Making The Grade In College:

Making the Grade Howard S. Becker, 2017-07-05 Based on three years of detailed anthropological observation this account of undergraduate culture portrays students academic relations to faculty and administration as one of subjection With rare intervals in crisis moments student life has always been dominated by grades and grade point averages The authors of Making the Grade maintain that though it has taken different forms from time to time the emphasis on grades has persisted in academic life From this premise they argue that the social organization giving rise to this emphasis has remained remarkably stable throughout the century Becker Geer and Hughes discuss various aspects of college life and examine the degree of autonomy students have over each facet of their lives Students negotiate with authorities the conditions of campus political and organizational life the student government independent student organizations and the student newspaper and preserve substantial areas of autonomous action for themselves Those same authorities leave them to run such aspects of their private lives as friendships and dating as they wish But when it comes to academic matters students are subject to the decisions of college faculties and administrators Becker deals with this continuing lack of autonomy in student life in his new introduction He also examines new phenomena such as the impact of grade inflation and how the world of real adult work has increasingly made professional and technical expertise in addition to high grades the necessary condition for success Making the Grade continues to be an unparalleled contribution to the studies of academics students and college life It will be of interest to university administrators professors students and sociologists

Young,Kristen Bonanno-Sotiropoulos,Jennifer A. Smolinski,2018-03-02 Designed to be a valuable resource this book provides educators administrators practitioners and families with a clear understanding of how to meet the instructional emotional and social needs of students with learning disabilities Readers will benefit from the extensive research provided and will gain an appreciation for the importance of collaboration creating safe and supportive learning environments as well as effectively implementing interventions Making the Grade with A+DD Stephanie Sarkis,2008 From the author of the successful 10 Simple Solutions to Adult ADD Stephanie Moulton Sarkis Making the Grade with ADD offers college students tips they can use to succeed in all aspects of college life including academics money management health issues relationships with friends and intimates and planning for the future Making the Grade Martin V. Covington,1992-04-24 Achievement behaviour in schools can best be understood in terms of attempts by students to maintain a positive self image For many students trying hard is frightening because a combination of effort and failure implies low ability which is often equated with worthlessness Thus many students described as unmotivated are in actuality highly motivated not to learn but to avoid failure Students have a variety of techniques for avoiding failure ranging from cheating to setting low goals which are easily achieved In Making the Grade Martin Covington extracts powerful educational implications from self worth theory and other contemporary views of motivation that will be useful for everyone concerned with the educational dilemmas we face He provides a comprehensive insightful review of research and theory both contemporary and historical on the topic of achievement motivation and arranges this knowledge in ways that lead to imminently practical recommendations for restructuring schools Making the Grade Barb Owen,2021-07-23 In the early 1900s a student with two years of high school could attend Ellensburg Normal School for one academic year pass an examination and receive a teaching certificate Elsie Hodgson did just that In response to her application the clerk of the Tarpiscan School wrote You can teach our school Sharpen up your six shooter we got some ornery kids in these parts Ready for adventure she accepted the offer and found kind hospitable people who treated her with respect and affection In Making the Grade thirteen former Kittitas country schoolmarms reflect fondly on their days of teaching in remote locales between 1914 and 1939 Usually their classes were small with multiple grade levels in a single room and the new educators also served as janitors fire builders cooks and water haulers They reported few difficulties with discipline The schools often functioned as hubs for their communities and popular social activities included holiday programs plays spelling bees box socials picnics and dances The young women confronted numerous challenges For most it was their first job They were away from friends and family They lacked supplies For several the experience also was an introduction to country life Elsie Hodgson learned to ride a horse Helen Donald Hadley s students showed her how to harvest wild onions that grew among rocks behind her schoolhouse Emma Darter Utz rejected the idea of a field trip coyotes and cougars prowled too near her school Others contended with mischievous pet monkeys and swarms of bees Facing these ordeals with creativity dedication and pluck they enhanced the lives of many children and earned the adoration of their rural populations

Making the Grade Mark Pruitt,2010-08 Want to dominate your college classes Making the Grade can help you learn more effectively earn killer grades and help you have an awesome college experience These short easy to read lessons can improve the way you take notes The way you study And The way you use your time When Mark Pruitt followed these techniques he made a 95% or higher in every class Let Mark help you get the most out of your college years TODAY

Making the Grade Howard S. Our Schools and Universities Have Made the Grade ,1997 Making the Grade Tony Wagner,2003-12-16 This book provides a guide for a long overdue public dialogue about why and how we need to reinvent our nation s schools How has the world changed for our children what do all students need to know in light of these changes how do we hold students and schools accountable for results what do good schools look like and what must leaders do to create more of these schools These are some of the questions that drive this book The answers emerging to these questions may surprise many The most successful public schools of the 21st century look a lot more like our 19th century village schools than our current factory model of schooling This book describes these new village schools that have been created in the last decade and suggests that they are a prototype for the schools of the future

Making the Grade Bill Jones,1990 The focus here is on the production of high quality written work and the essential skills for good writing understanding assignments planning essays and clear thinking grammar and punctuation appreciation of written style tackling exam questions This and the first volume on orienting oneself as a student verbal communication and listening reading and note taking offer practical help for adults returning to school Distributed by St Martin s Press Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Development Asia—Making the Grade? Asian Development Bank,2011-06-01 Education attacks poverty at its roots laying the groundwork for achieving all development goals Teaching children to read and write for example not only improves their employment prospects but also better attunes them to their country s development goals all of which depend on disseminating important information to be successful As such literacy is the foundational cornerstone for development This edition of Development Asia takes stock of the region s successes and remaining challenges in the education sector The issue looks at different approaches to reform the educational system to advance national interests from building elite universities to strengthening vocational programs A story on the Republic of Korea relates efforts of the state to wean students overdependence on private tutoring which is jacking up the cost of education Preparing for a Windfall talks about how Mongolia is consolidating its economic gains by investing in schools even in the Gobi Desert

Making the Grade William A. Fischel,2009-11-15 A significant factor for many people deciding where to live is the quality of the local school district with superior schools creating a price premium for housing The result is a race to the top as all school districts attempt to improve their performance in order to attract homebuyers Given the importance of school districts to the daily lives of children and families it is surprising that their evolution has not received much attention In this provocative book William Fischel argues that the historical development of school districts reflects Americans desire to make their communities attractive to outsiders The result has been a standardized interchangeable system of education not overly demanding for either students or teachers one that involved parents and local voters in its governance and finance Innovative in its focus on bottom up processes generated by individual behaviors rather than top down decisions by bureaucrats Making the Grade provides a new perspective on education reform that emphasizes how public schools form the basis for the localized social capital in American towns and cities

Making a Grade James Elwick,2021-03-18 Making a Grade takes historiographic and sociological perspectives developed to understand large scale scientific and technical systems and uses them to highlight the standardization that went into standardized testing

Making the Grade Nicholas Mocciolo,2013 The single source reference on career advancement and exam taking skills for wherever you are in the exam process The author shares a wealth of practical tips and techniques to increase your probability of passing every exam on your first try just as he did Information on actuarial organizations in the U S and Canada to help you navigate their educational programs and better understand possible career options and paths A review of communications and leadership skills that will make you more marketable and facilitate your rise to the top Specifically targeted to actuarial students Please note there are no returns on the digital version The content of this volume will be found indispensable to anyone embarking upon a daunting process which is likely to devour a significant part of young adulthood It should be included as no less a part of the employment package for an aspiring actuary than fringe benefit descriptions and a W 4 form Robert W Batten FSA Professor Emeritus of Actuarial Science Georgia State University This is the only book on the market that directly addresses how to successfully navigate the entire actuarial exam system Students who read this book are likely both to improve their pass rate on exams and to experience less anxiety both before and after exam day Robin Cunningham Ph D FSA Co Author Models for Quantifying Risk Given that you can spend over 300 hours studying for just one actuarial examination it is well worth an investment of two to three hours to read this fine summary of how to study for and write actuarial exams Written in an easy style this book is full of sound suggestions to improve your efficiency on these trying examinations Not only that but if you follow the advice given faithfully it could just make the difference between receiving a six versus a five Robert L Brown Ph D FSA FCIA ACAS Professor Emeritus University of Waterloo President Society of Actuaries 2000 2001 I am impressed with the information and insight that you provided in the book Your book gave me hope I will be using your advice in the future I especially liked your insight on communication and leadership skills After reading your book I am confident that I have a bright future in the field Thank you so much for boosting my confidence Kiran Actuarial Student

Why Your Child Isn't Making the Grade Alton Maxel James Iv, 2012-11 Why Your Child Isn't Making the Grade is a refreshingly new take on education Alton James guides the reader through a comprehensive look at various factors that influence education today In providing his new take on education he first outlines historical factors that impede educational success today He then navigates through the world of education and the systemic barriers that continue to be problematic Lastly Mr James delves into the personal lives of people in society by providing riveting anecdotal accounts of experiences on the front lines of education Yet he saves his most compelling argument until the end Brace yourself for the coup de grace as to why your child isn't making the grade

Making the Grade Kevin A. Morrison, 2021-07-01 From a cultural history of the essay to incisive contemporary rethinking of its usefulness in the classroom from guides on how to write a seminar paper to guides on how to assess them Making the Grade offers desperately needed clarity on a complex genre The contributions in this book should be standard for every first semester graduate student and every first semester professor who wants to prepare undergraduates for graduate level writing or who wants to prepare graduate students for professional publication Making the Grade in College Kenneth A. Green, 1990 Recent college graduates offer practical tips on how to study pass exams write papers choose courses and overcome the major pitfalls of college life the easy way How to Get the Grade Without Doing the Work Charles Lanham, 2010-08-10 The one problem all students run into while they prepare for a test is not what you might think You might naturally assume that the problem is one of memory i.e remembering the answers to the test but the real problem is what I call the Situation Effect In laymen terms our intelligence is composed of two halves the first being genetic the second being environmental e.g diet sleep sociability etc and these two halves come together to form our current situation Therefore effects on either of these halves can help make or break our grades The only way to improve your situation is to learn how to make your brain happy and comfortable because when youre sad or stressed you will not function as well In fact some people are physically disfigured to a certain degree because they endured so much trial In this state of mind motor skills are frustrated and do not function like they should Also because of provoking anxiety ability to fight disease is infringed Above all your focus drive to succeed and mental activity are all incredibly bankrupt When theyre bad enough it feels like they dont even exist Therefore if you keep yourself as happy as possible you will study more effectively
