Pedlocks A Family A Novel:

A New Generation of African Writers Brenda Cooper, 2013 Brenda Cooper examines the work of the new generation of African writers who have placed migration as central to their writing. There is a growing interest in books by writers of African origin. These authors have often grown up or passed their early adult years out of Africa. The Orange Prize for Fiction was awarded in London 2007 to Chimamanda Ngozie Adichie's Half of a Yellow Sun and the Caine Prize for African Writing has introduced new writers such as Leila Aboulela, Biyi Bandele and Chimamanda Adichie herself to agents and publishers. This examination of the extraordinary work which has recently appeared is therefore very timely. Migration is a central theme of much African fiction written in English. Here Brenda Cooper tracks the journeys undertaken by a new generation of African writers, their protagonists and the solid objects that populate their fiction to depict the material realities of their multiple worlds and languages. She explores the uses to which the English language is put in order to understand these worlds and demonstrates how these writers have contested the dominance of colonising metaphors. The writers challenge is to find an English that can effectively express their many lives, languages and identities. BRENDA COOPER was for many years Director of the Centre for African Studies and Professor in the English department at the University of Cape Town where she is now an Emeritus Professor. In 2009 she moved to Salford where she is an Honorary Research Associate at the University of Manchester. She has published widely on African fiction and postcolonial literary theory. Southern Africa, South Africa, Botswana, Namibia, Lesotho and Swaziland. University of KwaZulu Natal Press.

The Complete Novels Daniel Defoe, 2022-05-17 Daniel Defoe's The Complete Novels is a masterful assemblage of works that span the early 18th century, encapsulating the transition from oral narrative traditions to the novel as a literary form. Celebrated for its realism and intricacy, Defoe's prose employs a style marked by vivid detail and psychological depth, inviting readers into the thoughts and experiences of its characters. The collection includes iconic narratives such as Robinson Crusoe, which explores themes of isolation, survival, and the human spirit, alongside lesser-known titles that reflect societal norms and economic realities of Defoe's time, revealing the complexities of a rapidly modernizing world. Defoe, a pioneering figure in English literature, was not especially trained as a novelist but was instead a prolific writer, journalist, and political pamphleteer. His diverse experiences, including engagements in trade and a keen interest in the socio-political climate of his era, informed his storytelling. His ability to blend fiction with real-world context allowed him to capture the challenges and transformations of early modern life, contributing significantly to the novel as a genre. I highly recommend The Complete Novels to readers who seek a rich understanding of the evolution of narrative fiction and its role in reflecting the intricacies of human experience. Defoe's works not only entertain but provide invaluable insights into the cultural milieu of his time, making this collection a seminal addition to any literary library.
