Making Sense Essays On Art Science And Culture:

Making Sense Bob Coleman,2002 A cross disciplinary reader Making Sense teaches students how knowledge is constructed as well as communicated through the exploration of significant issues from across the curriculum Thirty eight contemporary essays drawn from the humanities social sciences and sciences demonstrate a range of methods to make sense Chapters 2 and 3 cover the writing process and research methods including database and Internet searches Part II contains the rich anthology of current essays alphabetically arranged with accompanying apparatus In Part III students put abstract concepts into practice by reevaluating previous readings or revisiting their earlier papers Part IV includes specially commissioned essays by professors on writing in their specific disciplines Making Sense Package Coleman,2005-04-01

Making Sense Bob Coleman,2006 This cross disciplinary reader gives students the opportunity to read and write about significant issues across the arts and sciences and to explore how knowledge is constructed and communicated Thirty eight contemporary essays are preceded by introductory chapters on writing and reading and are followed by assignment sequences that juxtapose three or more essays with a central theme Discussion library and Internet research and writing activities accompany each reading While the essays are arranged in alphabetical order the text also offers alternative thematic and disciplinary tables of contents The Second Edition of Making Sense presents works by well known authors such as Annie Dillard Gloria Anzaldua a bell hooks Lawrence Lessig Ralph Ellison and Nancy Sommers as well as selections by lesser known writers from a variety of fields New Students will be engaged by the variety of new readings by writers such as Dorothy Allison and Marita Sturken New images also appear throughout the text ranging from Depression era photos accompanying Dorothy Allison s essay to advertisements accompanying Stuart Ewen s essay on consumer style New Pre reading questions What Do You Know and What Do You Expect to Discover guide students to uncover what they already know about a topic so they can move with more confidence into their reading of the text These questions also help students anticipate key ideas and develop their own framework for understanding the readings New Updated post reading questions are now arranged in the following four categories Reading Rereading and Analysis Responding through Writing Building an Interpretation Going Further Learning from Other Sources and Applying What You ve Learned New Ten new assignment sequences invite students to read critically and to practice their revision skills Topics include History and Memory with selections from bell hooks Ralph Ellison and Julie Charlip and Images and Words with selections from Arlie Hochschild Richard Florida and Yi Fu Tuan This edition offers two appendices Making Sense through Research and Writing in the Disciplines a collection of five essays by academics and professionals on the value of effective writing in a variety of fields

Authenticity and Victimhood after the Second World War Randall Hansen,Achim Saupe,Andreas Wirsching,Daqing Yang,2021-09-23 This edited collection explores memories and experiences of genocide civilian casualties and other atrocities that occurred after the Second World War Making Sense Paul Thom,2000-02-22 Critics and artists including performing artists claim the title of interpreter for themselves Scientists do not so readily describe themselves in this way But is the formulation of explanatory hypotheses in science so different from the interpretive work of artists Making Sense recognizes that whenever interpretation occurs there may be a plurality of competing successful interpretations It offers a philosophical theory that views the interpretive enterprise as an attempt to make sense of things by representing them in ways that can be accommodated within various significance systems Sound Curriculum Walter S. Gershon,2017-06-26 Part of a growing group of works that addresses the burgeoning field of sound studies this book attends not only to theoretical and empirical examinations but also to methodological and philosophical considerations at the intersection of sound and education Gershon theoretically advances the rapidly expanding field of sound studies and simultaneously deepens conceptualizations and educational understandings across the fields of curriculum studies and foundations of education A feature of this work is the novel use of audio files aligned with the arguments within the book as well as the discussion and application of cutting edge qualitative research methods Selected Readings in the Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. Glazier,Charles A. Flowerday,2003-12-30 Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e g bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level Making Senses of the Past Jo Day,2013-03-19 Since the nineteenth century museums have kept their artifacts in glass cases to better preserve them and drawings and photographs have become standard ways of presenting the past These practices have led to an archaeology dominated by visual description even though human interaction with the surrounding world involves the whole body and all of its senses In the past few years sensory archaeology has become more prominent and Making Senses of the Past is one of the first collected volumes on this subject This book presents cutting edge research on new theoretical issues The essays presented here take readers on a multisensory journey around the world and across time In ancient Peru a site provides sensory surprises as voices resound beneath the ground and hidden carvings slowly reveal their secrets In Canada and New Zealand the flicker of reflected light from a lake dances on the faces of painted rocks and may have influenced when and why the pigment was applied In Mesopotamia vessels for foodstuffs build a picture of a past cuisine that encompasses taste and social activity in the building of communities While perfume and flowers are examined in various cultures in the chamber tombs of ancient Roman Palestine we are reminded that not all smells are pleasant Making Senses of the Past explores alternative ways to perceive past societies and offers a new way of wiring archaeology that incorporates the senses Raymond Williams's Sociology of Culture P. Jones,2003-12-19 This detailed study of Williams unlocks his late sociology of culture It covers previously overlooked aspects such as his critique of Birmingham cultural studies his use of an Adorno like approach to cultural production his social formalist alternative to structuralism and post structuralism and his approach to the media

Handbook of Social Theory George Ritzer,Barry Smart,2003-07-26 The Handbook of Social Theory presents an authoritative and panoramic critical survey of the development achievement and prospects of social theory

International Postmodernism Johannes Willem Bertens,Hans Bertens,Douwe Fokkema,1997 Containing more than fifty essays by major literary scholars International Postmodernism divides into four main sections The volume starts off with a section of eight introductory studies dealing with the subject from different points of view followed by a section that deals with postmodernism in other arts than literature while a third section discusses renovations of narrative genres and other strategies and devices in postmodernist writing The final and fourth section deals with the reception and processing of postmodernism in different parts of the world Three important aspects add to the special character of International Postmodernism The consistent distinction between postmodernity and postmodernism equal attention to the making and diffusion of postmodernism and the workings of literature in general and the focus on the text and the reader i e the reader s knowledge experience interests and competence as crucial factors in text interpretation This comprehensive study does not expressly focus on American postmodernism although American interpretations of postmodernism are a major point of reference The recognition that varying literary and cultural conditions in this world are bound to produce endless varieties of postmodernism made the editors Hans Bertens and Douwe Fokkema opt for the title International Postmodernism The

Critical Theory Ethics for Business and Public Administration David M. Boje, 2008-08-28 A volume in Ethics in Practice Series Editors Robert A Giacalone Temple University and Carole L Jurkiewicz Louisiana State University The purpose of this book is to develop ethical traditions based on Kant Horkheimer and others to extend beyond the level of individual behavior to address the social system level in business and public administration It is not enough to try to be good or ethical as individuals when it is systemic processes which are fostering unethical behavior Horkheimer's books Eclipse of Reason and Critique of Instrumental Reason and his early and now classic essay Materialism and Morality ask for a reformation of Kantian ethics The reform is sought because the categorical imperative within the context of an individualism capitalism serves to worsen the difference between business ethics and moral philosophy Therefore Horkheimer asks that the maxims that would be made universal would be done at the level of people organizing with others This is the level addressed in this volume as we seek to change the system that is producing and reproducing unethical behaviors

Posthumanist Learning Cathrine Hasse, 2020-01-03 In this text Hasse presents a new inclusive posthuman learning theory designed to keep up with the transformations of human learning resulting from new technological experiences as well as considering the expanding role of cyborg devices and robots in learning This ground breaking book draws on research from across psychology education and anthropology to present a truly interdisciplinary examination of the relationship between technology learning and humanity Posthumanism questions the self evident status of human beings by exploring how technology is changing what can be categorised as human In this book the author applies a posthumanist lens to traditional learning theory challenging conventional understanding of what a human learner is and considering how technological advances are changing how we think about this question Throughout the book Hasse uses vignettes of her own research and that of other prominent academics to exemplify what technology can tell us about how we learn and how this can be observed in real life settings Posthumanist Learning is essential reading for students and researchers of posthumanism and learning theory from a variety of backgrounds including psychology education anthropology robotics and philosophy

Science Serialized Geoffrey Cantor, Sally Shuttleworth, 2004-03-12 Essays examining the ways in which the Victorian periodical press presented the scientific developments of the time to general and specialized audiences Nineteenth century Britain saw an explosion of periodical literature with the publication of over 100 000 different magazines and newspapers for a growing market of eager readers The Victorian periodical press became an important medium for the dissemination of scientific ideas Every major scientific advance in the nineteenth century was trumpeted and analyzed in periodicals ranging from intellectual quarterlies such as the Edinburgh Review to popular weeklies like the Mirror of Literature from religious periodicals such as the Evangelical Magazine to the atheistic Oracle of Reason Scientific articles appeared side by side with the latest fiction or political reporting while articles on nonscientific topics and serialized novels invoked scientific theories or used analogies drawn from science The essays collected in Science

Serialized examine the variety of ways in which the nineteenth century periodical press represented science to both general and specialized readerships They explore the role of scientific controversy in the press and the cultural politics of publication Subject range from the presentation of botany in women s magazines to the highly public dispute between Darwin and Samuel Butler and from discussions of the mind body problem to those of energy physics Contributors include leading scholars in the fields of history of science and literature Ann B Shteir Jonathan Topham Frank A J L James Roger Smith Graeme Gooday Crosbie Smith Ian Higginson Gillian Beer Bernard Lightman Helen Small Gowan Dawson Jonathan Smith James G Paradis and Harriet Ritvo
