Reforming Agricultural Commodity Policy Brian Wright, Bruce L. Gardner, 1995 This two part study investigates potential reforms of commodity programs in the context of the legislative debate on the 1995 farm bill Brian D Wright considers a farm bill written on a clean slate unconstrained by previous policy Such legislation would depart radically from the current policy structure Bruce L Gardner analyzes a set of options that make a noticeable difference for the main commodities yet are reachable from current policy and have visible political support If followed Gardner s proposals would move agriculture along the path laid out by Wright Agricultural Policy Monitoring and Evaluation 2022 Reforming Agricultural Policies for

2015 -16 The State of Agricultural Commodity Markets Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-04-18 Global trade in agricultural and food products has grown rapidly in recent decades with countries becoming more engaged in this trade whether as exporters or importers This trend is expected to continue over the coming decades As a consequence trade will play an increasingly important role in influencing the extent and nature of food security across all regions of the globe The challenge has therefore become one of ensuring that the expansion of agricultural trade works for and not against the elimination of hunger food insecurity and malnutrition This edition of The State of Agricultural Commodity Markets aims to reduce the current polarization of views on the impacts of agricultural trade on food security and on the manner in which agricultural trade should be governed to ensure that increased trade openness is beneficial to all countries By providing evidence and clarity on a range of topics the report seeks to contribute to a more informed debate on policy choices and to identify required improvements in the policy processes within which these choices are made
