Grade 8 Reading Comprehension Worksheet

My Mother

By Jeanne Hill

Read the passage. Then answer the questions.

A dirty-yellow sky had threatened rain all day and a hollow stillness hung over the valley. Mother went to the field and gathered the last cucumbers and tomatoes. As she approached the house, she heard a frightening noise in a brush pile near the steps. Peering into the pile, she glimpsed a terrifying creature – a huge black monster with green head and giant green fangs.

Mother's hands shook as she came up the steps dumped her apron and reached for her hoe. "Joe," she said struggling to steady her voice, "you go get Mr. Riley. "Jeanne, you stay in the house. I'm going out to stand guard at the brush pile until Mr. Riley gets here." It seemed an eternity before Mr. Riley arrived, scooped mother to one side, and pointed his shotgun into the brush pile. Then, quite suddenly, he lowered the gun and leaned down to take a better look.

"Is that your monster?" he asked mother gently, smiling and pointing into the brush. "Come here," he said, "and look closely at an ordinary black snake whose appetite is bigger than his mouth. That's a huge green frog, stuck half in and half out of his mouth. Those fangs are the frog's legs."

That was when mother finally broke. Tears rolled down her cheeks, and she slumped forward. But Mr. Riley moved quickly enough to catch her small collapsing figure. And right then I knew that things could never be the same again.

As thunder pierced the hollow stillness, I looked at mother and suddenly knew her secret. She was desperately afraid – and had been all along – of the foxes, the hawks, the snakes. But she had faced them anyway! No more would I be amazed at her fearlessness, but I would ever marvel at her enormous courage.

Understanding Individual Differences in Language Development Across the School Years J. Bruce

Tomblin, Marilyn A. Nippold, 2014-03-26 This volume presents the findings of a large scale study of individual differences in spoken and heard language development during the school years The goal of the study was to investigate the degree to which language abilities at school entry were stable over time and influential in the child s overall success in important aspects of development The methodology was a longitudinal study of over 600 children in the US Midwest during a 10 year period The language skills of these children along with reading academic and psychosocial outcomes were measured There was intentional oversampling of children with poor language ability without being associated with other developmental or sensory disorders Furthermore these children could be sub grouped based on their nonverbal abilities such that one group represents children with specific language impairment SLI and the other group with nonspecific language impairment NLI represents poor language along with depressed nonverbal abilities Throughout the book the authors consider whether these distinctions are supported by evidence obtained in this study and which aspects of development are impacted by poor language ability Data are provided that allow conclusions to be made regarding the level of risk associated with different degrees of poor language and whether this risk should be viewed as lying on a continuum The volume will appeal to researchers and professionals with an interest in children s language development particularly those working with children who have a range of language impairments This includes Speech and Language Pathologists Child Neuropsychologists Clinical Psychologists working in Education as well as Psycholinguists and Developmental Psychologists Governance and Performance Carolyn J. Heinrich, Laurence E. Lynn (jr.), 2000 Drawing on recent advances in social science these essays demonstrate how rigorous theory based research in public management can improve government performance They reflect the improved techniques in data and statistics which allow researchers to construct more incisive models of governance
