Reflections The Life And Writings Of A Young Blind Woman In Post Revolutionary France:

Reflections Therese-Adèle Husson, 2002-02-01 In the 1820s several years before Braille was invented Therese Adele Husson a young blind woman from provincial France wrote an audacious manifesto about her life French society and her hopes for the future Through extensive research and scholarly detective work authors Catherine Kudlick and Zina Weygand have rescued this intriguing woman and the remarkable story of her life and tragic death from obscurity giving readers a rare look into a world recorded by an unlikely historical figure Reflections is one of the earliest recorded manifestations of group solidarity among people with the same disability advocating self sufficiency and independence on the part of blind people encouraging education for all blind children and exploring gender roles for both men and women Resolutely defying the sense of otherness which pervades discourse about the disabled Husson instead convinces us that that blindness offers a fresh and important perspective on both history and ourselves In rescuing this important historical account and recreating the life of an obscure but potent figure Weygand and Kudlick have awakened a perspective that transcends time and which ultimately remaps our inherent ideas of physical sensibility

A Social History of France 1780-1914 Peter McPhee, 2017-03-03 This volume provides a lively and authoritative synthesis of recent work on the social history of France and is now thoroughly updated to cover the long nineteenth century from 1789 1914 Peter McPhee offers both a readable narrative and a distinctive coherent argument about this remarkable century and explores key themes such as Peasant interaction with the environment The changing experience of work and leisure The nature of crime and protest Changing demographic patterns and family structures The religious practices of workers and peasants The ideology and internal repercussions of colonisation At the core of this social history is the exercise and experience of social relations of power not only because in these years there were four periods of protracted upheaval but also because the history of the workplace of relations between women and men adults and children is all about human interaction Stimulating and enjoyable to read this indispensable introduction to nineteenth century France will help readers to make sense of the often bewildering story of these years while giving them a better understanding of what it meant to be an inhabitant of France during that turbulent time Women on Their Own Rudolph Bell, Virginia Yans, 2010 Despite what would seem some apparent likenesses single men and single women are perceived in very different ways Bachelors are rarely considered lonely or aberrant They are not pitied Rather they are seen as having chosen to be footloose and fancy free to have sports cars boats and enjoy a series of unrestrictive relationships Single women however do not enjoy such an esteemed reputation Instead they have been viewed as abnormal neurotic or simply undesirable attitudes that result in part from the long standing belief that single women would not have chosen her life Even the single career woman is seldom viewed as enjoying the success she has achieved No one believes she is truly fulfilled Modern American culture has raised generations of women who believed that their true and most important role in society was to get married and have children Anything short of this role was considered abnormal unfulfilling and suspect This female stereotype has been exploited and perpetuated by some key films in the late 40 s and early 50 s But more recently we have seen a shift in the cultural view of the spinster The erosion of the traditional nuclear family as well as a larger range of acceptable life choices has caused our perceptions of unmarried women to change The film industry has reflected this shift with updated stereotypes that depict this cultural trend The shift in the way we perceive spinsters is the subject of current academic research which shows that a person s perception of particular societal roles influences the amount of stress or depression they experience when in that specific role Further although the way our culture perceives spinsters and the way the film industry portrays them may be evolving we still are still left with a negative stereotype Themes of choice and power have informed the lives of single women in all times and places When considered at all in a scholarly context single women have often been portrayed as victims unhappily subjected to forces beyond their control This collection of essays about women on their own attempts to correct that bias by presenting a more complex view of single women in nineteenth and twentieth century United States and Europe Topics covered in this book include the complex and ambiguous roles that society assigns to widows and the greater social and financial independence that widows have often enjoyed widow culture after major wars the plight of homeless middle class single women during the Great Depression and comparative sociological studies of contemporary single women in the United States Britain Ireland and Cuba Composed of papers presented to the Rutgers Center for Historical Analysis project on single women this collection incorporates the work of specialists in anthropology art history history and sociology It is deeply connected with the emerging field of singleness studies to which the RCHA has contributed an Internet based bibliography of more than 800 items All of the essays are new and have not been previously published Colonising Disability Esme Cleall, 2022-08-04 Colonising Disability explores the construction and treatment of disability across Britain and its empire from the nineteenth to the early twentieth century

Drawing on a wide range of sources Esme Cleall explores how disability increasingly became associated with difference and argues that it did so through intersecting with other categories of otherness such as race Philanthropic legal literary religious medical educational eugenistic and parliamentary texts are examined to unpick representations of disability that overtime became pervasive with significant ramifications for disabled people Cleall also uses multiple examples to show how disabled people navigated a wide range of experiences from freak shows in Britain to missions in India to immigration systems in Australia including exploring how they mobilised to resist discrimination and constitute their own identities By assessing the intersection between disability and race Dr Cleall opens up questions about normalcy and the making of the imperial self

Molyneux's Question and the History of Philosophy Gabriele Ferretti, Brian Glenney, 2020-09-15 In 1688 the Irish scientist and politician William Molyneux sent a letter to the philosopher John Locke In it he asked him a question could someone who was born blind and able to distinguish a globe and a cube by touch be able to immediately distinguish and name these shapes by sight if given the ability to see The philosophical puzzle offered in Molyneux's letter fascinated not only Locke but major thinkers such as Leibniz Berkeley Diderot Reid and numerous others including psychologists and cognitive scientists today Does such a question represent a philosophical puzzle or a problem that can be solved by experimental tests Can vision be fully restored after blindness What is the relation between vision and touch Are the senses linked through learning or bound at birth Molyneux's Question and the History of Philosophy is a major collection of essays that explore the long standing issues Molyneux's problem presents to philosophy of mind perception and the senses In addition the volume considers the question from an interdisciplinary angle examines the pre history of the question and aspects of it that have been ignored such as perspectives from religion and disability As such Molyneux's Question and the History of Philosophy presents a set of philosophically rich empirically informed and scientifically rigorous original investigations into this famous puzzle It will be of great interest to students and researchers in philosophy psychology and the cognitive sciences including neuroscience neurobiology and ophthalmology as well as those studying the mind perception and the senses

Perspectives on Contemporary Music Theory Bryan Parkhurst, Jeffrey Swinkin, 2023-07-31 Kevin Korsyn is a renowned music theorist musicologist and pedagogue who has taught at the University of Michigan since 1992 He has published widely and influentially in areas as diverse as Beethoven and Brahms studies chromatic tonality disciplinarity and metatheory history of theory musical meaning and hermeneutics poststructuralism deconstruction intertextuality etc and Schenkerian theory and analysis Because of the scope and caliber of his published work and also his legacy as a pedagogue Korsyn has had a profound impact on the field of music theory along with the related fields of historical musicology and aesthetics This book a festschrift for Korsyn comprises essays that constellate around his numerous scholarly foci Represented in the volume are not only familiar music theoretical topics such as chromaticism form Schenker and text music relations but also various interdisciplinary topics such as deconstruction disability studies German Idealism posthumanism and psychoanalysis The book thus reflects the increasingly multifaceted intellectual landscape of contemporary music theory The Oxford Handbook of Disability History Michael Rembis, Catherine J. Kudlick, Kim Nielsen, 2018-06-19 Disability history exists outside of the institutions healers and treatments it often brings to mind It is a history where disabled people live not just as patients or cure seekers but rather as people living differently in the world and it is also a history that helps define the fundamental concepts of identity community citizenship and normality The Oxford Handbook of Disability History is the first volume of its kind to represent this history and its global scale from ancient Greece to British West Africa The twenty seven articles written by thirty experts from across the field capture the diversity and liveliness of this emerging scholarship Whether discussing disability in modern Chinese cinema or on the American antebellum stage this collection provides new and valuable insights into the rich and varied lives of disabled people across time and place More Than Meets the Eye Georgina Kleege, 2018 More Than Meets the Eye seeks to dismantle traditional understandings of blindness through scrutiny of philosophical speculation scientific case studies literary depictions and museum access programs for the blind It introduces blind and visually impaired artists whose work has shattered stereotypes and opened up new aesthetic possibilities for everyone Civil Disabilities Nancy J. Hirschmann, Beth Linker, 2015-02-25 An estimated one billion people around the globe live with a disability this number grows exponentially when family members friends and care providers are included Various countries and international organizations have attempted to guard against discrimination and secure basic human rights for those whose lives are affected by disability Yet despite such attempts many disabled persons in the United States and throughout the world still face exclusion from full citizenship and membership in their respective societies They are regularly denied employment housing health care access to buildings and the right to move freely in public spaces At base such discrimination reflects a tacit yet pervasive assumption that disabled persons do not belong in society Civil Disabilities challenges such norms and practices urging a reconceptualization of disability and citizenship to secure a rightful place for disabled persons in society Essays from leading scholars in a diversity of fields offer critical perspectives on current citizenship studies which still largely assume an ableist world Placing historians in conversation with anthropologists sociologists with literary critics and musicologists with political scientists this interdisciplinary volume presents a compelling case for reimagining citizenship that is more consistent inclusive and just in both theory and practice By placing disability front and center in academic and civic discourse Civil Disabilities tests the very notion of citizenship and transforms our understanding of disability and belonging Contributors Emily Abel Douglas C Baynton Susan Burch Allison C Carey Faye Ginsburg Nancy J Hirschmann Hannah Joyner Catherine Kudlick Beth Linker Alex Lubet Rayna Rapp Susan Schweik Tobin Siebers Lorella Terzi The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work. Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region, no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history. The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe. Historians have investigated women's daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region. They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes. The Encyclopedia contains over 1,250 signed articles arranged in an A-Z format for ease of use. The entries cover six main areas: biographies, geography, and history; comparative culture and society; including adoption, abortion, performing arts, organizations, and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune; women's and gender studies; and topics in world history that include slave trade, globalization, and disease. With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts, this reference work is sure to be a valued go-to resource for scholars, college and high school students, and general readers alike.

Life Unseen Selina Mills, 2023-06-15. Imagine a world without sight. Is it dark and gloomy? Is it terrifying and isolating? Or is it simply a state of not seeing which we have demonised and sentimentalized over the centuries? And why is blindness so frightening? In this fascinating historical adventure, broadcaster and author Selina Mills takes us on a journey through the history of blindness in Western Culture to discover that blindness is not so dark after all. Inspired by her own experience of losing her sight as she forged a successful journalistic career, Life Unseen takes us through a personal and unsentimental historical quest through the lives, stories, and achievements of blind people as well as those sighted people who sought to patronize, demonize, and fix them. From the blind poet Homer through the myths and moralising of early medieval culture to the scientific and medical discoveries of the Enlightenment and modern times, the story of blindness turns out to be a story of our whole culture.

Gendering Disability Bonnie G. Smith, Beth Hutchison, 2004. Disability and gender are becoming increasingly complex in light of recent politics and scholarship. This volume provides findings not only about the discrimination practised against women and people with disabilities but also about the productive parallelism between the two categories.

Disability and/in Prose Brenda Jo Brueggemann, Marian E. Lupo, 2013-09-13. Through a series of critical essays, this book concerns the relationships and possibilities in and between prose and disability. It covers a diverse range from the role of the disability memoir to the effect of disablement on soldiers' phantom limb syndrome and the suspicion of faking it that sometimes surrounds

Radio and the Politics of Sound in Interwar France, 1921-1939 Rebecca P. Scales, 2016-02-24. In December 1921, France broadcast its first public radio program from a transmitter on the Eiffel Tower. In the decade that followed, radio evolved into a mass media capable of reaching millions Crowds flocked to loudspeakers on city streets to listen to propaganda children clustered around classroom radios and families tuned in from their living rooms Radio and the Politics of Sound in Interwar France 1921 1939 examines the impact of this auditory culture on French society and politics revealing how broadcasting became a new platform for political engagement transforming the act of listening into an important if highly contested practice of citizenship Rejecting models of broadcasting as the weapon of totalitarian regimes or a tool for forging democracy from above the book offers a more nuanced picture of the politics of radio by uncovering competing interpretations of listening and diverse uses of broadcast sound that flourished between the world wars

The Disability Studies Reader

Lennard J. Davis, 2016-10-19 The fifth edition of The Disability Studies Reader addresses the post identity theoretical landscape by emphasizing questions of interdependency and independence the human animal relationship and issues around the construction or materiality of gender the body and sexuality Selections explore the underlying biases of medical and scientific experiments and explode the binary of the sound and the diseased mind The collection addresses physical disabilities but as always investigates issues around pain mental disability and invisible disabilities as well Featuring a new generation of scholars who are dealing with the most current issues the fifth edition continues the Reader's tradition of remaining timely urgent and critical

Seeing with the Hands Mark Paterson, 2017-12-11 This book seeks to answer why there has been a persistent fascination by the sighted including philosophers poets and the public in what the blind see

The Senses and the History of Philosophy Brian Glenney, José Silva, 2019-02-21 The study of perception and the role of the senses have recently risen to prominence in philosophy and are now a major area of study and research However the philosophical history of the senses remains a relatively neglected subject Moving beyond the current philosophical canon this outstanding collection offers a wide ranging and diverse philosophical exploration of the senses from the classical period to the present day Written by a team of international contributors it is divided into six parts Perception from Non Western Perspectives Perception in the Ancient Period Perception in the Medieval Latin Arabic Period Perception in the Early Modern Period Perception in the Post Kantian Period Perception in the Contemporary Period The volume challenges conventional philosophical study of perception by covering a wide range of significant as well as hitherto overlooked topics such as perceptual judgment temporal and motion illusions mirror and picture perception animal senses and cross modal integration By investigating the history of the senses in thinkers such as Plotinus Auriol Berkeley and Cavendish and considering the history of the senses in diverse philosophical traditions including Chinese Indian Byzantine Greek and Latin it brings a fresh approach to studying the history of philosophy itself Including a thorough introduction as well as introductions to each section by the editors The Senses and the History of Philosophy is essential reading for students and researchers in the history of philosophy perception philosophy of mind philosophical psychology aesthetics and eastern and non western philosophy It will also be extremely useful for those in related disciplines such as psychology religion sociology intellectual
