The Mediterranean Russell King, Lindsay Proudfoot, Bernard Smith, 2014-02-25 This book addresses contemporary geographical issues in the Mediterranean Basin from a perspective that recognizes the physical characteristics and cultural interactions which link the different Mediterranean states as a recognisable geographic entity Sixteen chapters each deal with a major geographical issue currently facing the Mediterranean each providing an invaluable summary of the extensive but widely dispersed literature relating to Mediterranean issues Particular emphasis is placed on the interaction between society and environment in terms of environmental management differential regional development and its associated political demographic cultural and economic tensions

The Textual Life of Savants Gisli Pálsson, 2013-11-26 First Published in 1995 This book focuses on the role and significance of texts and textualism for anthropology and ethnography and more specifically the understanding of particular aspects of Icelandic society and history The discussion is centred on a range of issues moving between general social theory and ethnographic details the immediate present and the distant past language and production fieldwork and the act of writing texts sagas novels and ethnographies and real life In each case however it draws attention to what may be called a pragmatist approach a concern with action and agency as they constitute and are constituted by social life Such an approach I hold is an important and timely remedy to current textualism the trendy theoretical tradition often described as the linguistic turn

Italy Roland Sarti, 2009 Exploring more than 500 years of the country's history Italy provides readers interested in modern Italy or European history with a greater understanding of Italy's past from the Renaissance to the present This guide presents the milestones in Italy's history in an interesting and readable way

Centuries of Child Labour Marjatta Rahikainen, 2017-07-05 Centuries of Child Labour argues that some of the conventional wisdom on child labour can be qualified and even questioned if we turn from the experiences of leading 19th century countries such as Britain and France to economically and politically weaker countries of Northern Europe Taking a long term perspective from the seventeenth to the twentieth century Marjatta Rahikainen conveys a richer sense of child labour by comparing the experiences of the Northern European Scandinavian periphery to the paradigmatic cases of Britain and France

Catastrophe and Creation K. Elkhalm Friedmann, 2014-03-18 First Published in 1992 This is a study of what happened to Kongo society and culture at the turn of the 20th century when the area was penetrated brutally violated and colonized by Europeans This book is the outcome of a project called Society and Culture in Crisis whereby the author found that evolution was a continuous more or less unbroken process only at the global system level whereas repeated rises and falls took place at the local level This study closely looks at the declining development process in the Lower Congo and calls to the effects of colonization on society and culture

Unstructuring Chinese Society Allen Chun, 2004-08-02 Unstructuring Chinese Society is a culmination of long term field work and archival research that challenges existing theories of social organisation and cultural change The book makes new sense of historical contradictions political conflicts and deep seated social transformations that have underlined the experience of colonial rule and the practices of local institutions in Hong Kong over the past century By focusing on the ongoing interactions of discourse practices and global local relations in cultural terms Unstructuring Chinese Society puts forth a fresh perspective in the field of historical anthropology while addressing ongoing critical concerns in postcolonial theory and our understanding of tradition and modernity
