Barnes,2018-12-14 The Dark Eclipse is a book of personal essays in which author A W Barnes seeks to come to terms with the suicide of his older brother Mike Using source documentation police report autopsy suicide note and death certificate the essays explore Barnes relationship with Mike and their status as gay brothers raised in a large conservative family in the Midwest In addition the narrative traces the brothers difficult relationship with their father a man who once studied to be a Trappist monk before marrying and fathering eight children Because of their shared sexual orientation Andrew hoped he and Mike would be close but their relationship was as fraught as the author s relationship with his other brothers and father While the rest of the family seems to have forgotten about Mike who died in 1993 Barnes has not been able to let him go This book is his attempt to do so Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Reflections on Suicide Madame de Staël (Anne-Louise-Germaine),1850 In Pursuit of Unhappiness Ramin Jahanbegloo,2021 Suicide Thoughts and Reflections, 1960-1980 Edwin S. Shneidman,1981 Varieties of Ethical Reflection Michael Barnhart,2002-01-01 Varieties of Ethical Reflection brings together new cultural and religious perspectives drawn from non Western primarily Asian philosophical sources to globalize the contemporary discussion of theoretical and applied ethics The work pushes ethics beyond a Western philosophical tradition tending toward universalism to infuse and broaden modern ethical theory with relativistic Asian ethical principles The contributors introduce multicultural concepts and ideas from the Chinese Taoist Confucian and Neo Confucian Indian and East Asian Buddhist and Hindu traditions focusing on such areas of moral controversy as the clash between women s rights and culture universal human rights abortion and euthanasia in a non Western setting and the standardization of medical practice across cultures Reflections on Suicide Perry H. Biddle,1996-11 This booklet will make a positive contribution to the ongoing debate about euthanasia and physician assisted suicide Reflections of a Police Psychologist Jack Digliani, 2010-06-18 Reflections of a Police Psychologist is an account of the experiences, thoughts, and observations of a seasoned police veteran. It is written for police officers and those who would like a glimpse into the world of policing from the perspective of a former police officer and current police psychologist. Dr. Digliani discusses the major challenges facing those first entering police work. He addresses police field training and identifies the ten police field training pitfalls. The PATROL program developed to assist new officers is outlined. It involves an orientation and phase meetings between new officers and the staff psychologist to support them throughout field training. Dr. Digliani discusses how stress management becomes life management within the concepts of life by design and life by default. Inside the parameters of life management, a list of Some Things to Remember functions as an instrument for transactional change. The issues related to traumatic stress and exposure are discussed. The insights presented originate out of years of treating officers exposed to traumatic events. The role of police peer support teams is examined. Models for a peer support team policy and operational guidelines are presented. There is also information relating to the confidentiality of peer support interactions, a topic of current controversy. Traumatic incident debriefings and their applications in policing are elucidated along with phase and freeze frame models of debriefing. Included is a discussion of the current efficacy research pertinent to traumatic incident debriefings. Police family issues and the Foundation Building Blocks of Functional Relationships are outlined. Various family patterns of interaction are identified, including information for families of traumatized officers. There is a discussion of coping with death and loss, a critical area for police officers. An exposition of mental illness and interacting with the mentally ill from a police perspective is presented. Toward the end of the book, the retirement transition is discussed. In retirement or separation from service, officers return to the civilian world. Some experience difficulty with this transition. Issues to consider before retirement are presented. The final chapter includes the general reflections and policing history of Dr. Digliani. These reflections include the insights that come only with years of policing experience in several police assignments, including that of staff psychologist. This is an excellent book for anyone interested in law enforcement, policing, and police psychology.

Foundational Reflections H.A. Durfee, 2012-12-06 The American University Publications. In From its inception, Philosophy has continued the direction stated in the sub title of the initial volume: that of probing new directions in philosophy. As the series has developed, these probings of new directions have taken the two-fold direction of exploring the relationships between the disparate traditions of twentieth-century philosophy and with developing new insights into the foundations of some enduring philosophic problems. This present volume continues both of these directions. The interaction between twentieth-century Anglo-Saxon and Continental philosophy, which was an implicit theme of our first and third volumes, and the explicit subject of our second volume is here continued in a series of studies on major figures and topics in each tradition. In the context of these interpretative studies, Professor Durfee returns again and again to the question of the relationships between the will and the reason and explores the conflicting goals of creativity and objectivity in formulating a philosophic position In so doing he raises the issue as his title suggests of the foundations of philosophy itself He seriously challenges the belief common to both phenomenology and analytic philosophy that philosophizing can be a presuppositionless activity objectively pursued independent of the personal and perhaps arbitrary commitments of the philosopher This issue critical as it is to all forms of philosophy is surely a worthy one for a series such as ours
