agricultural practices in Zambia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2021-10-14 This guide has been developed for extension officers in both the public and the private including those interested in agricultural development in Zambia The goal of this manual is to serve as a tool that allows readers to access up to date information about various agricultural practices and their advantages and disadvantages There are many organisations in Zambia that have programs that aim towards sustainable development in the agricultural sector Amongst these programs there are many different approaches to the goal of improving livelihoods Although these various programs have good reasons for promoting their specific methods this manual aims to take an independent stance to portray what all of them offer and why This manual also includes significant information about new approaches and traditional farmer practices or conventional farming methods The central theme in this manual is that there can never be only one way to achieve a goal under such diverse conditions as are found in agriculture Although a certain amount of benefit can be gained by rigid guidelines to agricultural practice for example a specific crop spacing tillage method or fertilizer recommendation the diverse factors that affect peoples decisions relate to economic social and environmental conditions make such guidelines impractical in many cases Market-Driven

Enhancement: Principles and Practices K. Vanangamudi, G. Sastry, S. Kalaivani, A. Selvakumari, M. Vanangamudi, P. Srimathi, 2010-03-01 Seed is the source of future plants or foods is the storage place of culture of history is the first link in the food chain is the ultimate symbol of food security Seed is the source of life Seeds are basic in crop production No agricultural practice can improve a crop beyond the limits set by the seed Quality seed is the key for successful agriculture which demands each and every seed should be readily germinable and produce a vigorous seedling ensuring high yield Care with the seed and joy with the harvest and Good seed doesn't cost it always pays are the popular adage which enlightens the importance of the quality seed. The farmers are always very much interested in the best seed management practices which are safe environmentally sound and scientifically proven technologies. Understandably in view of the importance of quality seeds in Agriculture both as a product and as a means of establishing a crop, most attention at all levels of investigation has been directed to crop seeds. Since seed is a biological entity, deterioration beyond harvest is inevitable. The consequences of low quality seeds are poor germination, low and delayed emergence and weak growth leading to poor field stand and ultimately reflecting on reduced yield. Low productivity could be attributed broadly to use of poor quality seeds. At present to overcome this, several seed enhancement techniques are available for quality upgradation. It has two goals: one is related to seed designing and other to seed functioning. The rationale for pre-sowing seed enhancement techniques is to mobilize the seeds' own resources and to augment them with external resources to get maximum improvement in field stand establishment and yield. To achieve this, several physical, physiological and biochemical treatments are available at present to give value addition to seeds. Physiological seed treatments that improve seed performance are based primarily on seed hydration and dehydration. Among several non-physiological seed treatments, coating or pelleting can also indirectly improve seed germination, stand establishment and crop productivity.
