Making The Most Of Life:

Making Life a Masterpiece Orison Swett Marden, 1916 Making Sense of Journals in the Life Sciences Tony Stankus, 1992 Looks at scientific journals in the life sciences to explain their variety Written to aid those who see their budgets decreasing while the price of serials increases this guide describes the life science journals comparing the leading titles via competitive advantages and cost efficiency Making a Life Hannah J Dawson, 2025-05 Making a Life explores the dynamic everyday life making strategies of young men in Zandspruit a sprawling informal settlement on the outskirts of Johannesburg In many ways Zandspruit typifies the precariousness of life within South Africa where two thirds of young people lack waged employment However rather than seeing Zandspruit as dumping ground Hannah Dawson calls for an integrated understanding of the complex linkages between people's lives and livelihoods and the multifaceted socio political landscape of urban settlements Based on 14 months of ethnographic research Dawson investigates how social belonging identity and economic realities intertwine in places such as Zandspruit This approach not only challenges conventional approaches to studying work it also questions the increasingly prevalent perspective that romanticises the adaptive survival strategies of the urban poor By exploring the intricate connections between those with and without wages the author shows how young men manage complex social political and economic conditions Making a Life offers insights into issues such as urban work citizenship under employment and inequality in South Africa At the same time it contributes to a global understanding of how young people men especially manage economic uncertainty End-of-Life Care and Pragmatic Decision Making D. Micah Hester, 2010 This book provides a pragmatic philosophical framework based on a radically empirical attitude toward life and death Making Sense of Everyday Life Susie Scott, 2009-07-27 Student friendly introduction to the sociology of everyday life Introduces in very accessible style the various theories used to interpret our everyday actions that on the surface of things might look mundane Making Life Better James VanDenburg, 2011-09 Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr once said A mind stretched by a new idea can never go back to its original dimensions For a control freak like myself this is no small matter Making Life Better is an invitation to own our part of our making and embrace our unique opportunities to make our lives better It's about making routine and daily choices of action reaction thought and feeling more profoundly connected to who we are what we desire and what's most important to us It's an invitation to turn off our autopilot setting and allow our sense of purpose identity and direction to break into our lives with greater wisdom clarity and intention It's a recognition that a meaningful fulfilling and happy life is really nothing more though certainly nothing less than a very long series of meaningful fulfilling and happy moments How we experience each of those moments is always completely within us Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America Elizabeth Fraterrigo, 2009-11-05 Launched by Hugh Hefner in 1953 Playboy promoted an image of the young affluent single male the man about town ensconced in a plush bachelor pad in constant pursuit of female companionship and a good time Spectacularly successful this high gloss portrait of glamorous living and sexual adventure would eventually draw some one million readers each month Exploring the world created in the pages of America's most widely read and influential men's magazine Elizabeth Fraterrigo sets Playboy's history in the context of a society in transition Sexual mores gender roles family life notions of consumption and national purpose all were in flux as Americans adjusted to the prosperity that followed World War II Initially Playboy promised only entertainment for men but Fraterrigo reveals that its vision of abundance pleasure and individual freedom soon placed the magazine at the center of mainstream debates about sex and freedom politics and pleasure in postwar America She shows that for Hugh Hefner the good life meant the playboy life in which expensive goods and sexually available women were plentiful obligations were few and if one worked hard enough one could enjoy abundant leisure and consumption In support of this view Playboy attacked early marriage traditional gender arrangements and sanctions against premarital sex The magazine also promoted private consumption as a key to economic growth and national well being offering tips from The Playboy Advisor on everything from high end stereos and cuff links to caviar and wine If we want to understand post war America Fraterrigo shows we must pay close attention to Playboy its messages about pleasure and freedom the debates it inspired and the criticism it drew all of which has been bound up in the popular culture and consumer society that surround us
