Reading As Communication An Integrated Approach:

Reading as Communication Frank B. May, 1982      Reading in a Second Language William Grabe, Junko

Yamashita, 2022-09-08 Understanding reading abilities and their development is fundamental for language comprehension and human cognition. Now in its second edition, this book draws on research from multiple disciplines to explain reading abilities in both L1 and L2 and shows how this research can be applied in practice in order to support reading development. Research into reading has progressed a great deal since the first edition was published, so this edition has been completely updated and revised in order to reflect these advances. All chapters present updated research studies and completely new chapters are included on the neurocognition of reading, reading-writing relationships, and digital reading. If you want to know how reading works, no matter the languages involved, as well as how it can be taught effectively, this book provides a persuasive research foundation and many practical insights. It is essential reading for academic researchers and students in Applied Linguistics and TESOL.

Research-Driven Pedagogy Nihat Polat, Tammy Gregersen, Peter D. MacIntyre, 2019-10-10 Research-Driven Pedagogy: Implications of L2A Theory and Research for the Teaching of Language Skills brings together the essentials of second language acquisition (SLA) theory, research, and second language L2 pedagogy. Uniquely, the design of this book helps researchers and practitioners make explicit connections between theory, research, and practice; learn about and conduct classroom research to contribute to the relevance and applicability of SLA research; and improve current L2 curriculum and instruction in light of current theory and research. The volume offers critical reviews of the most relevant current SLA theory and research about receptive, productive, complementary, and nonverbal communication skills, as well as willingness to communicate (WTC). Each chapter is formatted to include five major topics about each language skill: 1) major theories; 2) critical reviews of salient current research; 3) commonly used data collection and analysis techniques; 4) summary of specific pedagogical implications of pertinent research and theory; and 5) theory- and research-driven scenarios/activities that can be used in teaching. A teacher or a researcher can pick any chapter in this volume to learn about the most important language skills, e.g., reading, writing, nonverbal communication, while having all in one place access to almost everything they would need.

International Perspectives on Writing Curricula and Development Jill Jeffery, Judy M. Parr, 2021-05-27 This book contributes to the innovation of writing education and research globally by providing crucial insights into how the structures and aims of literacy curricula vary internationally. It examines how nine education systems across five continents represent good writing in curricula that shape students' experiences learning to write in school. The book presents curricular analyses aimed at providing insight into how writing development can be better supported through innovative policy and research. The findings regarding international variation are presented under three broad dimensions: social and contextual factors that shape writing curricula; the discourses of writing reflected in curricula and official documents; and hallmarks of classroom practice, including the relationship with official discourse. Case study chapters present integrated inductive and deductive document analyses findings of which are compared in a concluding cross case analysis chapter Offering a detailed comparative analysis of writing research International Perspectives on Writing Curricula and Development will be of great interest to academics researchers and students in the fields of education literacy and curriculum studies It will also be relevant reading for policymakers and curriculum designers Chapters 1 7 9 10 and 11 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license
