Guide to Indian Periodical Literature ,2000 Indian English Literature, 1980-2000 M. K. Naik, Shyamala A. Narayan, 2001 Sri Aurobindo's Poetic Theory Dr. N. N. Londhe, 2017-06-13 Having applied the standards of modern critical theory it may sound fruitless to account for biographical details of writer in interpreting his work as the biographical details either hold no importance or have nothing to do with the work of art in the sense that once a work of art is born it loses its connection with the creator Moreover even in the moment of creation the author remains detached from his creation However there are some exceptions to this It has been observed that the biographical details are of immense help in partly making sense of what the concerned author has encoded These details can be correlated to his writing In the case of some writers their life has a special relation with what they write how they led their life what inspiration they sought what influences they received and imbibed in their personality what experiences they lived with and what events and occasions they confronted

Sri Aurobindo's Integral and Supramental Yoga in Savitri Dr. N.N. Londhe, 2017-06-16 Having applied the standards of modern critical theory it may sound fruitless to account for biographical details of writer in interpreting his work as the biographical details either hold no importance or have nothing to do with the work of art in the sense that once a work of art is born it loses its connection with the creator Moreover even in the moment of creation the author remains detached from his creation However there are some exceptions to this It has been observed that the biographical details are of immense help in partly making sense of what the concerned author has encoded the need and to contribute in some measure to the appreciation of Sri Aurobindo's poetry and plays. It also briefly touches upon Indian response to Shakespeare. It focuses mainly on Sri Aurobindo's numerous insights and critical observations on him. To sum up writings of the two such outstanding writers who represent two very different ways of thinking. On one hand Shakespeare portrays a lot of blood shed, gory tales and a wild kind of poetic justice in his writings but on the other hand Sri Aurobindo truly follows Indian ethos of non violence or Ahimsa. The author underlines the stark similarities and differences in both the writer's exploring their plays and sonnets. The structure of plays and sonnets may be same of both the greatest minds but ethos and persona ingrained in their writings is quite different.

The Rose and the Lotus Stefano Mercanti, 2009. Raja Rao one of the founding figures of Indian English literature is re-examined in this comprehensive study of his fiction which offers a fresh critical investigation into both his short stories and his novels. Powerfully contradicting the long held perception of Raja Rao as a mere metaphysical writer and the true bard of quintessential Indianness projected by many critics of the first Commonwealth generation over three decades. Stefano Mercanti posits Rao's fiction in terms of its dialogic interaction the partnership between Western and Eastern cultural traditions and demonstrates how it evolves during the course of his oeuvre on both the philosophical and the political level. The title The Rose and the Lotus signals the discursive terrain for a multicultural and interwoven evolution among different cultures and points to the need for valuing relations of reciprocity rather than those of domination. Far from conveying univocal configurations and nationalistic stereotypes Rao's idea of India is seen as the epicentre of many echoes and dynamic resonances both Western and Eastern through which a distinct blend of Indian and European influences is more clearly unravelled. In this new critical re-appraisal Mercanti draws on non binary and inter multi disciplinary paradigms thus signalling the complex transformations and multiple negotiations of a polyglot India caught between the cultural twilight of the modern and the traditional. The study also offers an invaluable linguistic analysis of Rao's experiment with the English language supplemented by a detailed glossary.

Sri Aurobindo and the Mother Kireet Joshi, 1989-01-01. Aryadeva's Catuhsataka along with the work of Nagarjuna provided the philosophical basis for much of subsequent Mahayana Buddhism Like Nagarjuna's *Mulamadhyamakakarika*s it too was commented upon by Vijnanavada or Idealist thinkers as well as by those of the Madhyamaka or Middle Way school Thus the Catuhstaka was interpreted in very different and yet philosophically rich fashioned by its sixth century commentators Dharmapala and Candrakirti the former saw it as only refuting ascriptions of imagined natures parikalpitasvabhava to phenomena while leaving real natures untouched the latter interpreted Aryadeva's work as a thorough going rejection of all real intrinsic natures svabhava whatsoever Tom Tillemans in this reprint of his 1990 doctoral thesis takes up the key themes in Dharmapala's and Candrakirti's philosophies and translates two chapters from their respective works on Catuhstaka Both commentaries had a strong influence on subsequent Buddhism Candrakirti's was important for Tibetan developments Dharmapala's played a formative role in the increasingly marked differentiation between Vijnanavada and Madhyamaka philosophies
