Making Worship Real:

Get Real, by R. LaMont Smith II, D.Min., How God Becomes Real T.M. Luhrmann, 2022-04-26 The hard work required to make God real how it changes the people who do it and why it helps explain the enduring power of faith How do gods and spirits come to feel vividly real to people as if they were standing right next to them Humans tend to see supernatural agents everywhere as the cognitive science of religion has shown But it isn't easy to maintain a sense that there are invisible spirits who care about you In How God Becomes Real acclaimed anthropologist and scholar of religion T M Luhrmann argues that people must work incredibly hard to make gods real and that this effort by changing the people who do it and giving them the benefits they seek from invisible others helps to explain the enduring power of faith Drawing on ethnographic studies of evangelical Christians pagans magicians Zoroastrians Black Catholics Santeria initiates and newly orthodox Jews Luhrmann notes that none of these people behave as if gods and spirits are simply there Rather these worshippers make strenuous efforts to create a world in which invisible others matter and can become intensely present and real The faithful accomplish this through detailed stories absorption the cultivation of inner senses belief in a porous mind strong sensory experiences prayer and other practices Along the way Luhrmann shows why faith is harder than belief why prayer is a metacognitive activity like therapy why becoming religious is like getting engrossed in a book and much more A fascinating account of why religious practices are more powerful than religious beliefs How God Becomes Real suggests that faith is resilient not because it provides intuitions about gods and spirits but because it changes the faithful in profound ways

The Church of All Ages Howard A. Vanderwell, 2007-12-17 Many congregations today experience collisions between parents who want to spend time with their children and age segregated church programming as well as between the children worshipping in their pews and the increasing number of seniors in the same pew Among the questions these congregations struggle to address are these Should we try to hold the generations together when we worship Is it even possible Led by pastor and resource developer Howard Vanderwell nine writers pastors teachers worship planners and others serving in specialized ministries offer their reflections on issues congregational leaders need to address as they design their worship ministry In addition numerous sidebars illustrate the diversity of practices in the church today Contributors do not propose easy answers or instant solutions Rather they guide readers as they craft ministries and practices that fit their own community heritage and history Each chapter includes questions for reflection and group discussion and an appendix provides guidelines for small group use The thread that connects these varied contributions is the belief that there is no greater privilege for Christians than worshipping God and there is no better way to do that than as an intergenerational community in which all are important and all encourage and nurture the faith of the others

Essays on the Real Church

Dirk J. Smit, 2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God's Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways Routledge Library Editions: Radio Various

the real church is a concrete reality made up of people just like any other fellowship What distinguishes it as church is the presence of the triune God among those who gather in the name of Jesus making it a sign and anticipation of the fellowship of the kingdom of God From this premise Dr Hegstad analyzes such issues as the relationship between church and world mission and diakoni church as fellowship and organization ministries in the church worship and the unity of the church as well as discussing the relationship between a sociological and a theological understanding of the church

Church Together Daniel C. Dickard, 2022-01-13 Church Together is a Christian leadership book designed to give pastors church leaders and church members a working plan to overcome the greatest underlying threat to the church today individualism through five relationships of surrender which correlate to the five core values of the Church of We Part One examines the three rotten fruits of individualism within the Church of Me consumerism pragmatism and the extremes of legalism and liberalism and how to spot each of these problems Part Two offers a solution on what it will take for churches to make a healthy transition from the Church of Me to the Church of We Church Together for this reason gives churches a manageable plan to defy the individualistic spirit of the age as they become the Church of We in the Age of Me

Embodied Liturgy C. Andrew Doyle, 2021-05-18 Can the reality of the Eucharist be maintained online Author C Andrew Doyle in a well researched and thoughtful study of both virtual reality and liturgy argues that the Eucharist is not a formulaic rehearsal of words and rituals but an embodied and lived experience This requires a shared place and presence While the church should not shy away from virtual ministry we should be wary of using the technological realm for the celebration of the Eucharist an act that is an outward and visible sign of our spiritual union with God and one another It brings us closer to friend and stranger for the transformation of individuals into unity in Christ The context of the ritual with people objects words and all sorts of nuance creates intimacy with God and each other This unique book is especially timely and will be of interest to scholars liturgists and those interested in sacramental theology in the digital age
