Making Sense Kevin S. Kiernan, Antonette diPaolo Healey, 2007      Making Sense Ralf Hertel, 2021-07-26 Fiction is fascinating All it provides us with is black letters on white pages yet while we read we do not have the impression that we are merely perceiving abstract characters Instead we see the protagonists before our inner eye and hear their voices Descriptions of sumptuous meals make our mouths water we feel physically repelled by depictions of violence or are aroused by the erotic details of sexual conquests We submerge ourselves in the fictional world that no longer stays on the paper but comes to life in our imagination Reading turns into an out of the body experience or rather an in another body experience for we perceive the portrayed world not only through the protagonist s eyes but also through his ears nose tongue and skin In other words we move through the literary text as if through a virtual reality How does literature achieve this trick How does it turn mere letters into vividly experienced worlds This study argues that techniques of sensuous writing contribute decisively to bringing the text to life in the reader s imagination In detailed interpretations of British novels of the 1980s and 1990s by writers such as John Berger John Banville Salman Rushdie Jeanette Winterson or J M Coetzee it uncovers literary strategies for turning the sensuous experience into words and for conveying it to the reader demonstrating how we make sense in and of literature Both readers interested in the contemporary novel and in the sensuousness of the reading experience will profit from this innovative study that not only analyses the interest of contemporary authors in the senses but also pin points literary entry points for the sensuous force of reading      Making Sense of the Industrial Revolution Steven King, Geoffrey Timmins, 2001-07-06 This comprehensive and innovative book on the Industrial Revolution uses carefully chosen case studies illustrated with extracts from contemporary documents to offer new perspectives on the process and impact of industrialization The authors look at the development of economic structures the financing of the Industrial Revolution technological advances markets and demand and agricultural progress The book also deals with changes in demography the household families and the built environment      Japanizing English Johannes Scherling, 2015-11-12
