NAEP ... Reading Report Card for the Nation and the States, 1996 Striking a Balance Nancy L. Cecil, 2017-05-12 Striking a Balance explores a comprehensive program of early literacy instruction through a balanced approach to reading and writing for both enjoyment and information. The fifth edition retains the special features that adopters have come to appreciate: classroom vignettes, discussion questions, field-based activities, a student website and study guide. This latest edition offers expanded content on differentiating instruction for diverse learners, including working with English Language Learners and students with special needs. Also new to this edition is greater coverage on integrating state standards with early literacy instruction. The book's practical approach fundamentally demonstrates how children develop authentic literacy skills through a combination of direct strategy instruction and motivating contexts.

NAEP 1994 Reading Report Card for the Nation and the States Jay R. Campbell, 1996 This report describes students' reading achievements at grades 4, 8 and 12 and within various subgroups of the general population. State-level results are presented for individual states that chose to participate in the 1994 Trial State Assessment. Chapter 1 presents an overview of the 1994 NAEP reading assessment and sample questions and responses. Chapter 2 provides overall average proficiency results for the nation, regions, subgroups of students and jurisdictions participating in the Trial State Assessment. Chapter 3 describes students' reading performance in terms of achievement levels. Chapter 4 focuses on cross-state comparisons of proficiency results from the state-by-state assessment at grade 4. Chapter 5 describes contextual factors related to students' reading achievement. Chapter 6 describes specific abilities demonstrated by students in the NAEP reading assessment and reports student performance when reading for different purposes. The most striking finding from the 1994 assessment is that the average reading proficiency of 12th grade students declined.

significantly from 1992 to 1994 Other major findings include 1 the decline in average proficiency among 12th graders between 1992 and 1994 was concentrated among lower performing students 2 reading proficiency at all three grade levels was higher on average for students whose parents had more education 3 at all three grade levels female students had higher average reading proficiencies than male students and 4 students who reported having a greater array of literacy materials in their homes displayed higher average reading achievement Contains 38 tables and 23 figures of data Appendixes provide an overview of procedures used in the 1994 assessment and describe students reading performance cross state proficiency and achievement level results and sample texts and questions RS Reading Instruction That Works Michael

Pressley, Richard L. Allington, 2014-10-07 This book has been replaced by Reading Instruction That Works Fifth Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 5184 2 Handbook of Reading Disability Research Anne McGill-Franzen, Richard Allington, 2010-09-17

Bringing together a wide range of research on reading disabilities this comprehensive Handbook extends current discussion and thinking beyond a narrowly defined psychometric perspective Emphasizing that learning to read proficiently is a long term developmental process involving many interventions of various kinds all keyed to individual developmental needs it addresses traditional questions What is the nature or causes of reading disabilities How are reading disabilities assessed How should reading disabilities be remediated To what extent is remediation possible but from multiple or alternative perspectives Taking incursions into the broader research literature represented by linguistic and anthropological paradigms as well as psychological and educational research the volume is on the front line in exploring the relation of reading disability to learning and language to poverty and prejudice and to instruction and schooling The editors and authors are distinguished scholars with extensive research experience and publication records and numerous honors and awards from professional organizations representing the range of disciplines in the field of reading disabilities Throughout their contributions are contextualized within the framework of educators struggling to develop concrete instructional practices that meet the learning needs of the lowest achieving readers Post Report ,1984 Series of pamphlets on countries of the world revisions issued
