H. Rider Haggard - Ultimate Collection: 60+ Works in One Volume Henry Rider Haggard,2023-12-30 H Rider Haggard Ultimate Collection 60 Works in One Volume presents a comprehensive anthology of Haggard s prolific contributions to the adventure and fantasy genres encapsulating his signature blend of exotic settings colonial themes and larger than life characters Spanning novels short stories and essays this collection showcases Haggard s vivid prose style rich imagery and imaginative narratives that often reflect Victorian sensibilities and the era s fascination with exploration and empire Readers will encounter legendary works such as King Solomon s Mines and She which not only entertain but also serve as a lens through which to examine colonial ideology and the interplay of civilization and savagery Haggard an English writer born in 1856 embarked on a path influenced by his early experiences in South Africa where he worked as a farmer and a land surveyor These experiences ignited his passion for storytelling infusing his writings with authentic depictions of African landscapes and cultures His unique perspective as an outsider contributing to the prevailing discourse of his time adds depth to his exploration of themes like adventure mystery and the supernatural making his work resonate with readers then and now For readers seeking to delve into the adventurous realms of imagination and historical narrative this ultimate collection is an essential addition to any literary library Haggard s captivating storytelling and engaging prose invite exploration making this compendium a treasure trove for both scholars and casual readers alike Experience the wonder of Haggard s world where adventure beckons at every turn

Cybernetics and the Constructed Environment Zihao Zhang, 2024-07-24 Grounded in contemporary landscape architecture theory and practice Cybernetics and the Constructed Environment blends examples from art design and engineering with concepts from cybernetics and posthumanism offering a transdisciplinary examination of the ramifications of cybernetics on the constructed environment Cybernetics or the study of communication and control in animals and machines has grown increasingly relevant nearly 80 years after its inception Cyber physical systems sensing networks and spatial computing algorithms and intelligent machines create endless feedback loops with human and non human actors co producing a cybernetic environment Yet when an ecosystem is meticulously managed by intelligent machines can we still call it wild nature Posthumanism ideas such as new materialism actor network theory and object oriented ontology have become increasingly popular among design disciplines including landscape architecture and may have provided transformative frameworks to understand this entangled reality However design still entails a sense of intentionality and an urge to control How do we then address the tension between the designer s intentionality and the co produced reality of more than human agents in the cybernetic environment Is posthumanism enough to develop a framework to think beyond our all too human ways of thinking For researchers scholars practitioners and students in environmental design and engineering disciplines this book maps out a paradigm of environmentalism and ecological design rooted in non communication and uncontrollability and puts a speculative turn on cybernetics Chapters 8 and 9 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Environment and Behavior Studies Irwin Altman, Kathleen Christensen, 2012-12-06 This eleventh volume in the series departs from the pattern of earlier volumes Some of those volumes addressed research design and policy topics in terms of environmental settings for example homes communities neighborhoods and public places Others focused on environmental users for example children and the elderly The present volume examines the field of environment and behavior studies itself in the form of intellectual histories of some of its most productive and still visible senior participants In so doing we hope to provide readers with a grand sweep of the field its research and design content methodology institutions and past and future trajectories through the experiences and intellectual histories of its participants Why intellectual histories Several factors led to the decision to launch this project For one 1989 was an anniversary and commemorative year for the Environmental Design Research Association perhaps the major and most long standing interdisciplinary organization of environment and behavior researchers and practitioners Established in 1969 this organization has been the vehicle for generations of researchers and practitioners from many disciplines to come together annually to exchange ideas present papers and develop professional and personal relationships It held its first and twentieth meetings in North Carolina with the twentieth conference substantially devoted to discussions of the past present and future of the field a taking stock so to speak Thus it seemed appropriate to launch a volume on intellectual histories at this significant juncture in the life of the field
