Redefining Motherhood Changing Identities And Patterns:

Redefining Motherhood Sharon Abbey, Andrea O'Reilly, 1998 Women have through choice and circumstance changed what it means to be a mother today No longer is there one clear and correct prescribed definition As economic social cultural and political conditions evolve women are revolutionizing concepts of mothering in a way unrecognizable short decades ago In this unique collection twenty three women teaching at colleges and universities throughout Canada explore how traditional views of motherhood have been influenced by changing social and cultural conditions Their essays unravel patriarchal constructions of motherhood and re present new definitions drawn from women s lived experiences

Matricentric Feminism: Theory, Activism, Practice. The 2nd Edition Andrea O'Reilly, 2021-04-04 The 2nd edition includes a new preface that considers how matricentric feminism in positioning mothering as a verb affords a gender neutral understanding of motherwork and allows for an appreciation of how motherwork is deeply gendered and how this may be challenged and changed through empowered mothering The book argues that the category of mother is distinct from the category of woman and that many of the problems mothers face are specific to women s role and identity as mothers Indeed mothers are oppressed under patriarchy as women and as mothers Consequently mothers need a feminism of their own one that positions mothers concerns as the starting point for a theory and politic of empowerment O Reilly terms this new mode of feminism matricentric feminism and the book explores how it is represented and experienced in theory activism and practice

Mothers and Children Susan E. Chase, Mary Frances Rogers, 2001 Motherhood is a highly personal array of experiences with a uniquely public dimension preoccupying policymakers advice givers health care providers religious leaders child care workers educators and total strangers who feel entitled to judge mothers they see with their children in the neighborhood or on the TV news Chase U of Tulsa and Rogers U of West Florida approach motherhood and mothering as feminist sociologists focusing on questions such as how ideas about motherhood are shaped by social and historical conditions how ideas about motherhood change over time and across social contexts who has the power to make their definitions of motherhood stick and what diverse groups of mothers themselves think Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts Elizabeth Podnieks, Andrea O'Reilly, 2011-04-07 Textual Mothers Maternal Texts focuses on mothers as subjects and as writers who produce auto biography fiction and poetry about maternity International contributors examine the mother without child with child and in her multiple identities as grandmother mother and daughter The collection examines how authors use textual spaces to accept negotiate resist or challenge traditional conceptions of mothering and maternal roles and how these texts offer alternative practices and visions for mothers Further it illuminates how textual representations both reflect and help to define or re shape the realities of women and families by examining how mothering and being a mother are political personal and creative narratives unfolding within both the pages of a book and the spaces of a life The range of chapters maps a shift from the daughter centric stories that have dominated the maternal tradition to the matrilineal and matrifocal perspectives that have emerged over the last few decades as the mother's voice moved from silence to speech Contributors make aesthetic cultural and political claims and critiques about mothering and motherhood illuminating in new and diverse ways how authors and the protagonists of the texts read their own maternal identities as well as the maternal scripts of their families cultures and nations in their quest for self knowledge agency and artistic expression

Mad Mothers, Bad Mothers, and What a "Good" Mother Would Do Sarah LaChance Adams, 2014-05-20 When a mother kills her child we call her a bad mother but as this book shows even mothers who intend to do their children harm are not easily categorized as mad or bad Maternal love is a complex emotion rich with contradictory impulses and desires and motherhood is a conflicted state in which women constantly renegotiate the needs mother and child the self and the other Applying care ethics philosophy and the work of Emmanuel Levinas Maurice Merleau Ponty and Simone de Beauvoir to real world experiences of motherhood Sarah LaChance Adams throws the inherent tensions of motherhood into sharp relief drawing a more nuanced portrait of the mother and child relationship than previously conceived The maternal example is particularly instructive for ethical theory highlighting the dynamics of human interdependence while also affirming separate interests LaChance Adams particularly focuses on maternal ambivalence and its morally productive role in reinforcing the divergence between oneself and others helping to recognize the particularities of situation and negotiating the difference between one's own needs and the desires of others She ultimately argues maternal filicide is a social problem requiring a collective solution that ethical philosophy and philosophies of care can inform

Maternal Abandonment and Queer Resistance in Twenty-First-Century Swedish Literature Jenny Björklund, 2021-06-03 This book questions why so many mothers leave their families in twenty first century Swedish literature analyzing literary representations of maternal abandonment in relation to sociopolitical discourses The volume draws on a queer theoretical framework in order to highlight norm critical dimensions failure and resistance in literature about motherhood Jenny Björklund argues that novels about mothers who leave can be understood as ways to problematize and challenge Swedish branded values like gender equality and a progressive family politics that promotes ideals of involved parenthood the nuclear family and pronatalism The book also raises questions beyond the Swedish context about maternal ambivalence family politics and privilege and discusses how literature can work as resistance and provide alternatives to the current social order

Troubling Maternity Emily Jeremiah, 2003 The question of maternity is crucial for feminists to whom it represents both challenge and inspiration as it is for many thinkers engaged with the issues of agency corporeality and ethics This examination puts forward the idea of a maternal performativity drawing on the work of Judith Butler and numerous other feminist theorists to offer new ways of looking at 1970s and 1980s literary texts by ten German speaking women writers including Barbara Frischmuth Elfriede Jelinek Irmtraud Morgner and Karin Struck It argues that as yet maternal agency has not adequately been theorized a project which is urgent given the traditional view in Western culture of the mother as passive and suggests that Butler's notion of performativity can assist in this task It proposes a performative conception of both mothering and literature and links both of these to the question of ethics which is understood as involving embodiment and relationality To different extents all of the texts examined depict mothers as marginal abject or insane thus demonstrating the operations of exclusion and the need for a maternal agency to be developed and enacted The idea of maternal performativity is refined in five chapters which focus respectively on community corporeality the mother child relationship the family and discursive production The conclusion explores the ethics of literary practice and knowledge production and argues that in the light of the developing fields of new reproductive technologies and genetics it is imperative that we seek new understandings of embodiment community and care a task to which this study aspires to contribute

Feminism, Psychoanalysis, and Maternal

Subjectivity Alison Stone,2013-03-01 In this book Alison Stone develops a feminist approach to maternal subjectivity Stone argues that in the West the self has often been understood in opposition to the maternal body so that one must separate oneself from the mother and maternal care givers on whom one depended in childhood to become a self or in modernity an autonomous subject These assumptions make it difficult to be a mother and a subject an autonomous creator of meaning Insofar as mothers nonetheless strive to regain their subjectivity when their motherhood seems to have compromised it theirs cannot be the usual kind of subjectivity premised on separation from the maternal body Mothers are subjects of a new kind who generate meanings and acquire agency from their position of re immersion in the realm of maternal body relations of bodily intimacy and dependency Thus Stone interprets maternal subjectivity as a specific form of subjectivity that is continuous with the maternal body Stone analyzes this form of subjectivity in terms of how the mother typically reproduces with her child her history of bodily relations with her own mother leading to a distinctive maternal and cyclical form of lived time

Parenting and Professing Rachel Hile Bassett,2005 Featuring many personal accounts the twenty four essays in this collection explore the challenges and possibilities confronting those especially women who combine parenting and academic work Written by a diverse group of educators who present a real world variety of situations the collection also includes ideas for change at the individual interpersonal policy and system levels

Understanding Depression Janet Stoppard,2014-01-14 Women are particularly vulnerable to depression Understanding Depression provides an in depth critical examination of mainstream approaches to understanding and treating depression from a feminist perspective Janet Stoppard argues that current approaches give only partial accounts of womens experiences of depression and concludes that a better understanding will only be achieved when womens experiences and lived realities are considered in relation to the material and social conditions in which their everyday lives are embedded The impact of this change in approach for modes of treatment are discussed and solutions are suggested Understanding Depression offers new insights into the problem and its treatment It will prove useful to those with an interest in depression and gender as well as mental health practitioners
