Feminine in Academe Linda Henderson, Alison L. Black, Susanne Garvis, 2020-05-13 This book engages expansively with the concept of motherhood in academia to offer insights into re imagining a more responsive higher education Written collaboratively as international interdisciplinary and intergenerational collectives the editors and contributors use various ways of understanding motherhood to draw attention to and disrupt the masculine structures currently defining women s lives and work in the academy Shifting the focus from patriarchal understandings of academe the narratives embrace and champion feminist and feminine scholarship The book invites the reader to question what can be conceived when motherhood is imagined more expansively through lenses traditionally silenced or made invisible This pioneering volume will be of interest and value to feminist scholars as well as those interested in disrupting patriarchal academic structures

Linguistic Ethnography Fiona Copland, Angela Creese, 2015-01-22 This is an engaging interdisciplinary guide to the unique role of language within ethnography. The book provides a philosophical overview of the field alongside practical support for designing and developing your own ethnographic research. It demonstrates how to build and develop arguments and engages with practical issues such as ethics, transcription and impact. There are chapter-long case studies based on real research that will explain key themes and help you create and analyse your own linguistic data. Drawing on the authors' experience, they outline the practical epistemological and theoretical decisions that researchers must take when planning and carrying out their studies. Other key features include: A clear introduction to discourse analytic traditions; Tips on how to produce effective field notes; Guidance on how to manage interview and conversational data; Advice on writing linguistic ethnographies for different audiences; Annotated suggestions for further reading; Full glossary. This book is a master class in understanding linguistic ethnography; it will be of interest to anyone conducting field research across the social sciences.

Voices from the Straw Mat Chan E. Park, 2003-02-28 From its humble straw mat origins to its paradoxical status as a national treasure, p ansori has survived centuries of change and remains the primary source of Korean narrative and poetic consciousness. In this innovative work, Chan Park celebrates her subject not as a static phenomenon but a living organic tradition adapting to an ever-shifting context. Drawing on her extensive literary and performance backgrounds, Park provides insights into the relationship between language and music, singing and speaking, and traditional and modern reception. Her performance-centered approach to p ansori informs the discussion of a wide range of topics, including the amalgamation of the dramatic, the narrative and the poetic, the invocation of traditional narrative in contemporary politics, the vocal construction of gender and the politics of preservation.

Governing Access to Essential Resources Katharina Pistor, Olivier De Schutter, 2015-12-08 Essential resources do more than satisfy people's needs. They ensure a dignified existence. Since the competition for essential resources, particularly fresh water and arable land, is increasing and standard legal institutions such as property rights and national border controls are strangling access to resources for some while delivering prosperity to others, many are searching for ways to ensure their fair distribution. This book argues that the division of essential resources ought to be governed by a combination of Voice and Reflexivity. Voice is the ability of social groups to choose the rules by which they are governed. Reflexivity is the opportunity to question one's own preferences in light of competing claims and to accommodate them in a collective learning process. Having investigated the allocation of essential resources in places as varied as Cambodia, China, India, Kenya, Laos, Morocco, Nepal, the arid American West and peri-urban areas in West Africa, the contributors to this volume largely concur with the viability of this policy and normative framework. Drawing on their expertise in law, environmental studies, anthropology, history, political science and economics, they weigh the potential of Voice and Reflexivity against such alternatives as pricing mechanisms, property rights, common resource management, political might or brute force.
