Next steps

Talk and discussion should be opportunities for pupils to develop their literacy skills and to learn to listen and respond to others.	Headlines are already used in the curriculum to develop literacy skills and to learn to listen and respond to others.	Leaders should ensure that all staff are aware of the importance of talk and discussion in the curriculum and that they are encouraged to use it in their lessons.

The Reading Framework: Reading Across the Curriculum

The resources have been created to provide an overview of Section 1 of the Department for Education's (DfE) guidance document 'The Reading Framework'.

School leaders should also engage with the full framework document to ensure that they have a thorough understanding of the expectations and recommendations.

Section 1 of the framework is subdivided into three sub-sections:

- 1. Access to learning across the curriculum
- 2. Talk and discussion across the curriculum
- 3. Learning across the curriculum

The following table provides a summary of the headlines from each sub-section, their implications for members of school leadership teams and recommended next steps for leaders to take.

Access to learning across the curriculum

Headlines: What does the guidance say?
What does this mean for leaders?
Next steps

The whole curriculum should contribute to developing pupils' reading comprehension. Text comprehension requires extensive knowledge gained from a diverse and varied curriculum.	The importance for school systems and organisations to be implemented to ensure all pupils are supported with learning to read. In turn, this will enable them to access the full range of curriculum subjects as confident, skilled readers.	Ensure that all staff feel confident in supporting readers of all levels. Ensure staff continuing professional development (CPD) needs to further equip them to support pupils who are less knowledgeable about supporting early reading development?
Reading successfully in many subjects requires pupils to be able to read both accurately and fluently.
Pupils who cannot read well need urgent support in order to access the full range of curriculum subjects.	It is vital that all teachers have clearly what pupils require additional support. Leaders must ensure that their staff have information on what pupils may need before talk with subject specialists.	Ensure staff CPD needs to ensure all which also support pupils with online resources and tools.
