Love's Serenade Sheryl Lister,2018-03-01 Escaping an arranged marriage Leigh Jones flees her southern hometown for Harlem's vibrant jazz scene to pursue her dream of becoming a singer She finds more than she expected namely Miles Cooper The smooth talking musician walked out on her three years ago taking her music and her heart with him Leigh has no intentions of falling for Miles or his charms again until he tempts her with the one thing she can't resist a recording contract But when her past comes calling she realizes Miles is the one person who can save her from a man who won't take no for an answer Miles isn't one for putting down roots or staying in one place for longer than a season Yet memories of Leigh's sultry voice beauty and sass make him long for the life and love he forfeited Having walked away once but never again Miles sets out to prove he's a changed man willing to go to any lengths to protect his woman He's determined to show Leigh one passionate note at a time that the music they make together will last a lifetime

The Social Construction of the Person K.J. Gergen,K.E. Davis,2012-12-06 This volume grew out of a discussion between the editors at the Society for Experimental Social Psychology meeting in Nashville in 1981 For many years the Society has played a leading role in encouraging rigorous and sophisticated research Yet our discussion that day was occupied with what seemed a major problem with this finely honed tradition namely it was preoccupied with accurate renderings of reality while generally insensitive to the process by which such renderings are achieved This tradition presumed that there were brute facts to be discovered about human interaction with little consideration of the social processes through which factuality is established To what degree are accounts of persons constrained by the social process of rendering as opposed to the features of those under scrutiny This concern with the social process by which persons are constructed was hardly ours alone In fact within recent years such concerns have been voiced with steadily increasing clarity across a variety of disciplines Ethno methodologists were among the first in the social sciences to puncture the taken for granted realities of life Many sociologists of science have also turned their attention to the way social organizations of scientists create the facts necessary to sustain these organizations Historians of science have entered a similar enterprise in elucidating the social economic and ideological conditions enabling certain formulations to flourish in the sciences while others are suppressed Many social anthropologists have also been intrigued by cross cultural variations in the concept of the human being

Store of the Worlds Robert Sheckley, 2012-05-01 An NYRB Classics Original Robert Sheckley was an eccentric master of the American short story and his tales whether set in dystopic city scapes ultramodern advertising agencies or aboard spaceships lighting out for hostile planets are among the most startlingly original of the twentieth century Today as the new worlds alternate universes and synthetic pleasures Sheckley foretold become our reality his vision begins to look less absurdist and more prophetic This retrospective selection chosen by Jonathan Lethem and Alex Abramovich brings together the best of Sheckley's deadpan farces proving once again that he belongs beside such mordant critics of contemporary mores as Bruce Jay Friedman Terry Southern and Thomas Pynchon
