actors in the American government system to construct a penal system that is more rational and humane Author Garrick L Percival points out that the prison boom did not naturally emerge as a governmental response to increasing crime rates Instead political forces actively built and shaped the growth of a more aggressive and populated penal system He is optimistic that the shifting political forces surrounding crime and punishment can now reform the system explaining how current political actors can craft more constructive and just policies and programs The book shows how rationality and humanitarianism lead to a penal system that imprisons fewer people does less harm to the lives of individual offenders and those close to them and is less expensive to maintain The book presents empirical data to concretely demonstrate what is working and what is not in today's penal system It closely examines policies and practices in Texas Ohio and California as comparative illustrations on what progress has been made or needs to be made in penal systems across the United States The book includes a comprehensive discussion of highlighted issues and relates more than two dozen interviews with pivotal political actors who clarify why there is a major shift underway in the American penal system Their insights reveal paths that can be taken to improve the current penal system

Cognitive-behavioural Social Work in Practice Katy Cigno,Diana Bourn,2017-07-05 Cognitive Behavioural Social Work in Practice appears at an interesting time for social work and social services More than ever practitioners are required to provide evidence for the effectiveness of what they do while the rights of service users to ethically competent practice in which they are partners is high on the agenda Drawing on a wide area of research as well as the practice experience of its 18 contributors it covers a broad range of cognitive behavioural intervention with different client groups in a variety of settings including child care family work probation and offending behaviour mental health disability and issues concerning older people The first chapter sets out lucidly the theoretical and research basis for cognitive behavioural practice and is rich in case examples Each subsequent chapter adopts a case study approach to its subject either by providing a single case study or by the detailed exploration of an area of practice combined with case examples The volume is unique in not only bringing together practitioners and academics but in presenting the work of the academic reflective practitioner It is thus an accessible informative guide for professionals students and educators who with all their working pressures and constraints strive to provide help based on best evidence

Juvenile Justice Barry Krisberg,2005 Juvenile justice policies have historically been built on a foundation of myths and misconceptions Fear of young drug addled superpredators concerns about immigrants and gangs claims of gender biases and race hostilities have influenced the public's views and consequently the evolution of juvenile justice These myths have repeatedly confused the process of rational policy development for the juvenile justice system Juvenile Justice Redeeming Our Children debunks myths about juvenile justice in order to achieve an ideal system that would protect vulnerable children and help build safer communities Author Barry Krisberg assembles broad and up to date research statistical data and theories on the U S juvenile justice system to encourage effective responses to youth crime This text gives a historical context to the ongoing quest for the juvenile justice ideal and examines how the current system of laws policies and practices came into place Juvenile Justice reviews the best research based knowledge on what works and what does not work in the current system The book also examines failed juvenile justice policies and applies high standards of scientific evidence to seek new resolutions This text helps students embrace the value of redemptive justice and serves as a springboard for the current generation to implement sounder social policies. Juvenile Justice is an ideal textbook for undergraduate and graduate students studying juvenile justice in Criminology, Criminal Justice, and Sociology. The book is also an excellent supplemental text for juvenile delinquency courses. About the Author: Barry Krisberg, PhD, has been President of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency (NCCD) since 1983. Dr. Krisberg received both his master's degree in Criminology and his doctorate in Sociology from the University of Pennsylvania. He is currently Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at the University of Hawaii and has held previous faculty positions at the University of California at Berkeley and the University of Minnesota. Dr. Krisberg was appointed by the legislature to serve on the California Blue Ribbon Commission on Inmate Population Management. He has several books and articles to his credit; he is known nationally for his research and expertise on juvenile justice issues and is called upon as a resource for professionals and the media. Offenders, Thomas P. O'Connor, 2013-01-11. Explore the relationship between faith-based programs, religion, and offender rehabilitation. This book reports on current research from several disciplines to help the reader understand the nature and impact of the relationship between faith-based programs, religion, and offender rehabilitation. Religion, the Community, and the Rehabilitation of Criminal Offenders is a unique resource. There has been very little research published on this important topic. President Bush's faith-based initiative recognized that religion plays a role in the justice system and corrections that is overlooked but essential. It increases the role of community and caring in the system in a unique and important way. This pathbreaking book points the way toward a system of faith-based programs that are not only effective but also economical, as these programs are often staffed by volunteers. Religion, the Community, and the Rehabilitation of Criminal Offenders addresses important questions regarding the importance and effectiveness of faith-based rehabilitation programs, including: What is the relationship between prison, religion, and offender rehabilitation? What motivates inmates to become involved with religious programs and activities? What is the prison chaplain's role in rehabilitation? Are certain religious denominations more effective than others in preventing crime, delinquency, and recidivism? How does religious activity help inmates adjust to the prison environment? What do inmates have to say about the religious programs they encounter within the system? How did Islam develop within American correctional institutions, and what changes has the movement gone through in recent years? Why do female African American inmates tend to resist conversion to Islam, while their male counterparts embrace the Muslim faith in increasing numbers? How can sacred texts and social theory be utilized as teaching tools and intervention
