Reflections Of Our Past John H Relethford, 2018-03-09 Where did modern humans come from and how important are the biological differences among us Are we descended from Neanderthals How many races of people are there Were Native Americans the first settlers of the New World How can we tell if Thomas Jefferson had a child with Sally Hemings Through an engaging examination of issues such as these and using non technical language Reflections of Our Past shows how anthropologists use genetic information to test theories and define possible answers to fundamental questions in human history By looking at genetic variation in the world today we can reconstruct the recent and remote events and processes that created the variation we see providing a fascinating reflection of our genetic past Reflections of Our Past is a W W Howells Book Prize Winner and Choice Outstanding Academic Title Reflections of Our Past John H. Relethford, Deborah A. Bolnick, 2018-03-26 The rise of the multi billion dollar ancestry testing industry points to one immutable truth about us as human beings we want to know where we come from and who our ancestors were John H Relethford and Deborah A Bolnick explore this topic and many more in this second edition of Reflections of Our Past Where did modern humans come from and how important are the biological differences among us Are we descended from Neandertals How should we understand the connections between genetic ancestry race and identity Were Native Americans the first to inhabit the Americas Can we see evidence of the Viking invasions of Ireland a millennium ago even in the Irish of today Through engaging examination of issues such as these and using non technical language Reflections of Our Past shows how anthropologists use genetic information to suggest answers to fundamental questions about human history By looking at genetic variation in the world today and in the past we can reconstruct the recent and remote events and processes that have created the variation we see providing a fascinating reflection of our genetic past Daniels v. Canada Nathalie Kermoal, Chris Andersen, 2021-04-23 In Daniels v Canada the Supreme Court determined that M tis and non status Indians were Indians under section 91 24 of the Constitution Act 1867 one of a number of court victories that has powerfully shaped M tis relationships with the federal government However the decision and the case continues to reverberate far beyond its immediate policy implications Bringing together scholars and practitioners from a wide array of professional contexts this volume demonstrates the power of Supreme Court of Canada cases to directly and indirectly shape our conversations about and conceptions of what Indigeneity is what its boundaries are and what Canadians believe Indigenous peoples are owed Attention to Daniels v Canada s variegated impacts also demonstrates the extent to which the power of the courts extend and refract far deeper and into a much wider array of social arenas than we often give them credit for This volume demonstrates the importance of understanding law beyond its jurisprudential manifestations but it also points to the central importance of respecting the power of court cases in how law is carried out in a liberal nation state such as Canada Genetics and the Unsettled Past Keith Wailoo, Alondra Nelson, Catherine Lee, 2012-03-15 Our genetic markers have come to be regarded as portals to the past

Analysis of these markers is increasingly used to tell the story of human migration to investigate and judge issues of social membership and kinship to rewrite history and collective memory to right past wrongs and to arbitrate legal claims and human rights controversies and to open new thinking about health and well being At the same time in many societies genetic evidence is being called upon to perform a kind of racially charged cultural work to repair the racial past and to transform scholarly and popular opinion about the nature of identity in the present Genetics and the Unsettled Past considers the alignment of genetic science with commercial genealogy with legal and forensic developments and with pharmaceutical innovation to examine how these trends lend renewed authority to biological understandings of race and history This unique collection brings together scholars from a wide range of disciplines biology history cultural studies law medicine anthropology ethnic studies sociology to explore the emerging and often contested connections among race DNA and history Written for a general audience the book s essays touch upon a variety of topics including the rise and implications of DNA in genealogy law and other fields the cultural and political uses and misuses of genetic information the way in which DNA testing is reshaping understandings of group identity for French Canadians Native Americans South Africans and many others within and across cultural and national boundaries and the sweeping implications of genetics for society today

Biofictions Josie Gill, 2020-02-20 This book is open access and available on www.bloomsburycollections.com It is funded by Knowledge Unlatched Winner of the 2020 British Society for Literature and Science book prize In this important interdisciplinary study Josie Gill explores how the contemporary novel has drawn upon and intervened in debates about race in late 20th and 21st century genetic science Reading works by leading contemporary writers including Zadie Smith Kazuo Ishiguro Octavia Butler and Colson Whitehead Biofictions demonstrates how ideas of race are produced at the intersection of science and fiction which together create the stories about identity racism ancestry and kinship which characterize our understanding of race today By highlighting the role of narrative in the formation of racial ideas in science this book calls into question the apparent anti racism of contemporary genetics which functions narratively rather than factually or objectively within the racialized contexts in which it is embedded In so doing Biofictions compels us to rethink the long asked question of whether race is a biological fact or a fiction calling instead for a new understanding of the relationship between race science and fiction
