Re Viewing Fascism:

Re-viewing Fascism Jacqueline Reich, Piero Garofalo, 2002-05-07 Very few feature films during the Fascist period can be labelled as propaganda Rather than soldiers schoolgirls dominated the screen the boudoir not the battlefield was the setting of choice

The Aesthetics of Antifascist Film Jennifer Lynde Barker, 2013 Through a series of detailed film case histories ranging from The Great Dictator to Hiroshima mon amour to The Lives of Others The Aesthetics of Antifascist Film Radical Projection explores the genesis and recurrence of antifascist aesthetics as it manifests in the WWII Cold War and Post Wall historical periods Emerging during a critical moment in film history 1930s 1940s Hollywood cinematic antifascism was representative of the international nature of antifascist alliances with the amalgam of film styles generated in migr Hollywood during the WWII period reflecting a dialogue between an urgent political commitment to antifascism and an equally intense commitment to aesthetic complexity Opposed to a fascist aesthetics based on homogeneity purity and spectacle these antifascist films project a radical beauty of distortion heterogeneity fragmentation and loss By juxtaposing documentation and the modernist techniques of surrealism and expressionism the filmmakers were able to manifest a non totalizing work of art that still had political impact Drawing on insights from film and cultural studies aesthetic and ethical philosophy and socio political theory this book argues that the artistic struggles with political commitment and modernist strategies of representation during the 1930s and 40s resulted in a distinctive radical aesthetic form that represents an alternate strand of post modernism

Restorations of Empire in Africa Samuel Agbamu, 2024 The first full length study of how Italian colonialism in Africa used the history of Roman imperialism on the continent to legitimise and promote its own imperial endeavours Agbamu looks at a broad range of cultural documents to examine how the discourse of colonialism as the return of Rome to land rightfully Italian was disseminated

Cinematic Rome Richard Wrigley, 2008 This collection is based on the papers given at a conference at the University of Nottingham in September 2005 The conference was intended to explore Rome as a site for the making of films and also its changing role as a setting for cinematic narrative The resulting collection of essays will contribute to the burgeoning genre of studies on cinema and the city by focusing on one particularly rich case study both for the nature of the films discussed and the complexities of the city and its representation The volume will also reach beyond film studies in so far as the subject draws on and informs other approaches to Rome's cultural history geography art history urban history classics The essays address topics ranging from the interwar period to the present A diverse set of cinematic interactions and interventions are placed within the context of the evolving architectural social and political fabric of Rome in a period of rapid and often traumatic historical change Implicit in the conception of the conference was the idea that cinematic representations of the city inherit and rework established habits of visualisation used to produce images of the Eternal city Three other tropes which constitute key elements in Rome's international reputation can be seen as being embedded in cinematic narratives Firstly the trope of transformation artistic narratives Firstly the trope of transformation artistic psychological spiritual secondly the city's reputation as a cosmopolitan crossroad Thirdly Rome's status as a locus classicus for the juxtaposition of the ancient and the modern which was given a new relevance and complexity in films which sought to focus on aspects of contemporary life be it in the Fascist era or the extreme contrasts of poverty and international bohemianism of the postwar era

Equivocal Subjects Shelleen Greene, 2014-03-27 Analysing the depiction of African Italian mixed race subjects from the historical epics of the Italian silent golden era to the contemporary period Equivocal Subjects engages the history of Italian nationalism and colonialism through theories of subject formation ideologies of race and postcolonial theory Greene's approach also provides a novel interpretation of recent developments surrounding Italy's status as a major passage for immigrants seeking to enter the European Union This book provides an original theoretical approach to the Italian cinema that speaks to the nation's current political and social climate

Mussolini's Dream Factory Stephen Gundle, 2013-12-01 The intersection between film stardom and politics is an understudied phenomenon of Fascist Italy despite the fact that the Mussolini regime deemed stardom important enough to warrant sustained attention and interference Focused on the period from the start of sound cinema to the final end of Fascism in 1945 this book examines the development of an Italian star system and evaluates its place in film production and distribution The performances and careers of several major stars including Isa Miranda Vittorio De Sica Amedeo Nazzari and Alida Valli are closely analyzed in terms of their relationships to the political sphere and broader commercial culture with consideration of their fates in the aftermath of Fascism A final chapter explores the place of the stars in popular memory and representations of the Fascist film world in postwar cinema

Watching Pages, Reading Pictures Daniela De Pau, Georgina Torello, 2008-12-18 Italian cinema is internationally well known for the ground breaking experience of Neo Realism comedy Italian Style Spaghetti Westerns and the horror movies of the seventies However what is rather unfamiliar to wider audiences is Italian cinema's crucial and enduring affair with literature In fact since the very beginning literature has deeply influenced how Italian cinema has defined itself and grown This book provides an empirical approach to this complex and fruitful relationship The aim is to present discussions dealing with significant Italian film adaptations from literary materials which greatly exemplify the variety of styles view points and attitudes produced by such an alliance throughout the different periods Among the adaptations discussed are those that have followed trends and critical debates making them at times rather problematic

Global Neorealism Saverio Giovacchini, Robert Sklar, 2011-10-11 Contributions by Nathaniel Brennan Luca Caminati Silvia Carlorosi Caroline Eades Saverio Giovacchini Paula Halperin Neepa Majumdar Mariano Mestman Hamid Naficy Sada Niang Masha Salazkina Sarah Sarzynski Robert Sklar and Vito Zaggarro Intellectual cultural and film historians have long considered neorealism the founding block of post World War II Italian cinema Neorealism the traditional story goes was an Italian film style born in the second postwar period and aimed at recovering the reality of Italy after the sugarcoated moving images of fascism Lasting from 1945 to the early 1950s neorealism produced world renowned masterpieces such as Roberto Rossellini's Roma città aperta Rome Open City 1945 and Vittorio De Sica's Ladri di biciclette Bicycle Thieves 1947 These films won some of the most prestigious film awards of the immediate postwar period and influenced world cinema This collection brings together distinguished film scholars and cultural historians to complicate this nation based approach to the history of neorealism The traditional story notwithstanding the meaning and the origins of the term are problematic What does neorealism really mean and how Italian is it Italian filmmakers were wary of using the term and Rossellini preferred realism Many filmmakers confessed to having greatly borrowed from other cinemas including French Soviet and American Divided into three sections Global Neorealism examines the history of this film style from the 1930s to the 1970s using a global and international perspective The first section examines the origins of neorealism in the international debate about realist esthetics in the 1930s The second section discusses how this debate about realism was Italianized and coalesced into Italian neorealism and explores how critics and film distributors participated in coining the term Finally the third section looks at neorealism's success outside of Italy and examines how film cultures in Latin America Africa Asia and the United States adjusted the style to their national and regional situations

Italian Neorealist Cinema Torunn Haaland, 2013-12-17 This book traces the roots of neorealist film and draws parallels to neorealist fiction by surveying the major creative contributions to and critical receptions of this trend in Italian postwar cinema form Landscape and Memory in Post-Fascist Italian Film Giuliana Minghelli, 2014-06-11 This study argues that neorealism's visual genius is inseparable from its almost invisible relation to the Fascist past a connection inscribed in cinematic landscapes While largely a silent narrative neorealism's complex visual processing of two decades of Fascism remains the greatest cultural production in the service of memorialization and comprehension for a nation that had neither a Nuremberg nor a formal process of reconciliation Through her readings of canonical neorealist films Minghelli unearths the memorial strata of the neorealist image and investigates the complex historical charge that invests this cinema This book is both a formal analysis of the new conception of the cinematic image born from a crisis of memory and a reflection on the relation between cinema and memory Films discussed include Ossessione 1943 Paisà 1946 Ladri di biciclette 1948 and Cronaca di un amore 1950
