Making Room Women And Architecture Heresies 11 Vol 3 No 3:

Making Room, 1981      Gender Space Architecture Iain Borden, Barbara Penner, Jane Rendell, 2002-09-11 This significant reader brings together for the first time the most important essays concerning the intersecting subjects of gender space and architecture Carefully structured and with numerous introductory essays it guides the reader through theoretical and multi disciplinary texts to direct considerations of gender in relation to particular architectural sites projects and ideas This collection marks a seminal point in gender and architecture both summarizing core debates and pointing toward new directions and discussions for the future      Exploring Gender in Vernacular Architecture Jessica Ellen Sewell, 2025-02-03 In Exploring Gender in Vernacular Architecture Jessica Ellen Sewell considers the gender of those who create and shape spaces how gender ideology contributes to and manifests itself in built form and what research methods make the observation of gendered experience possible She discusses single gender mixed gender and queer spaces providing a comprehensive look at how gender influences the design and construction of those spaces how those spaces are used and the relationship between gender and the broader architectural landscape In her study Sewell also provides an expansive view of how gender intersects with other categories of power and difference such as race class and age and how this intersectionality contributes to the design and use of built spaces In addition to examining the spaces themselves Sewell explores research methods for studying gendered experiences in architecture She argues that traditional research methods in vernacular architecture studies which often focus on building based fieldwork should be complemented by other methods such as letters oral histories and diaries that expand the understanding of buildings beyond their construction date and reveal how those buildings have been used and represented over time Digging into primary records Sewell posits can help challenge our assumptions about who influences architecture and urban development illuminating the roles of women and others in the building and shaping of space Thoroughly researched yet accessible for scholars new to the study of vernacular architecture Exploring Gender in Vernacular Architecture bridges the gap between specialized scholarship and broader public understanding Students of architectural history gender studies and cultural history will find it a valuable resource not only for examining the relationship between gender and architecture but for engaging new methodological tools that may further their own research      Discrimination by Design Leslie Weisman, 1994 Discrimination by Design is a fascinating account of the complex social processes and power struggles involved in building and controlling space Leslie Kanes Weisman offers a new framework for understanding the spatial dimensions of gender and race as well as class She traces the social and architectural histories of the skyscraper maternity hospital department store shopping mall nuclear family dream house and public housing high rise Her vivid prose is based on exhaustive research and documents how each setting along with public parks and streets embodies and transmits the privileges and penalties of social caste In presenting feminist themes from a spatial perspective Weisman raises many new and important questions When do women feel unsafe in cities and why Why do so many homeless people prefer to sleep on the streets rather than in city run shelters Why does the current housing crisis pose a greater threat to women than to men How would dwellings communities and public buildings look if they were designed to foster relationships of equality and environmental wholeness And how can we begin to imagine such a radically different landscape In exploring the answers the author introduces us to the people policies architectural innovations and ideologies working today to shape a future in which all people matter Richly illustrated with photographs and drawings Discrimination by Design is an invaluable and pioneering contribution to our understanding of the issues of our time health care for the elderly and people with AIDS homelessness racial justice changing conditions of work and family life affordable housing militarism energy conservation and the preservation of the environment This thoroughly readable book provides practical guidance to policymakers architects planners and housing activists It should be read by all who are interested in understanding how the built environment shapes the experiences of their daily lives and the cultural assumptions in which they are immersed

The Politics of the Artificial Victor Margolin, 2018-01-11 Emerging from the world of commercial art and product styling design has now become completely integrated into human life Its marks are all around us from the chairs we sit on to the Web sites on our computer screens One of the pioneers of design studies and still one of its most distinguished practitioners Victor Margolin here offers a timely meditation on design and its study at the turn of the millennium and charts new directions for the future development of both fields Divided into sections on the practice and study of design the essays in The Politics of the Artificial cover such topics as design history design research design as a political tool sustainable design and the problems of design's relation to advanced technologies Margolin also examines the work of key practitioners such as the matrix designer Ken Isaacs Throughout the book Margolin demonstrates the underlying connections between the many ways of reflecting on and practicing design He argues for the creation of an international interdisciplinary field of design research and proposes a new ethical agenda for designers and researchers that encompasses the responsibility to users the problems of sustainability and the complicated questions of how to set boundaries for applying advanced technology to solve the problems of human life Opinionated and erudite Victor Margolin's The Politics of the Artificial breaks fresh ground in its call for a new approach to design research and practice Designers engineers architects anthropologists sociologists and historians will all benefit from its insights

Consumption: Disciplinary approaches to consumption Daniel Miller, 2001

Gendered Space Laura Jean Riggs, 1985

Women, Practice, Architecture Naomi Stead, 2016-01-08 The image of the architect is undeniably gendered While the male architect might be celebrated as the ideal man in Hollywood romantic comedies blessed with practicality and creativity in equal measure to impeccable taste and an enviable lifestyle the image of the woman architect is not so clear cut While women have been practicing and excelling in architecture for more than a hundred years their professional identity as constructed in the media is complex and sometimes contradictory This book explores the working lives and aspirations of women in architectural practice but more than this it explores how popular media newspapers magazines and websites serve to define and describe who a woman architect should be what she should look like and how she should behave Looking further into the way that professional characteristics are reinforced through awards like the Pritzker Prize the book demonstrates how idealised characteristics such as sensitivity and vision are seen to be neither entirely masculine nor feminine but instead a complex hybrid owing much to historic concepts of genius Drawing on history sociology media analysis and feminist theories of architectural practice the book will be of interest to all of those who seek to better understand the image and identity of the architect This book was published as a double special issue of Architectural Theory Review Architecture Reading Lists and Course Outlines: Architectural design, Human behavior, Special topics Georgia Bizios,1991 Where Are the Women Architects? Despina Stratigakos,2016-04-12 A timely and important search for architecture s missing women For a century and a half women have been proving their passion and talent for building and in recent decades their enrollment in architecture schools has soared Yet the number of women working as architects remains stubbornly low and the higher one looks in the profession the scarcer women become Law and medicine two equally demanding and traditionally male professions have been much more successful in retaining and integrating women So why do women still struggle to keep a toehold in architecture Where Are the Women Architects tells the story of women s stagnating numbers in a profession that remains a male citadel and explores how a new generation of activists is fighting back grabbing headlines and building coalitions that promise to bring about change Despina Stratigakos s provocative examination of the past current and potential future roles of women in the profession begins with the backstory revealing how the field has dodged the question of women s absence since the nineteenth century It then turns to the status of women in architecture today and the serious entrenched hurdles they face But the story isn t without hope and the book documents the rise of new advocates who are challenging the profession s boys club from its male dominated elite prizes to the erasure of women architects from Wikipedia These advocates include Stratigakos herself and here she also tells the story of her involvement in the controversial creation of Architect Barbie Accessible frank and lively Where Are the Women Architects will be a revelation for readers far beyond the world of architecture Events, En Foco [and] Heresies Collective ,1983 Heresies ,1980 A feminist publication on art and politics A View from the Interior Judy Attfield,Pat Kirkham,1989 Examines design history from a feminist perspective It does more than add women s names to the textbooks It exposes the socially constructed nature of design history and the assumptions of male designers and architects about women s tastes women s place and the way women live And it illuminates women s relationship to design both as designers and those designed for Feminist Periodicals ,1981 The Architecture of Charity Tania Marie Martin,2002 Feminist Architecture? Nicki Helene Hansen,1983 Disability, Space, Architecture: A Reader Jos Boys,2017-02-17 Disability Space Architecture A Reader takes a groundbreaking approach to exploring the interconnections between disability architecture and cities The contributions come from architecture geography anthropology health studies English language and literature rhetoric and composition art history disability studies and disability arts and cover personal theoretical and innovative ideas and work Richer approaches to disability beyond regulation and design guidance remain fragmented and difficult to find for architectural and built environment students educators and professionals By bringing together in one place some seminal texts and projects as well as newly commissioned writings readers can engage with disability in unexpected and exciting ways that can vibrantly inform their understandings of architecture and urban design Most crucially Disability Space Architecture A Reader opens up not just disability but also ability dis ability as a means of refusing the normalisation of only particular kinds of bodies in the design of built space It reveals how our everyday social attitudes and practices about people objects and spaces can be better understood through the lens of disability and it suggests how thinking differently about dis ability can enable innovative and new kinds of critical and creative architectural and urban design education and practice

Consumption Daniel Miller, 2001 Pun(k) Deconstruction jan jagodzinski, 2018-12-07 In Postmodern Dilemmas Outrageous Essays in Art Art Education and Pun k Deconstruction Experifigural Writings in Art Art Education jan jagodzinski presents a series of essays covering a timespan of approximately ten years These essays chart the theory and practice of art art education as it relates to issues of postmodernity and poststructuralism concerning representation identity politics consumerism postmodern architecture ecology phallogentrism of the artistic canon pluriculturalism media and technology and AIDS As a former editor of The Journal of Social Theory in Art Education and a founding member for the Caucus on Social Theory in Art Education the author attempts to deconstruct the current art education paradigm which is largely based on modernist tenets and to reorient art education practice to social issues as developed in both media education and cultural studies Part of the intent in these two volumes is to undertake a sustained critique of the 1982 Art in the Mainstream A I M statement which continues to be considered as the core value for art education The distinct intention of this critique is to put forward a new value base for art art education in these postmodern times Many of the essays raise the need to be attentive to sex gender issues in art art education and the need to read the artistic discourse otherwise There is a sustained critique of the art programs developed by the Getty Center for the Arts whose arts curriculum presents the paradigm case of late modernist thinking Some essays are written in a provocative form that tries to accommodate such content This is particularly the case in Pun k Deconstruction where architectural discourse is deconstructed and which includes an artistic performance given by the author in 1987 This singular set of volumes combines scholarship in the areas of gender studies aesthetics art history art education poststructuralism and cultural studies in a unique blend of theory and practice for rethinking the field of art education
