South Asian Folklore in Transition Frank J. Korom, Leah K. Lowthorp, 2020-05-21 The Indian Subcontinent has been at the centre of folklore inquiry since the 19th century yet while much attention was paid to India by early scholars folkloristic interest in the region waned over time until it virtually disappeared from the research agendas of scholars working in the discipline of folklore and folklife This fortunately changed in the 1980s when a newly energized group of younger scholars who were interested in a variety of new approaches that went beyond the textual interface returned to folklore as an untapped resource in South Asian Studies This comprehensive volume further reinvigorates the field by providing fresh studies and new models both for studying the lore and the life of everyday people in the region as well as their engagement with the world at large By bringing Muslims material culture diasporic horizons global interventions and politics to bear on South Asian folklore studies the authors hope to stimulate more dialogue across theoretical and geographical borders to infuse the study of the Indian Subcontinent's cultural traditions with a new sense of relevance that will be of interest not only to areal specialists but also to folklorists and anthropologists in general This book was originally published as a special issue of South Asian History and Culture

The Films of Peter Greenaway Douglas Keesey, 2015-01-09 British filmmaker Peter Greenaway says life offers only two subjects One is sex and the other is death Greenaway uses both and romanticizes neither indeed his goal is the antithesis of the sanitary and sentimental portrayal of humanity Although his films have met with outrage from some viewers cult audiences praise them for insightful messages that people are detached from violence because they fail to see others bodies as identical to their own that predatory capitalism has caused humans to lose sight of our shared physicality and mortality and that taboos are simply a system allowing people to exercise power over others This book examines nine of Greenaway's feature films dedicating a chapter to each The Draughtsman's Contract A Zed and Two Noughts The Belly of an Architect Drowning by Numbers The Cook the Thief His Wife and Her Lover Prospero's Books The Baby of Macon The Pillow Book and 8 1 2 Women. The author examines the characters and plot studies the structure and elements of the story explores Greenaway's motives and reactions and reveals audience reactions including comments from viewers. A filmography lists films written and directed by Peter Greenaway from 1962 to 2004
