Reforming Asian Socialism The Growth Of Market Institutions:

Reforming Asian Socialism John McMillan, Barry Naughton, 1996 Examines the dramatic transformation of Asian communist countries China in particular to vigorous market economies REFORMING ASIAN SOCIALISM: GROWTH OF MARKET INSTITUTIONS. J; NAUGHTON MCMILLAN (B, (ED)), 1996 China's Transition to a Socialist Market Economy Osman Suliman, 1998-09-17 Exploring China's transition to a socialist market economy this book finds that the recent Chinese experience is unique and unprecedented It seems plausible that the distinctive characteristics of China's market reform have been a result of correcting the big bang approach of Eastern European countries and unique conditions that China possesses For instance China is endowed with a relatively high level of skilled labor and a large workforce Moreover China has been experimenting with reform and profit sharing for a number of years especially in the coastal provinces This book juxtaposes native Chinese experiences with those of academics in the U S It integrates the ideas of those living the experience in China with the perceptions of outside observers who might be able to offer constructive criticism The book covers various topics such as macroeconomic policy reform within economic sectors and strategies for sustainable development while making sure that the reader will not find it difficult to follow the process of reform and the main impediments that China may face Market Institutions in Sub-Saharan Africa Marcel Fafchamps, 2003-12-05 An analysis of recent data on the economic behavior of market institutions in sub Saharan Africa with implications for future research and current policy In Market Institutions in Sub Saharan Africa Marcel Fafchamps synthesizes the results of recent surveys of indigenous market institutions in twelve countries including Benin Ghana Kenya Madagascar Malawi and Zimbabwe and presents findings about economics exchange in Africa that have implications both for future research and current policy Employing empirical data as well as theoretical models that clarify the data Fafchamps takes as his unifying principle the difficulties of contract enforcement Arguing that in an unpredictable world contracts are not always likely to be respected he shows that contract agreements in sub Saharan Africa are affected by the absence of large hierarchies both corporate and governmental and as a result must depend to a greater degree than in more developed economies on social networks and personal trust Fafchamps considers policy recommendations as they apply to countries in three different stages of development countries with undeveloped market institutions like Ghana countries at an intermediate stage like Kenya and countries with developed market institutions like Zimbabwe Market Institutions in Sub Saharan Africa caps ten years of personal research by the author Fafchamps in collaboration with such institutions as the Africa Division of the World Bank and the International Food Policy Research Institute participated in the surveys of manufacturing firms and agricultural traders that provide the empirical basis for the book The result is a work that makes a significant contribution to research on the continuing economic stagnation of many countries in sub Saharan Africa and is also largely accessible to researchers in other fields and policy professionals China's Rural Market Development in the Reform Era Him Chung, 2017-11-30

The rural market in China is not only the venue where 60 per cent of the country's 1.3 billion inhabitants buy their daily necessities and sell agricultural products but also a key area of conflict between government control and liberalization policies. Previous research on the topic has adopted a purely economic perspective focusing on macro issues such as price control and grain procurement. This book focuses instead on peasants, the major participants in rural marketing activities. Illustrated by two comparative case studies with a diverse level of development from the Pearl River Delta, one of the most prosperous regions in coastal China, this book investigates the market hierarchy, its change of functions and the interactions between peasants and market outlets. In doing so, it shows how China's rural market district has changed since the Reform and how these changes affect the marketing activities of peasants.

The Political Economy of Asian Transition from Communism Sujian Guo, 2017-11-28. A comparative study of the political economy of the transition from communism in East and Southeast Asian countries: China, North Korea, Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia, addressing the key theoretical questions generated from the debate between shock therapists and gradualists. While accurately defining the pre-reform model, this book explores the causal variables that have contributed to reform efforts within Asia, examining the significance of the sequencing of political and economic transition and the interplay between politics and the economy in determining variations in transition outcomes. Comparing the real-world experiences of transition nations in communist Asia with Eastern Europe, prominent questions are brought to the fore: will market capitalism or market socialism prevail after the grand failure of communism? This book makes an important contribution to the political economy theory of comparative communist and post-communist studies and provides detailed analytical insights that will prove influential in future theoretical work.

Dynamics of Local Governance in China During the Reform Era Tse-Kang Leng, Yun-han Chu, 2009-12-23. Since the Chinese economic reform was realized in the early 1990s, a significant revolution has been launched socially, economically, and politically in China. At present, China is an indispensable actor in the international arena so that the transitions domestically bring about substantial influence on the whole world. Dynamics of Local Governance in China during the Reform takes close look at China's current transformation and its broader implications. Through their thought-provoking essays, the contributors to this volume dissect China's transformation by examining various topics in the field of contemporary China studies, such as rural industrialization, development of civic society, socio-economic transformation, and local self-governance.

The Political Economy of Agricultural and Food Policies Johan Swinnen, 2018-05-24. Winner of the European Association of Agricultural Economists Book Award. Food and agriculture have been subject to heavy-handed government interventions throughout much of history and across the globe, both in developing and in developed countries. Today more than half a trillion US dollars are spent by some governments to support farmers, while other governments impose regulations and taxes that hurt farmers. Some policies, such as price regulations and tariffs, distribute income but reduce total welfare by introducing economic distortions. Other policies, such as public investments in research, food standards or land reforms may increase total welfare but these policies come also with distributional effects. These distributional effects influence the preferences of interest groups and in turn influence policy decisions. Political considerations are therefore crucial to understand how agricultural and food policies are determined to identify the constraints within which welfare enhancing reforms are possible or not and finally to understand how coalitions can be created to stimulate growth and reduce poverty.

The Politics of Rural Reform in China Christian Göbel, 2010-06-10 Based on a treasure trove of information collected through fieldwork interviews and painstaking documentary research through the Chinese and Western language presses this book analyzes one of the most important reforms implemented in China over the past decade: the rural tax and fee reform, also known as the Third Revolution in the Countryside. The aim of the tax was to improve social stability in rural China, which has become increasingly shaken by peasant protests, many of them large scale and violent. By examining the gap between the intentions of the reform and the eventual outcomes, Göbel provides new insights into the nature of intergovernmental relations in China and highlights the ways in which the relationship between the state and the rural populace has fundamentally changed forever. The Politics of Rural Reform in China will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese politics, governance and development studies.

Russia's Agro-Food Sector Peter Wehrheim, Klaus Froberg, Eugenia Serova, Joachim von Braun, 2012-12-06 This book analyzes the transition of Russia's agro food sector from a centrally planned system to a market oriented one. The chapters set out to explain the initial conditions of transition, describe the measures undertaken, survey the current situation and offer perspectives on how best to continue with the reform. Hence the book not only provides insights into Russia's food economy, it also gives very valuable information about the process of transition and the question: What next? Within the Russian context, the food economy is of special importance due to the relatively high share it represents in the economy and its importance for employment. Furthermore, the privatization and the restructuring of the country's agro food sector is one of the most controversial issues in the ongoing domestic political debate about the reform process. Russia is also important in that its reintegration into the world economy is at stake.

Russia's Agro Food Sector Towards Truly Functioning Markets should increase the understanding of the issues causing the cumbersome implementation of reform measures and in so doing might provide scholars and policymakers with advice on how to improve the transition process. In fact, one of the most important lessons from the book is that markets will continue to malfunction as long as institutions are not functioning properly.

Privatization, Corporate Governance and the Emergence of Markets E. Rosenbaum, F. Bönker, H. Wagener, 2000-03-23 The volume focuses on privatisation in transition countries, addressing issues ranging from corporate governance to the relationship between privatisation and the emergence of markets from a multi disciplinary perspective. The contributors investigate both the theoretical groundwork of privatisation and enterprise restructuring as well as recent empirical evidence. The contributions show that changes in ownership titles are but one part of the story, being closely interwoven as they are with the transformation of corporate governance enterprise restructuring network transformation and the emergence of markets The Middle-Income Trap in Central and Eastern Europe Yaman Kouli,Uwe Müller,2023-11-10 Since the 1990s the economic development of Central and Eastern Europe has maintained high economic growth rates seemingly leading to an era of prosperity This very positive vision of future economic success linked to current political backlash and a long history of economic adversity is a thin veil of the economic way west for so called transition countries The Middle Income Trap in Central and Eastern Europe examines the reality of the diminishing marginal utility of further international investments alongside the pitfalls of higher government spending to cultivate innovation which ultimately makes foreign capital less attractive In this volume authors from diverse disciplinary perspectives reflect on current debates surrounding the developmental bottlenecks in East Central Europe Their common goal is to analyze the manner of socio economic transformation question of the relevance and impact of the middle income trap and identify possible ways to escape it China Review 1999 Chong Chor Lau,Xiao Geng,1999 China has made great success in improving its foreign relations with other countries in 1998 Jiang Zemin s visit to the United States and Japan clearly showed that China would continually uphold its open door policy and economic reform It is significant to most economic analysts that China has still recorded 7 8% economic growth under the Asian financial crisis China Review 1999 the ninth volume of this series is an expert survey of China s major sectors of interest which critically summarizes the development of the previous year in core chapters covering politics the economy and social change This volume has several in depth presentations on political and social economic issues such as the Sino U S relations Mainland Taiwan relations the economic performance of 1998 all major concerns to those interested in the development of the People s Republic Additional studies describe rarely featured areas of Chinese society China's Transition to a Global Economy Michael Webber,2002-12-13 How has China approached the global economy Webber Wang and Zhu attempt to answer this question through analysis of the concepts of globalization transition and regionalization China s approach has been experimental stressing the liberalization of trade and investment flows and the development of a market economy By these indexes globalization in China has been gradual and uneven Integrating Western social science and Chinese research this book assesses the nature and effect of globalization in China and its implications Capitalism in Crisis? Alexandra Vasileva-Dienes,2021-05-10 Worrisome recent economic downturns in Brazil Russia and even China occurred against the backdrop of domestic issues pertaining to patrimonialism corruption and informality Some economies of the European periphery also suffered from similar domestic issues and plunged into recession due to economic crisis and austerity policies implemented in its wake This book theorises and analyses the evolving nature of capitalism in emerging economies the BRICs and the European periphery in the face of pressures from globalisation and economic crises The volume seeks to make sense of these crises and their impact using the framework of comparative capitalism while testing its applicability beyond the advanced industrialised countries for which it was developed The authors draw on late Uwe Becker s open qualitative approach systematically integrating the state into the analysis and paying close attention to the role of changing ideas character of international integration leadership and informality The contributors analyse different responses to crises by the BRICs and countries of the Southern European periphery as well as respective dimensions of state business interaction The findings contribute to theorising varieties of capitalism beyond the OECD world and to developing a dynamic theory of capitalist change in the face of pressures from globalisation and economic crises The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Politics

Political Power and Economic Policy Gordon C. Rausser, Johan Swinnen, Pinhas Zusman, 2011-09-30 This book analyzes the links between political economics governance structures and the distribution of political power in economic policy making The book theoretically explains and empirically quantifies these interactions The analysis includes both public good policies and redistributive policies Part I of the book presents the conceptual foundations of political economic bargaining and interest group analysis After presenting the underlying theory Part II of the book examines ideology prescription and political power coefficients Part III analyzes a number of specific structures and Part IV presents a framework for political econometrics with a number of empirical applications and testable hypotheses In all four parts of the book four analytical dimensions of public policy are distinguished governance structures political economy mechanism design and incidence

Reaching for the Dream Melanie Beresford, Angie Ngoc Tran, 2004 Transition economies allow the study of fundamental questions about the nature of markets How do they arise and do they necessarily follow the same modus operandi as markets in other countries How does the opening of the economy to global market influences affect the process of institutional change This book focuses on the differentiated ways in which the double transition in Vietnam from central planning and from under development affects various sectors of the population

The Transformation of Rural China Jonathan Unger, 2016-09-16 During the past quarter century Jonathan Unger has interviewed farmers and rural officials from various parts of China in order to track the extraordinary changes that have swept the countryside from the Maoist era through the Deng era to the present day A leading specialist on rural China Professor Unger presents a vivid picture of life in rural areas during the Maoist revolution and then after the post Mao disbandment of the collectives This is a story of unexpected continuities amidst enormous change Unger describes how rural administrations retain Mao era characteristics despite the major shifts that have occurred in the economic and social hierarchies of villages as collectivization and class struggle gave way to the slogan to get rich is glorious A chapter explores the private entrepreneurship that has blossomed in the prosperous parts of the countryside Another focuses on the tensions and exploitation that have arisen as vast numbers of migrant laborers from poor districts have poured into richer ones. Another based on five months of travel by jeep into impoverished villages in the interior describes the dilemmas of underdevelopment still faced by many tens of millions of farmers and the ways in which government policies have inadvertently hurt their livelihoods.
