Manfra,2019-12-20 Action Research for Classrooms Schools and Communities is a core book for action research courses The book also emphasizes using action research to understand community impacts on schools acknowledging the complex ecology linking classrooms schools and the community especially regarding issues fundamental to school reform Love in Action Simon Cuff,2018-02-28 Described as the Catholic church s best kept secret Catholic Social Teaching provides a rich body of thought and finds a particular resonance as all denominations in the church seek to engage with the needs of contemporary society Yet beyond the immediate context of the Catholic church it is all too readily ignored Resolutely aimed at those who come from traditions beyond the movement s traditional catholic heartlands but who seek to view their ministry through the lens of generous orthodoxy Love in Action offers a deeply scriptural but accessible introduction to this vital approach to the church s ministry in the world Facilitating Reflective Learning In Higher Education Brockbank, Anne,McGill, Ian,2007-05-01 This revised edition includes the most current thinking on reflective learning as well as stories from academics and students that bring to life the practical impact of reflection in action Based on sound theoretical concepts the authors offer a range of solutions for different teaching situations taking into account factors such as group size physical space and technology They also offer facilitation rather than traditional teaching methods as a productive and useful skill that helps teachers and encourages students to interact and develop reflexive skills that can be used beyond their student years Action Research and Reflective Practice Paul McIntosh,2010-01-21 The use of reflection as a tool to support and develop practice is becoming increasingly recognised across education healthcare and the social sciences Reflection is assumed to create depth of knowledge and meaning both for self and those practised upon Running alongside the use of reflection is the prevalent use of action research which some see as a way of approaching the study of human beings from a philosophical perspective in which sharing takes place within mutually supportive environments As a result many academics and practitioners suggest that one cannot improve the methodology of action research without considering philosophical reflection In Action Research and Reflective Practice the author argues that reflective practice and action research can become mechanistic in their use unless fresh creative approaches are employed Exploring the tension between the use of evidence based practice based upon solid objective research and reflection with its subjectivity and personal perception this book argues that reflection is research The author increases the use and effectiveness of both action research and reflection through the application of new creative and visual approaches Action Research and Reflective Practice demonstrates that creative approaches can be utilised effectively in critically reflexive ways creating a new style of action research that is both innovative and theoretically robust The resultant approach will improve evidence based research in education healthcare and other social sciences to enhance perception and understanding of events identity and self This book will be highly beneficial to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as educational and social researchers across a broad range of subjects within the social sciences Organizing Reflection Michael Reynolds,2017-03-02 Through a series of leading edge contributions from pre eminent international scholars in the field Organizing Reflection makes a stimulating and distinctive contribution to the study of reflection By doing so it offers the first shift from the individual reflective practitioner to processes of collective and public reflection The unique and varied contributions focus on the development of notions such as public reflection collective reflection and critical reflection In doing so they provide critical insights into new thinking and approaches to the role of reflection in organizations as well as the conceptualization and delivery of learning and change Organizing Reflection will be of interest to scholars working in business professional management and organization studies to human development academics and to scholarly practitioners in organizations investment Hopeful Realism in Urban Ministry Barry K. Morris, 2016-05-20 What pray tell does a faithful urban ministry require if not a triadic relationship of prayer justice and hope Could such a theologically conjunctive relationship of prayer justice and hope fortify urban ministry and challenge students and practitioners to ponder and practice beyond the box Frequently justice is collapsed to charity hope into wishful thinking or temporarily arrested despair and prayer a grasp at quick fix interventions An urban ministry's steadfast public and prophetic witness longs for the depth and width of this triad Via three countries decades of endeavors one chapter brainstorms urban ministry practices while another's literature survey signals crucial convictions Amid many seminal theologians are summoned to ground urban ministry intimations and implications Niebuhr on justice Moltmann on hope and Merton on contemplative prayer Evident is passion that fuels compassion in the service of justice hope that engages despair and prayer that draws from the contemplative center of it all thankful resources for long haul ministry The triad presses to illumine a concrete ministry's engagement of relentless forced option issues yet with significant networks resourcing Contrast awareness animates endurance The summary exegetes the original grace based serenity prayer Hence hope vitally balances realism's temptation to cynicism Realism saves hope from irrelevancy Reflection and Action Nathan Rotenstreich, 1985 Revolutions in Development Inquiry Robert Chambers, 2012-05-04 Robert Chambers returns with a new book that reviews together for the first time some of the revolutionary changes in the methodologies and methods of development inquiry that have occurred in the past forty years and reflects on their transformative potential for the future This book breaks new ground by describing and analysing the evolution of a sequence of approaches Starting with the dinosaurs of large scale multi subject questionnaire surveys and the biased visits and perceptions of rural development tourism and urban based professionals there follows a look at the explosive proliferation of methodologies and methods of recent years These include rapid rural appraisal RRA participatory rural appraisal PRA and dramatic developments in the still largely unrecognized fields of participatory numbers and statistics and of participatory mapping and GIS Chambers shows how these can empower local people and provide rigorous and valid substitutes for some more traditional methods of inquiry Also presented is a repertoire for offsetting the biases of the urban trap which has become so serious for officials and aid agency staff Importantly Chambers points out that we are now in a different space methodologically from a few years ago He makes the case that participatory methodologies evolved through creative and eclectic pluralism can be a transformative wave for the future as drivers of personal professional and institutional change This book is for all who are concerned with development regardless of profession discipline or organization who seek to be abreast of the revolutionary breakthroughs in approaches and methods of inquiry of recent years and what Chambers calls their unlimited potentials Published with IDS Breaking into the Curriculum John F. Schostak, 2020-03-13 Information technology is here to stay Its impact has already been far reaching in business in communications and in leisure activities it has been responsible for replacing human action by that of machines As such it raised questions about freedom and the meaning of work and human activity which could no longer be ignored by those working in education The educational response to information technology must ensure that human activities are enhanced rather than enslaved by computers Originally published in 1988 Breaking into the Curriculum provides one such response A range of curricular structures and teacher roles are examined for their potential for preserving freedom in a future that was already being formed and informed by electronic systems Drawing on case studies of pupils and teachers from throughout their school career the authors of this collection sought to provoke discussion on the true ends of education and the kinds of strategies that would best realise those ends Information technology it is argued is already shaping our thinking concerning the schooling of children As such it can either create an electronically controlled environment or it can provide the stimulus for imaginative playful and creative thought and the development of intelligence in its broadest sense The choice is ours the authors of this collection seek to inform that choice Today it can be read in its historical context

Tuning the Rig Fred Herron, 2012-07-10 To tune the rig describes adjusting a ship s rigging the rig of a well tuned boat allows the sails to function well This task must be performed to ensure the best performance by the ship Tuning the Rig takes that metaphor as a guide for Catholic educators and administrators as well as for the larger church It argues from a variety of perspectives rooted in the Catholic imagination that the rig constantly needs to be re tuned to balance between visions of the church as teacher and learner Why should this matter to Catholic educators To Herron our understanding of the church as learner is at the heart of our understanding of ourselves as disciples One of the logical consequences of this era of baptismal consciousness is a rising awareness on the part of the laity that their task is not simply to pay pray and obey but to grow and journey in faith Herron s focus ranges from issues closely pertaining to Catholic schools to the larger questions of the Catholic imagination The underlying thread however is the challenge of maintaining the richness of the Catholic imagination of tuning the rig in changing times and the ordinary life of the church Postmodern Humanism in Contemporary Literature and Culture T. Davis,K.

Womack,2016-01-23 Davis and Womack investigate the emerging gaps between literary scholarship and the reading experience The idea of reconciling the void the locus of our sociocultural disillusionment and despair in an uncertain world concerns explicit artistic attempts to represent the ways in which human beings seek out meaning hope and community
