Braving the Erotic Field in the Psychoanalytic Treatment of Adolescents and Children is a groundbreaking collection of chapters by an international group of analytic authors. The book addresses the general lack of psychoanalytic writing on working with erotic feelings in the consulting room when treating children and adolescents. This lack is doubly odd given Freud's emphasis on childhood sexuality as well as the intensities of the adolescent body/mind. This book takes the view that the subtle interchange of feelings, dreams, narratives and images that arise when erotic feelings are in the fore is better conceptualized as an erotic field than with the binary of transference/countertransference. In contemporary psychoanalysis the idea that transference love offers the possibility of knowing the other in the deepest possible way is supplanting an attitude of suspicion. Clinical work with small children to late adolescents will be offered including gay and gender fluid adolescents. This book makes a decisive contribution to assist clinicians to brave the erotic field with children and adolescents.

Reflections on Play Therapy David Le Vay,2024-08-06 This book explores an extensive range of questions and challenges within the training theory and practice of play therapy with the aim of providing a stimulating and thought provoking debate around many of the issues and dilemmas therapists experience. Drawing upon the author's own experience as both a therapist and trainer/educator/supervisor the volume grapples with questions of power, privilege, self-care and mental health. It additionally addresses the wider challenges and impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, climate change and international conflict upon practice and personhood. Questions around training are explored as well as specific practice challenges relating to managing limits and boundaries within play therapy and working with adopted children. Throughout the book the author will reflect upon aspects of personal and clinical experience sharing something of his own developmental narrative through training, teaching and practice. Reflections on Play Therapy will serve as a core text for trainee play therapists and also a valuable resource for any experienced clinicians working therapeutically with children, young people and families. Missing Us Ryan LaMothe,2013-05-09 In Missing Us: Re-Visioning Psychoanalysis from the Perspective of Community Ryan LaMothe questions the ways in which psychoanalytic and psychodynamic theorists and clinicians have historically relied principally on a two-person psychology to understand psychosocial development and practice. While this has many benefits, two-person perspectives often overlook a central need and struggle in human life, namely community. The concept of community and its cognate, communion, expand and deepen psychoanalytic theories of development as well as reframe in part psychoanalytic concepts, processes and aims. In Missing Us LaMothe, relying on the Scottish philosopher John Macmurray, carefully defines the concept of community, being sure to differentiate it from the notions of sociality and intersubjectivity. Using this definition and the concept of person LaMothe reframes potential space transference and motivation Given this unique perspective LaMothe addresses the strengths limitations and challenges of psychoanalysis as a therapeutic ritual The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 26/27 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-06-17 Volume 26 27 begins with publication of The Annual's first prize essay Samuel Abrams's How Child and Adult Analysis Inform and Misinform One Another This is followed by a series of papers originally prepared for a symposium honoring John E Gedo These papers span the clinical topics of obsessiveness sublimation dreams and self analysis and analyzability and also delve into applied psychoanalysis and art history with two studies of Vincent van Gogh and another of Alberto Giacometti These papers not only convey the impressive range of Gedo's own interests but embody the high scholarly and clinical standards that Gedo has long held both for himself and for the field in general Section III offers original contributions to clinical analysis in the form of the consideration of the role of affective engagement in the analyst's usability thoughtful assessment of the perils of parental projection in child analytic work and comparison of a failed and successful supervision in the same psychoanalytic case Section IV examines psychoanalysis and the arts with two further studies of van Gogh an analytic reading of Nabokov's Lolita and more general examinations of psychoanalysis in relation to dramatic art and film analysis The volume closes with two provocative scholarly essays bearing on the roots of psychoanalysis the correspondence between Mabel Dodge and her analysts Smith Ely Jelliffe and A A Brill as a vehicle for reviewing the issue of extra and postanalytic contact between analyst and patient and an examination of Freud Lacan and the uneasy relationships among literature psychoanalysis and the female subject Volume 26 27 offers readers a rich harvest of contemporary insights about psychoanalysis including its history and evolution its continuing clinical refinement and its scholarly applications outside the consulting room Books in Print, 1991 Practitioner Research in Counselling and Psychotherapy Liz Bondi, Judith Fewell, 2016-07-01 In this thought provoking text Liz Bondi and Judith Fewell invite practitioners to move away from an approach to research that depends upon distance and objectification and towards a method centred on practical wisdom developed through intense exploration of the lived experience of therapeutic relationships Following a close examination of the flaws of dominant approaches to research in the field the book provides a richly detailed exploration of a diverse range of subjective experiences from both practitioners and clients Written by a collection of authors with a wealth of experience in practice and academia this insightful and evocative text will inspire anyone undertaking research in this field be they students educators or practitioners Subject Guide to Children's Books in Print 1997 Bowker Editorial Staff, R R Bowker Publishing, 1996-09 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1995
