Networks of Refugees from Nazi Germany, 2016-08-01 This volume focuses on coalitions and collaborations formed by refugees from Nazi Germany in their host countries Exile from Nazi Germany was a global phenomenon involving the expulsion and displacement of entire families organizations and communities While forced emigration inevitable meant loss of familiar structures and surroundings successful integration into often very foreign cultures was possible due to the exiles ability to access and or establish networks By focusing on such networks rather than on individual experiences the contributions in this volume provide a complex and nuanced analysis of the multifaceted interacting factors of the exile experience This approach connects the NS exile to other forms of displacement and persecution and locates it within the ruptures of civilization dominating the twentieth and twenty first centuries Contributors are Dieter Adolph Jacob Boas Margit Franz Katherine Holland Birgit Maier Katkin Leonie Marx Wolfgang Mieder Thomas Schneider Helga Schreckenberger Swen Steinberg Karina von Tippelskirch J rg Thuncke Jacqueline Vansant and Veronika Zwerger

Placeless People Lyndsey Stonebridge, 2018-11-10 In 1944 the political philosopher and refugee Hannah Arendt wrote Everywhere the word exile which once had an undertone of almost sacred awe now provokes the idea of something simultaneously suspicious and unfortunate Today s refugee crisis has its origins in the political and imaginative history of the last century Exiles from other places have often caused trouble for ideas about sovereignty law and nationhood But the meanings of exile changed dramatically in the twentieth century This book shows just how profoundly the calamity of statelessness shaped modern literature and thought For writers such as Hannah Arendt Franz Kafka W H Auden George Orwell Samuel Beckett Simone Weil among others the outcasts of the twentieth century raised vital questions about sovereignty humanism and the future of human rights Placeless People argues that we urgently need to reconnect with the moral and political imagination of these first chroniclers of the placeless condition

Refugee Imaginaries Emma Cox, 2019-11-01 Charts new directions for interdisciplinary research on refugee writing and representation Places refugee imaginaries at the centre of interdisciplinary exchange demonstrating the vital new perspectives on refugee experience available in humanities research Brings together leading research in literary performance art and film studies digital and new media postcolonialism and critical race theory transnational and comparative cultural studies history anthropology philosophy human geography and cultural politics The refugee has emerged as one of the key figures of the twenty first century This book explores how refugees imagine the world and how the world imagines them It demonstrates the ways in which refugees have been written into being by international law governmental and non governmental bodies and the media and foregrounds the role of the arts and humanities in imagining historicising and protesting the experiences of forced migration and statelessness Including thirty two newly written chapters on representations by and of refugees from leading researchers in the field Refugee Imaginaries establishes the case for placing the study of the refugee at the centre of contemporary critical enquiry Constructive Anarchy Jeff Shantz, 2016-05-23 Constructive Anarchy the result of more than a decade of direct study within a variety of anarchist projects provides the most wide ranging and detailed analysis of current anarchist endeavours The compelling discussions of anarchism and union organising anti poverty work and immigrant and refugee defence represent truly groundbreaking undertakings from a rising scholar of contemporary anarchism Organised to illustrate the development of the diversity of anarchist strategies and tactics over time the book begins with a discussion of alternative media projects before turning attention to anarchist involvement in broader community based movements Case studies include a discussion of anarchists and rank and file workplace organising anarchist anti borders struggles and No One Is Illegal movements in defence of immigrants and refugees since 9 11 and anarchist free schools and community centres Jeff Shantz s analysis demonstrates serious and grounded practices rooted in anarchist organising practices that may draw on previous traditions and practices but also innovate and experiment The varied selection of case studies allows the author to compare groups that are geared primarily towards anarchist and radical subcultures with anarchist involvement in more diverse community based coalitions an approach that is otherwise lacking in the literature on contemporary anarchism Refugees Dorothy Thompson, 1938 A call to alarm about the world s mounting refugee crisis Americans and the Holocaust Daniel Greene, Edward Phillips, 2021-11-30 This edited collection of more than one hundred primary sources from the 1920s 1930s and 1940s including newspaper and magazine articles popular culture materials and government records reveals how Americans debated their responsibility to respond to Nazism It includes valuable resources for students and historians seeking to shed light on this dark era in world history The Making of the Modern Refugee Peter Gatrell, 2013-09-13 The Making of the Modern Refugee is a comprehensive history of global population displacement in the twentieth century It takes a new approach to the subject exploring its causes consequences and meanings History the author shows provides important clues to understanding how the idea of refugees as a problem embedded itself in the minds of policy makers and the public and poses a series of fundamental questions about the nature of enforced migration and how it has shaped society throughout the twentieth century across a broad geographical area from Europe and the Middle East to South Asia South East Asia and sub Saharan Africa Wars revolutions and state formation are invoked as the main causal explanations of displacement and are considered alongside the emergence of a twentieth century refugee regime linking governmental practices professional expertise and humanitarian relief efforts This new study rests upon scholarship from several disciplines and draws extensively upon oral testimony eye witness accounts and film as well as unpublished source material in the archives of governments international organisations and non governmental organisations The Making of the Modern Refugee explores the significance that refugees attached to the places they left behind to their journeys and to their destinations in short how refugees helped to interpret and fashion their own history
