Rationing Education Gillborn, David, Youdell, Deborah, 1999-12-01 This research should make us extremely sceptical that the constant search for higher standards and for ever increasing achievement scores can do much more than put in place seemingly neutral devices for restratification Michael W Apple John Bascom Professor of Curriculum and Instruction and Educational Policy Studies University of Wisconsin Madison Recent educational reforms have raised standards of achievement but have also resulted in growing inequalities based on race and social class School by school league tables play a central role in the reforms These have created an A to C economy where schools and teachers are judged on the proportion of students attaining five or more grades at levels A to C To satisfy these demands schools are embracing new and ever more selective attempts to identify ability Their assumptions and practices embody a new IQism a simple narrow and regressive ideology of intelligence that labels working class and minority students as likely failures and justifies rationing provision to support those often white middle class boys already marked for success This book reports detailed research in two secondary schools showing the real costs of reform in terms of the pressures on teachers and the rationing of educational opportunity It will be important reading for any teacher researcher or policymaker with an interest in equality in education

Demythologizing Educational Reforms Arthur T. Costigan, Leslee Grey, 2014-08-21 There are dozens of myths surrounding educational reform today maintaining the school's role in economic competitiveness the deficiency of teachers the benefits of increased testing and the worthiness of privatization In this volume the editors argue that this discussion has been co-opted to reflect the values and worldviews of special interest groups such as elites in power politicians corporate educational foundations and the media Prominent educational writers tackle contemporary issues such as neoliberalism suburban schooling charter schools and parental involvement They expose the logic behind the talk and critically examine these problematic beliefs to uncover meaningful improvements in education which are better grounded in the social economic political and educational realities of contemporary society Education and Political Subjectivities in Neoliberal Times and Places Eva Reimers, Lena Martinsson, 2016-10-04 Education and Political Subjectivities in Neoliberal Times and Places investigates the conditions and possibilities for political subjectivities to emerge in international educational contexts where neoliberal norms are repeated performed and transformed Through demonstrating the possibility of political subjectivities this book argues that neoliberalism should neither be considered post-political nor a natural law by which educational practices have to abide This book considers how political subjectivities are made possible in education in spite of dominant neoliberal norms Chapters address key theoretical discussions surrounding these different sometimes contradicting norms and their relationship to education economy and politics This innovative approach considers diverse educational and political initiatives in the wake of new public management postcolonial perspectives on neoliberal education and educational practices and critical possibilities The book advocates understanding and enacting democracy as an experiment based on the conception that democracy is constantly constructed and constitutes a transformative process in society in general as well as in education This book advances the argument that there is still room for political subjectivity in spite of the dominance of neoliberal educational governance It will appeal to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of higher education education policy and politics sociology of education and comparative and international education as well as those interested in neoliberalism new public management and inequality Politics, Policies and Pedagogies in Education Bob Lingard,2013-07-24 In the World Library of Educationalists international experts compile career long collections of what they judge to be their finest pieces of work extracts from books key articles salient research findings major theoretical and practical contributions so the world can read them in a single manageable volume Readers will be able to follow the themes and strands and see how their work contributes to the development of the field Bob Lingard has spent the last 30 years researching and writing in universities in Australia England and Scotland about changing education policy issues His work is written from a sociological perspective and with a commitment to social justice He is the co editor and co author of 17 books and more than 100 journal articles and book chapters In Politics Policies and Pedagogies in Education Bob Lingard provides critical sociological engagement with the politics of education The focus is education policy and the impact of globalization including epistemological and methodological issues necessary for researching education policy today Topics analyzed include educational restructuring new accountabilities and testing mediatization of education policy policy as numbers the global policy field and policy borrowing pedagogies Lingard also considers the nature of educational research today He has selected 12 of his key writings and in a critical introduction situates and contextualizes the work against key developments in the field and in the changing world Education and Society Rachel Brooks,2018-10-04 This new textbook offers a wide ranging discussion of the key debates within the sociology of education Covering everything from policymaking and the curriculum to class ethnicity and gender and the ways that they and other social divisions intersect to produce inequalities this timely publication provides a much needed contribution to the study of education s vital role in contemporary society With examples drawn from such diverse contexts as Australian pre schools Finnish higher education institutions and English further education colleges the text presents students with an international perspective and encourages them to engage critically with some of the core questions that lie at the heart of the topic what is the purpose of education who decides what formal education entails and what impact does education have on both society and individuals Rachel Brooks s extensive knowledge of decades of scholarly work in education and sociology ensures the book is academically rigorous throughout while the final chapter on emerging educational research means it is fully up to date The text s accessible style is ideally suited to all those new to the topic and studying the sociology of education for the first time whether this be from departments of sociology childhood studies social policy or a range of other social science disciplines Critical Theories, Radical Pedagogies, and Global Conflicts Gustavo Fischman,2005 We are living in a time of resurgent global conflicts and imperialistic tensions a time in which many children are being left behind by school systems that appear more concerned with developing accountability schemes and standardized models of testing than with defending the right of every child to have access to a good education The efforts of countless teachers activists and families working and living in poor areas around the world are labeled as failures entirely discredited on the basis of their expendability in relation to capital gains or simply ignored In response to these oppressive and challenging conditions this book s contributors a group of committed educators and activists working in an ethos of solidarity across geopolitical and geographical borders have advanced arguments and strategies that link educational transformation to the larger struggle to transform oppressive social relations In a clear attempt to move beyond both nostalgia and romanticism Critical Theories Radical Pedagogies and Global Conflicts draws from a range of viewpoints conceptual and thematic transnational and crosscultural First World and Third World to articulate new directions for teachers and activists working to demonstrate that another education and indeed another world is possible
