Manos Spyridakis

New Directions In Economic Anthropology:

New Directions in Economic Anthropology Susana Narotzky, 1997 Narotzky is particularly compelling in her discussion of the relation between the counted and unaccounted as it enters practices and ideology in the informal economy family business and home life Anthropology Today RAI Using an historical perspective Narotzky highlights the interdependent nature of the contemporary world economy and includes case studies of Western societies She gives special emphasis to current issues such as the anthropology of work the informal economy and the cultures of industrialisation

The Liminal Worker Manos Spyridakis, 2016-03-03 The Liminal Worker examines the experience of work employment employment insecurity and precariousness in a context of high unemployment and welfare state crisis in modern Greece A theoretically informed anthropological exploration of the notion of work in contemporary western society and its relation to processes of political decision making this book challenges the mainstream conception of work as an economic or purely productive activity presenting a comparative analysis of work as a social phenomenon Drawing on original empirical research it explores the key themes of the transformation experience meaning and narrative of work and its relation to attendant social policies A unique examination of the complicated experience of work and labour relations within power systems institutions and organisations as well as the reactions and survival strategies of ordinary actors facing precariousness in their daily existence The Liminal Worker elaborates upon the notion of the anthropology of work and investigates the connection between ethnographic data and its critical analysis and the formation of policy As such it will be of interest to anthropologists sociologists policy makers and geographers concerned with questions of work labour relations and policy formation

Economics in Persian-Period Biblical Texts Peter Altmann, 2016-10-26 Large scale economic change such as the rise of coinage occurred during the Persian dominated centuries 6th 4th centuries BCE in the Eastern Mediterranean and ancient Near East How do the biblical texts of the time respond to such developments In this study Peter Altmann lays out foundational economic conceptions from the ancient Near East and earlier biblical traditions in order to show how Persian period biblical texts build on these traditions to address the challenges of their day Economic issues are central for how Ezra and Nehemiah approach the topics of temple building and of Judean self understanding and economics are also important for other Persian period texts Following significant interaction with the material culture and extra biblical texts the author devotes special attention to the ascendancy of economics and its theological and identity implications as structuring metaphors for divine action and human community in the Persian period Identity and Development Paul van der Grijp, 2021-11-22 Identity and Development presents a remarkable record of Tonga's increasing participation in the modern global economy and provides anthropologists economists and historians with a detailed case study that bears heavily on major issues of the day both practically and theoretically The book focuses on issues of identity entrepreneurship and the intricacies of development and addresses the question How in the current state of the economy can a Tongan become a successful grower This question is set against the background of a boom in cash cropping sparked by a burgeoning export trade with Japan

Inclusionary Rhetoric/Exclusionary Practices Davide Però, 2007-10 Migration and multiculturalism are hotly discussed in public debates across Europe Whereas ethnographic research has begun to examine the Right in this context the Left remains largely unexplored Drawing on fieldwork conducted in Bologna the show case city of the Italian Left this book provides fresh perspectives on how the contemporary Left frames these issues in practice and how such framing has changed in recent decades By focusing on the official rhetoric grassroots discourses policy and civil societal practices of the Left as well as on the immigrants own views this book timely offers a comprehensive vivid and critical account of changing ideas about ethnicity class identity and difference in progressive politics and of the implications that such ideas have for the incorporation of migrants in Europe

The Commons in a Glocal World Tobias Haller, Thomas Breu, Tine De Moor, Christian Rohr, Heinzpeter Znoj, 2019-04-30 This volume focuses on how in Europe the debate on the commons is discussed in regard to historical and contemporary dimensions critically referencing the work of Elinor Ostrom It also explores from the perspective of new institutional political ecology NIPE how Europe directly and indirectly affected and affects the commons globally Most of the research on the management of commons pool resources is limited to dealing with one of two topics either the interaction between local participatory governance and development of institutions for commons management or a political economy approach that focuses on global change as it is related to the increasingly globalised expansion of capitalist modes of production consumption and societal reproduction This volume bridges the two addressing how global players affect the commons worldwide and how they relate to responses emerging from within the commons in a global local glocal world Authors from a range of academic disciplines present research findings on recent developments on the commons including historical insights new innovations for participatory institutions building in Europe or several types of commons grabbing especially in Africa related to European investments and restrictions on the management of commons at the international level European case studies are included providing interesting examples of local participation in commons resource management while simultaneously showing Europe as a centre for globalized capitalism and its norms and values affecting the rest of the world particularly developing countries This book will be of interest to students and researchers from a wide range of disciplines including natural resource management environmental governance political geography and environmental history

Political Ethnography Edward Schatz, 2013-02-11 Scholars of politics have sought in recent years to make the discipline more hospitable to qualitative methods of research Lauding the results of this effort and highlighting its potential for the future Political Ethnography makes a compelling case for one such method in particular Ethnography the contributors amply demonstrate in a wide range of original essays is uniquely suited for illuminating the study of politics Situating these pieces within the context of developments in political science Edward Schatz provides an overarching introduction and substantive prefaces to each of the volume s four sections The first of these parts addresses the central ontological and epistemological issues raised by ethnographic work while the second grapples with the reality that all research is conducted from a first person perspective The third section goes on to explore how ethnographic research can provide fresh perspectives on such perennial topics as opinion causality and power Concluding that political ethnography can and should play a central role in the field as a whole the final chapters illuminate the many ways in which ethnographic approaches can enhance improve and in some areas transform the study of politics

Shaping Flexibility in Vocational Education and Training W.J. Nijhof, Anja Heikkinen, Loek F.M. Nieuwenhuis, 2005-12-28 Flexibility seems to be the core concept of economic and educational change in our time The promise of solutions to many problems at the individual institutional and national level evokes as much controversy as acclaim This might be related to the different perspectives of actors and researchers involved in problem solving in Vocational Education and Training VET where on the one hand solutions should be sought in key qualifications and transferability in changing teaching and learning processes while on the other political institutional organisational and professional conditions are seen as the key interventions to build a responsive workforce on the basis of a re engineered VET system Consequently flexibility in connection with vocational education and training and the labour market has several divergent connotations

Qiaoxiang Ties Leo Douw, Cen Huang, Michael R. Godley, 2013-10-28 First Published in 1999 This volume is a product of the research programme of the International Institute for Asian Studies Leiden entitled International Social Organization in East and Southeast Asia Qiaoxiang Ties during the Twentieth Century The programme will run from 1996 2000 for a fuller description please see the Appendix chapter The book was prepared during a workshop at the International Convention of Asian Scholars 25 8 June 1997 Noordwijkerhout the Netherlands

Culture, Development and Social Theory John Clammer, 2013-10-10 This important book places culture back at the centre of debates in development studies It introduces new ways of conceptualizing culture in relation to development by linking development studies to cultural studies studies of social movements religion and the notion of social suffering The author expertly argues that in the current world crises it is necessary to recover a more holistic vision of development that creates a vocabulary linking more technical and predominantly economic aspects of development with more humanistic and ecological goals Any conception of post capitalist society he argues requires cultural as well as economic and political dimensions
