Research in Education , 1973 Pedagogic Research in Geography Higher Education Martin Haigh, Debby Cotton, Tim Hall, 2017-10-02 There are many books about teaching in Geography but this is the first dealing specifically with Pedagogic Research its methods and practices Pedagogy research concerns the processes of learning and the development of learners It is a learner centred activity that aims to evaluate and improve the ways that students learn and learn to manage control and comprehend their own learning processes first as Geographers in Higher Education but equally as future educated citizens This book collects together some key research papers from the Journal of Geography in Higher Education They concern original research and critical perspectives on how Geographers learn critical evaluations of both new and traditional frameworks and methods used for Pedagogic research in Geography and some case studies on the promotion of self authorship learner autonomy in key Geography Higher Education contexts such as fieldwork and undergraduate project work This book is a compilation of articles from various issues of the Journal of Geography in Higher Education Humanities , 1970 Humanities National Endowment for the Humanities, 1969 Structure and Improvisation in Creative Teaching R. Keith Sawyer, 2011-06-27 With an increasing emphasis on creativity and innovation in the twenty first century teachers need to be creative professionals just as students must learn to be creative And yet schools are institutions with many important structures and guidelines that teachers must follow Effective creative teaching strikes a delicate balance between structure and improvisation The authors draw on studies of jazz theater improvisation and dance improvisation to demonstrate that the most creative performers work within similar structures and guidelines By looking to these creative genres the book provides practical advice for teachers who wish to become more creative professionals Reflecting on Practice for STEM Educators

Lynn Uyen Tran, Catherine Halversen, 2021-05-30 Reflecting on Practice for STEM Educators is a guidebook to lead a professional learning program for educators working in STEM learning environments. Making research on the science of human learning accessible to educational professionals around the world, this book shows educators how to relate this research to their own practice. Educators' collective work broadens the scope of an organization's reach and through this effort the organization grows its social capital in its local community and beyond. This book offers opportunities to engage in processes that lead toward organizational learning by attending to the professional growth of the educators. Tran and Halversen show how learning together can shape the language and meanings by which educators do and talk about their work to support visitors' experiences. The book provides guidance on how teams of educators can build community as they engage in reflective practice. Reflecting on Practice for STEM Educators will be essential reading for leaders of any organization that aims to educate and engage the public in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics. It will be particularly useful to educators who work in museums, zoos, aquariums, botanical gardens, youth organizations, after-school programs, and nature science and conservation centres.

Creativity in the Classroom Alane Jordan Starko, 2013-10-01 Creativity in the Classroom Fifth Edition helps teachers apply up-to-date research on creativity to their everyday classroom practice.
