Making Sense In Life And Literature:

Making Sense in Life and Literature Hans Ulrich Gumbrecht, 1992 Making Sense of Life Stages, the Workplace and TMI Cynthia C. J. Shoemaker, 2013-07 This book offers a model for making sense of the Information Age and too much information in the workplace and in life stages The Sensemaking Flow Charts for handling Too Much Information and selecting alternatives are a sorting out approach that has been used in corporations and can also be applied to government agencies and military services seeking to better use information technology to find innovative approaches for problems and for new definitions of problems Popular author Thomas Friedman states that something big has happened in the world s wiring in the last ten years but it was obscured by the financial crisis and 9 11 We went from a connected world to a hyperconnected world He stated that Facebook Twitter 4G 5G Smart Phones iPads ubiquitous wireless and the cloud big data cellphone apps and Skype did not exist or were in their infancy a decade ago in Forbes May 2013 Making Sense of this and more is one s 21st Century task Hopefully overtime some of the dilemmas and chaos discussed in the corporate government and Defense Department chapters here will have been addressed and resolved Looking back in hindsight allows one to see possibilities that presented themselves even more clearly Applying the Making Sense Flow Chart to various known and difficult stages in the growing to adulthood years also was helpful to parents and to older children in the transition stages appearing in child and young adult development The charts for the transition age stages in today s world with information overload appear at the beginning of each chapter The response to each chart by readers has been This has been very helpful

Philosophy, Literature and the Human Good Michael Weston, 2003-09-02 In this provocative new examination of the philosophical moral and religious significance of literature Michael Weston explores the role of literature in both analytic and continental traditions He initiates a dialogue between them and investigates the growing importance of these issues for major contemporary thinkers Each chapter explores a philosopher or literary figure who has written on the relation between literature and the good life such as Derrida Kierkegaard Murdoch and Blanchot Challenging and insightful Philosophy Literature and the Human Good is ideal for all students of philosophy and literature One Man's Quest: Making Sense of Life Brian Bridges, 2010-09-06 A sincere and thorough exploration by the author to make sense of a world full of overwhelming amounts of information and conflicting belief systems Who is telling the truth Which religion is the right one What does the Bible tell us Who are we By peering into the author s world view we develop our own sense of ourselves we appreciate life more and we make peace with many important areas of internal conflict Making Sense of Life Evelyn Fox KELLER, Evelyn Fox Keller, 2009-06-30 What do biologists want How will we know when we have made sense of life Explanations in the biological sciences are provisional and partial judged by criteria as heterogenous as their subject matter This text accounts for this diversity Temporality in Life As Seen Through Literature Anna-Teresa

Tymieniecka, 2007-05-09 Temporality pervades the dynamic joint of existence and the human being as such As human beings unfold through ontopoiesis each move of which punctuates the temporality of life they whose life experience deliberation planning reflection and dreaming are permeated by temporal motivations and concerns feel that they are engaged in the spinning of a common thread Attributing to that involvement universal laws constant existential validity and power they absolutise hypostasise its rule as a cosmic human factor time Yet today technologies are transforming the temporality of our existence by accelerating intensifying expanding our partaking in the world of life Human communal and social involvement is being challenged in its personal significance to the core of our being What happens to time A basic reinvestigation of the nature of temporality is called for Human creative endeavor especially literature may initiate it Having the human subject the creator at its center literature is essentially engaged in temporality whether that of the mind or of the world of life through the creative process of writing stage directing or the reader s and viewer s reception Out of the cross motivations that the creative mind filters in its temporal synthesis in touch with all the perspectives of existence there surges the deepest significance of life in humanity and culture But first of all life comes to light as timing itself in its logos Tymieniecka

Teaching Character Education through Literature Karen Bohlin, 2005-05-03 This book shows how secondary and post secondary teachers can help students become more responsive to the ethical themes and questions that emerge from the narratives they study It helps teachers to integrate character education into the classroom by focusing on a variety of ways of drawing instructive insights from fictional life narratives The case studies and questions throughout are designed to awaken students moral imagination and prompt ethical reflection on four protagonists motivations aspirations and choices The book is divided into two parts The first provides a theoretical approach while the second features case studies to apply this approach to the study of four literary characters Sydney Carton from Tale of Two Cities Jay Gatsby from The Great Gatsby Elizabeth Bennet from Pride and Prejudice Janie Crawford from Their Eyes Were Watching God The questions ideas and approaches used in these case studies can also be applied to protagonists from other narrative works in the curriculum

Making Sense Ralf Hertel, 2021-07-26 Fiction is fascinating All it provides us with is black letters on white pages yet while we read we do not have the impression that we are merely perceiving abstract characters Instead we see the protagonists before our inner eye and hear their voices Descriptions of sumptuous meals make our mouths water we feel physically repelled by depictions of violence or are aroused by the erotic details of sexual conquests We submerge ourselves in the fictional world that no longer stays on the paper but comes to life in our imagination Reading turns into an out of the body experience or rather an in another body experience for we perceive the portrayed world not only through the protagonist s eyes but also through his ears nose tongue and skin In other words we move through the literary text as if through a virtual reality How does literature achieve this trick How does it turn mere letters into vividly experienced worlds This study argues that techniques of sensuous writing contribute decisively to bringing the text to life in the reader s imagination In detailed interpretations of British novels of the 1980s and 1990s by writers such as John Berger John Banville

Salman Rushdie Jeanette Winterson or J M Coetzee it uncovers literary strategies for turning the sensuous experience into words and for conveying it to the reader demonstrating how we make sense in and of literature Both readers interested in the contemporary novel and in the sensuousness of the reading experience will profit from this innovative study that not only analyses the interest of contemporary authors in the senses but also pin points literary entry points for the sensuous force of reading

Making Sense Of: Health, Illness and Disease ,2021-10-25 Health illness and disease are topics well suited to interdisciplinary inquiry This book brings together scholars from around the world who share an interest in and a commitment to bridging the traditional boundaries of inquiry We hope that this book begins new conversations that will situate health in broader socio cultural contexts and establish connections between health illness and disease and other socio political issues This book is the outcome of the first global conference on Making Sense of Health Illness and Disease held at St Catherine s College Oxford in June 2002 The selected papers pursue a range of topics from the cultural significance of narratives of health illness and disease to healing practices in contemporary society as well as patients illness experiences Researchers and health care practitioners now live in the age of interdisciplinarity which has transformed both health care delivery and research on health The essays in this collection transcend the traditional boundaries of biomedicine and draw attention to the many ways in which health is embedded in socio cultural norms and how these norms in turn shape health practices and health care This volume is of interest not only to researchers but also to those delivering health care

Re-visioning Gender in Philosophy of Religion Pamela Sue Anderson,2012 Unearthing the ways in which the myths of Christian patriarchy have historically inhibited and prohibited women from thinking and writing their own ideas this book covers fresh ground for revisioning the epistemic practices of philosophers Anderson seeks both to draw out the salient threads in the gendering of philosophy of religion as it has been practiced and to revision gender for philosophy today

At the End of the Day... . Does Life Really Make Sense? J. F. Godoy,2009-02-06 J F Godoy was born in 1950 in Chile He has been living in Canada for a long period of time He has had to face a rather complicated life which has made him wonder why as he did not ask to be born The son of a modest family he has struggled to survive in this world in which the only thing is certain for the human being is death

Making Sense of Nietzsche Richard Schacht,1995 In these essays by an acclaimed Nietzsche scholar Nietzsche emerges as no mere polemicist and iconoclast but rather as a genuine philosopher one of those rare thinkers whose thought opens the way to new understanding of things of great importance particularly with respect to human life and its enhancement Clearly explains some of the debates in Nietzsche scholarship Schacht does much to avoid professional tunnel vision and invite nonprofessionals to think about Nietzsche Kathleen Higgins author of Nietzsche s Zarathustra An excellent summary and response to the current Nietzsche wars I like the way that Schacht personally attempts to expound and explain Nietzsche and take on various would be experts and mistaken commentators Robert C Solomon Quincy Lee Centennial Professor University of Texas

To Think Frank Smith,2014-04-04 One of the central questions facing anyone involved in education is can you actually teach anyone to think To begin to answer this question it is necessary to know what thinking means Frank Smith is one of the most influential writers in education today His work on reading in particular has had a seminal effect on classroom practice throughout the English speaking world At the core of all his work has been this issue of the nature of thought In this book he analyses the language of thinking and then moves on to look at different aspects of the thinking process everyday thought creative and critical thought Finally he looks critically at the various methods currently advocated for teaching children to think arguing that learning to think is in the end less a matter of instruction than of experience and opportunity Making Sense of Human Life Catherine M. Rakow, 2022-07-29

Drawing from rich archival material this book provides unprecedented access to the professional documents and historical context surrounding the life s work of Dr Murray Bowen 1913 1990 medical doctor psychiatrist and pioneering researcher of Family Systems Theory To understand the origins and evolution of this theory Catherine Rakow explores Bowen s early years as a psychiatrist at the Menninger Foundation at which time he became curious about the possibility of determining a factual basis for psychoanalytic theory and explains how this research would foreground Bowen s lifelong study of the family unit at the National Institute of Mental Health From those seminal years of study and observation Rakow explains how Bowen developed Family Systems Theory A theory of human functioning that conceives of family as a naturally occurring regenerating system Rakow s close engagement with Bowen s practice and influences at this time allows for a fulsome account of the research process that Bowen undertook to develop this innovatory approach In this book Rakow demonstrates the value of Bowen s work as a model and research methodology for those exploring the role of theory in improving family relationships making it essential reading for marriage and family therapists mental health professionals students those interested in the history of medicine and curious individuals alike Essays in Literary Aesthetics Ranjan K.

Ghosh, 2018-10-10 The book deals with philosophical issues concerning the understanding of the literary text and its distinctive nature meaning and relevance to life It also provides an occasion to revisit many of the seminal ideas towards these ends by contextualizing them in the current ongoing philosophical discourse on art in general and literary art in particular Some of the questions addressed in this book are What is a literary text What do we understand by the concept of intention in the context of literary arts Are the feelings experienced in a literary text real What then is the sense of truth in literature which is fictional in character What relevance do moral concerns and perceptions have in appreciation of the literary text These are some of the seminal questions that are dealt with by critically responding to views of contemporary thinkers In short the book makes an attempt to provide a critical overview of contemporary debates and discussions of literary aesthetics mainly from a Western analytical perspective The author argues that understanding a literary text is not a purely cognitive exercise on the contrary we experience aesthetic meaning or truth in terms of valuable insights that play a role in our understanding of life and emotions This book is useful for scholars researchers and students of philosophy and literature interested in aesthetics Real Life Writings in American Literary Journalism: a Narratological Study Gurpreet Kaur, 2015-07-24 This referential collection of essays is an important guide to the emergence and development of literary journalism through the centuries The book begins with the defining of genres literature and journalism which blur the lines between them It also gives an insight into the theories of narratology Some practitioners included in this book are great American writers like John Hersey Truman Capote Norman Mailer and Don DeLillo These literary journalists bring to life both major as well trivial issues of the society New journalists coalesce all the fictional techniques with the journalistic methods to present a unique and sophisticated style which requires extensive research and even more careful reporting than done in the typical news articles The book closes with the concluding thoughts followed by list of works cited The Secret Life of Literature Lisa Zunshine, 2022-03-15 An innovative account that brings together cognitive science ethnography and literary history to examine patterns of mindreading in a wide range of literary works For over four thousand years writers have been experimenting with what cognitive scientists call mindreading constantly devising new social contexts for making their audiences imagine complex mental states of characters and narrators In The Secret Life of Literature Lisa Zunshine uncovers these mindreading patterns which have until now remained invisible to both readers and critics in works ranging from The Epic of Gilgamesh to Invisible Man Bringing together cognitive science ethnography and literary studies this engaging book transforms our understanding of literary history Central to Zunshine's argument is the exploration of mental states embedded within each other as for instance when Ellison's Invisible Man is aware of how his white Communist Party comrades pretend not to understand what he means when they want to reassert their position of power Paying special attention to how race class and gender inform literary embeddings Zunshine contrasts this dynamic with real life patterns studied by cognitive and social psychologists She also considers community specific mindreading values and looks at the rise and migration of embedding patterns across genres and national literary traditions noting particularly the use of deception eavesdropping and shame as plot devices Finally she investigates mindreading in children's literature Stories for children geared toward different stages of development she shows provide cultural scaffolding for initiating young readers into a long term engagement with the secret life of literature Making a Literary Life Carolyn See, 2007-12-18 As Carolyn See says writing guides are like preachers on Sunday there may be a lot of them but you can't have too many and there's always an audience of the faithful And while Making a Literary Life is ostensibly a book that teaches you how to write it really teaches you how to make your interior life into your exterior life how to find and join that community of like minded souls you're sure is out there somewhere Carolyn See distills a lifetime of experience as novelist memoirist critic and creative writing professor into this marvelously engaging how to book Partly the nuts and bolts of writing plot point of view character voice and partly an inspirational guide to living the life you dream of Making a Literary Life takes you from the decision to become a writer to three months after the publication of your first book A combination of writing and life strategies do not tell everyone around you how you yearn to be a writer send a charming note to someone you admire in the industry five days a week every week for the rest of your life find the perfect characters right in front of you Making a Literary Life is for people not usually considered part of the literary loop the non East Coasters the secret scribblers With sagacity a magical sense of humor and an abiding belief in the possibilities offered to ordinary people living ordinary lives Carolyn See has summed up her life s work in a book so beguiling irreverent and giddily inspiring that you won t even realize it s changing your life until it already has

Making Sense of the Life and Works of Carlos Castaneda F. Fleming, 2018-08-04 The Teachings of Don Juan A Yaqui Way of Knowledge purportedly a legitimate work of anthropology describing author Carlos Castaneda s apprenticeship to a Mexican Indian sorcerer was first published in 1968 and was followed by eleven more books by this author All of his books achieved a very wide readership To the dismay of many of his devoted readers however Castaneda has been shown to have been a charlatan arguably the most infamous charlatan of the twentieth century But what if the Mexican sorcerer Juan Matus with whom Castaneda claimed he had studied were shown to have been a real person I believe the circumstantial evidence strongly suggests that he was Might these books not be read or reread with replenished interest and purpose

Life Writing as World Literature Helga Lenart-Cheng, Ioana Luca, 2025-05-01 A global array of contributors explore the interplay between translation and circulation mediums and materialities and aesthetics and politics in how life writing is shaped by and becomes world literature We live in the age of popular self representation in that most people around the globe either produce or consume autobiographical material memoirs selfies blogs etc The current volume investigates this global phenomenon and examines how life writing and world literature converge Why do some personal stories get picked up translated circulated and taught in classrooms while others remain moored in local waters Do autobiographical stories that travel widely have something in common about them Or is it the other way around is it our notion of world literature that imposes uniform expectations on these diverse texts And what can we gain from studying these two fields in conjunction Life Writing as World Literature brings together experts who map regional and local autobiographical traditions from six continents These scholars explore the dynamic interplay between local and global aesthetics and sociopolitical concerns presenting case studies that include prison narratives from communist regimes Japanese diaries multilingual Caribbean memoirs Indian auto biographical comics and stories by Taiwanese domestic workers To understand how and why some personal stories enter global dissemination contributors inquire into translation market mechanisms and circulation patterns while also exploring the affordances of new media and materialities when recording contemporary lives Life Writing as World Literature brings a fresh perspective to both fields world literature and life writing opening up exciting avenues of research
