Refuge of Whirling Light Mary Beath, 2007-04 One bright winter afternoon along an empty New Mexico road Mary Beath discovered these inexplicable words painted on a peeling wooden sign Refuge of Whirling Light That moment could stand for what she offers the reader the pleasures and insights of the unexpected the sensations of freedom and belonging that have always drawn her to wander the land alone Beath's intensely visual story poems are utterly transporting taking you out to longed after landscapes and at the exact same time into the terrain of our hearts and souls In the tradition of other keen eyed gutsy women who have bound themselves to the Southwest Beath expresses for all of us men and women our desires for love and liberation and how the land every day if we watch closely offers us metaphors for both Susan J Douglas author of Where the Girls Are and The Mommy Myth Powered by a rigorously disciplined and analytical mind these poems are never content to dwell in mere description but press on into far more complex interrogations of the world's nature ecology and systems of knowledge Craig Watson author of True News and Free Will Although written about familiar places Chaco Canyon Abiquiu the Four Corners these poems chart a unique geography This is the terrain of wind singing frogs storms and changing light of risk and silence and sexual desire of that which is both wild and holy I love the unbounded gutsy weather of these poems Anne Batterson author of The Black Swan Refuge of Whirling Light Mary Beath, 2005 Beath s intensely visual story poems are utterly transporting taking you out to longed after landscapes and at the exact same time into the terrain of our hearts Susan J Douglas author of Where the Girls Are Rebirth of Wonder David M. to the natural world and other people The Southwest is the setting of her inquiry and her work is grounded in the rhythms of the natural world The poems have a guiet intensity about them that engages the reader Provided by publisher Margaret Randall, 2011-07-12 In this poetry collection Margaret Randall uses the metaphor of ruins to meditate on time s movement through memory through cities through the leavings of history and through the bodies of people who have experienced time s transformations and traumas Randall s ruins include not only Chaco Canyon Hovenweep Teotihuacan Machu Picchu Kiet Siel Petra and sites in ancient Greece and Egypt but also Auschwitz Birkenau and lives shattered by torture and oppression Always there is that moment of arrival as another reality rises before me superimposed upon the one I live today Sometimes the membrane is torn and I find myself moving in and out Boundaries dissolve A mysterious space between then and now warns as it invites promising revelation and maybe also fresh trauma if I am willing to risk its secrets Margaret Randall in the Introduction Losing the Ring in the River Marjorie Saiser, 2013-03-30 Spare and incisive the poems in Losing the Ring in the River deal with three strong women Clara Emma and Liz women who are tough often sassy and have dreams that aren't quelled by the realities they face Saiser deftly explores the undercurrents connecting three generations and is at her most powerful when she explores how lives are restricted and sometimes painfully damaged by what people cannot or will not share with one another Saiser's poetry is as harsh as it is beautiful she avoids resolutions and easy endings focusing instead on the small hard won victories that each woman experiences in her life and in her love of those around her City of Slow Dissolve John Chávez, 2012-09-15 Before recovery comes the preparation to recover In City of Slow Dissolve John Cha vez takes readers through this journey the slow dissolve the unpacking and re packing of self that must take place before healing can begin Fusing language poetry lyric and narrative Cha vez uses syntactical play rhythm and repetition of key words and lines to lend immediacy to emotions and actions He tips words and images on their heads and invites readers to reexamine people and places that are at once familiar and utterly unfamiliar Flirt Noah Blaustein, 2013-09-15 The narrator of these poems flirts constantly with women with physical danger with memory and grief with form and sound The poems are set in California and along the California border and a few poems reflect upon his wife s childhood in El Salvador Provided by publisher Begging for Vultures Lawrence Welsh, 2011-07-25 The poetry of Lawrence Welsh crosses many borders from South Central Los Angeles where he was raised to El Paso where he has lived for almost twenty years A newspaper man turned poet a punk rock songwriter who became an English teacher an Irishman at home in Texas Welsh gives voice to the famous the infamous and the forgotten Breaths Eleuterio Santiago-Díaz, 2012-03-15 Breaths is a poetic exploration of Budo the Japanese martial arts and Zen It delves into the relationship between these two traditions and projects their spirit onto the textures of everyday life The poems balance action energy meditation and contemplation on how to live attentively and actively in the world Accompanied by Yoshiko Shimano s eloquent prints these poems will energize and captivate readers while inviting them to seek their own paths to illumination In Company Lee
