Maritime Security and the Law of the Sea Natalie Klein, 2012-10-04 Maritime Security and the Law of the Sea examines the rights and duties of states across a broad spectrum of maritime security threats It provides comprehensive coverage of the different dimensions of maritime security in order to assess how responses to maritime security concerns are and should be shaping the law of the sea The discussion sets out the rules regulating passage of military vessels and military activities at sea law enforcement activities across the different maritime zones information sharing and intelligence gathering as well as armed conflict and naval warfare In doing so this book not only addresses traditional security concerns for naval power but also examines responses to contemporary maritime security threats such as terrorism weapons of mass destruction piracy drug trafficking environmental damage and illegal fishing While the protection of sovereignty and national interests remain fundamental to maritime security and the law of the sea there is increasing acceptance of a common interest that exists among states when seeking to respond to a variety of modern maritime security threats This book argues that security interests should be given greater scope in our understanding of the law of the sea in light of the changing dynamics of exclusive and inclusive claims to ocean use More flexibility may be required in the interpretation and application of the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea if appropriate responses to ensure maritime security are to be allowed

Japanese Maritime Security and Law of the Sea Yurika Ishii, 2021-12-20 Japan the geopolitical lynchpin in the East Asian region has developed a unique maritime security policy and interpretation of the law of the sea Japanese Maritime Security and the Law of the Sea is the first title to provide a comprehensive and detailed analysis on these themes in English examines Japan s domestic laws and its approach to international law The topics covered include Japan s claim over its maritime entitlement policies on the use of force at sea and the mandates of the Self Defense Force and the Japan Coast Guard to use coercive measures in maritime zones and airspace both in peacetime and in times of emergency

Non-Traditional Security Issues and the South China Sea Shicun Wu, Keyuan Zou, 2016-05-23 While there is abundant literature discussing non traditional security issues there is little mention of such issues existing in the South China Sea This area is vulnerable to natural hazards and marine environmental degradation The marine ecosystem is threatened by various adverse sources including land based pollution busy shipping lanes and over exploitation activities which threaten the security of the surrounding population This area is also threatened by piracy and maritime crimes but law enforcement becomes difficult due to unclear maritime boundaries This volume is designed to explore the security cooperation and regional approaches to these non traditional security issues in the hope to build a peaceful environment and maintain international and regional security and order in the South China Sea region

Security Challenges In Contemporary Indo-pacific Zhiquan Zhu, 2025-04-02 The Indo Pacific is arguably the most important and most dynamic region in the world today with numerous opportunities and challenges This book covers major security challenges in the Indo Pacific region Both traditional security challenges such as border and maritime disputes arms races weapons of mass destruction and sovereignty and non traditional security challenges such as demography public health climate change and the environment are addressed Contributors who hail from Australia China India Japan the Philippines Singapore Taiwan the United States Vietnam and elsewhere carefully examine key security challenges facing some individual countries or the region as a whole and discuss policy implications moving forward

Advances in Marine Environmental Protection: Challenges, Solutions and Perspectives Mehran Idris Khan, Yen-Chiang Chang, Wen-Hong Liu, 2025-04-29 Environments have no boundaries and no borders Managing oceanic environments particularly the threats and risks of pollution should also consider the shared responsibility of all coastal states Emerging issues for oceanic pollution governance include global changes like rising temperature ocean acidification but also disturbances of ecosystem functioning by plastic and pollution by other emerging contaminants for example noise pollution and deep sea mining These call for efficient and sustainable prevention and restoration strategies such as such as efficient urban and industrial sewage treatment plants efficiently administered transnational marine protected areas and among others sustainable aquaculture extensive small scale fisheries Environmental protection warrants the development of interrelationships between marine sciences relevant industries and ocean governance developing internationally accepted rules and regulations for sustainable ocean management This Research Topic will explore possible new domains of ocean governance and the marine environment from the interdisciplinary perspectives of the rule of law including the international agreement on equal conventions the Convention on Facilitation of International Maritime Traffic the Convention on the International Regulation for Preventing Collisions at Sea and International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships MARPOL

The Interception of Vessels on the High Seas Efthymios Papastavridis, 2014-08-28 The principal aim of this book is to address the international legal questions arising from the right of visit on the high seas in the twenty first century This right is considered the most significant exception to the fundamental principle of the freedom of the high seas the freedom in peacetime to remain free of interference by ships of another flag It is this freedom that has been challenged by a recent significant increase in interceptions to counter the threats of international terrorism and WMD proliferation or to suppress transnational organised crime at sea particularly the trafficking of narcotics and smuggling of migrants The author questions whether the principle of non interference has been so significantly curtailed as to have lost its relevance in the contemporary legal order of the oceans The book begins with an historical and theoretical examination of the framework underlying interception This historical survey informs the remainder of the work which then looks at the legal framework of the right of visit contemporary challenges to the traditional right interference on the high seas for the maintenance of international peace and security interferences to maintain the bon usage of the oceans navigation and fishing piracy j ure gentium and current counter piracy operations off the coast of Somalia the problems posed by illegal unregulated and unreported fishing interdiction operations to counter drug and people trafficking and recent interception operations in the Mediterranean Sea organised by FRONTEX

Security Dynamics in the South China Sea Howard M Hensel, 2024-05-16 This volume examines the South China Sea s regional security dynamics highlighting the challenges and opportunities for both littoral and non littoral states The South China Sea is a vital pathway for the great container ships and tankers as well as for the naval vessels of today Indeed the security of the contemporary global economy is reliant more than ever upon the dependability of freedom of navigation through the waters of the South China Sea This volume concentrates on the security of the South China Sea sub region It is designed to help illuminate the contemporary security dynamics within this important sub region by highlighting its development the contemporary challenges and opportunities confronting both the littoral states and the non littoral powers that are active in the sub region and the policy responses of those states as they seek to defend and promote their national interests This book is composed of 16 chapters and is organized into five thematic sections Part I of the book is designed to set the historical context Part II examines some of the contemporary challenges and opportunities that present themselves in the sub region while Part III focuses on Chinese policy in the South China Sea sub region Parts IV and Part V analyse and evaluate the contemporary policies of the various littoral and non littoral powers that are active in the South China Sea sub region The collective analyses and assessments of the contemporary perceptions and policies of the various littoral and non littoral powers active in the South China Sea in response to the traditional and non traditional challenges within the sub region that are examined in the chapters contained in Parts III IV and V framed against the material presented in Parts I and II provides the basis for observations concerning areas of conflicting and coinciding interests in the concluding chapter of the book This book will be of interest to students of the South China Sea maritime security Asian politics and international relations

Caspian Security Issues Marco Valigi (edited by), 2015-10-26 The Caucasus and the Caspian areas have been a core interest for the main actors of international politics from the Persian Empire to the 21st century Chinese power However the internal and systemic constraints that once drove various political powers to compete for the control of the area has changed throughout history This collective study will focus on issues such as the positional relevance of this region in the major powers policies the peculiar legal status of the Caspian Basin saline as a sea closed like a lake the energy policies of some of the Caucasian countries and the role of these strategic resources as a cause for possible conflicts or conversely as effective means for their non violent resolution These topics will be examined within nine essays from various fields of analysis such as political science legal studies history and economy to ensure each topic is addressed with the appropriate depth of inquiry
