Making Space for Theatre J. R. Mulryne, Margaret Shewring, 1995-01-01 Theatre Spaces 1920-2020 Iain

Mackintosh, 2023-03-09 In this lavishly illustrated hands on account of the creation of new theatre spaces spanning a century Iain Mackintosh offers a compelling history that is part memoir part impassioned call to rethink the design of our theatre spaces and the future of live theatre As the originator of theatre designs as diverse as the Cottesloe in 1977 Glyndebourne in 1994 the Orange Tree Theatre in 1991 the Martha Cohen Theatre in 1985 and the Tina Packer Playhouse in 2001 he discovered why the same show worked in some theatres but not in others It is this unique blend of experience that informs this account of many of the best known theatre spaces in Britain besides many international examples including the Guthrie Theater Minneapolis and the Oslo Opera House Running throughout is a consideration of factors which have shaped design thinking during this time and which demand attention today After the long theatre closures driven by the Covid 19 pandemic Mackintosh argues that now is the time to discover the routes travelled over the last century Published in partnership with the Society of Theatre Research the book features a foreword by Sir Richard Eyre Director of the National Theatre 1987 1997 Theatre and Architecture Juliet Rufford, 2015-01-14 Theatre and architecture are seeming opposites one a time informative both to the general reader and the professional specialist Designing for the Theatre Francis Reid, 2013-10-08

 Now in its second edition Designing for the Theatre has established itself as the authoritative introduction to the processes of design for the theatre Covering the contribution which can be made by costume sets props and lighting to a stage production the author explains the purpose and process involved in their design Included in this second edition are new photographs and drawings illustrating some of the most exciting and diverse current trends in stage design Setting the Scene Alistair Fair, 2016-03-03
 During the twentieth century an increasingly diverse range of buildings and spaces was used for theatre Theatre architecture was re formed by new approaches to staging and performance while theatre was often thought to have a reforming role in society Innovation was accompanied by the revival and reinterpretation of older ideas The contributors to this volume explore these ideas in a variety of contexts from detailed discussions of key architects work including Denys Lasdun Peter Moro Cedric Price and Heinrich Tessenow to broader surveys of theatre in West Germany and Japan Other contributions examine the Malm Stadsteater ideal theatres in post war North America found space in 1960s New York and Postmodernity in 1980s East Germany Together these essays shed new light on this complex building type and also contribute to the wider architectural history of the twentieth century A Short History of Western Performance Space David Wiles, 2003-10-02
 This innovative book provides a historical account of performance space within the theatrical traditions of western Europe David Wiles takes a broad based view of theatrical activity as something that occurs in churches streets pubs and galleries as much as in buildings explicitly designed to be theatres He traces a diverse set of continuities from Greece and Rome to the present including many areas that do not figure in standard accounts of theatre history
Twentieth-Century British Theatre Claire Cochrane, 2011-10-27 In this book Claire Cochrane maps the experience of theatre across the British Isles during the twentieth century through the social and economic factors which shaped it Three topographies for 1900 1950 and 2000 survey the complex plurality of theatre within the nation state which at the beginning of the century was at the hub of world wide imperial interests and after one hundred years had seen unprecedented demographic economic and industrial change Cochrane analyses the dominance of London theatre but redresses the balance in favour of the hitherto marginalised majority experience in the English regions and the other component nations of the British political construct Developments arising from demographic change are outlined especially those relating to the rapid expansion of migrant communities representing multiple ethnicities Presenting fresh historiographic perspectives on twentieth century British theatre the book breaks down the traditionally accepted binary oppositions between different sectors showing a broader spectrum of theatre practice Event-Space Dorita Hannah, 2018-07-11
 As the symbolists constructivists and surrealists of the historical avant garde began to abandon traditional theatre spaces and embrace the more contingent locations of the theatrical and political event the built environment of a performance became not only part of the event but an event in and of itself Event Space radically re evaluates the avant garde s championing of nonrepresentational spaces drawing on the specific fields of performance studies and architectural studies to establish a theory of performative architecture Event was of immense significance to modernism s revolutionary agenda resisting realism and naturalism and simultaneously the monumentality of architecture itself Event Space analyzes a number of spatiotemporal models central to that revolution both illuminating the history of avant garde performance and inspiring contemporary approaches to performance space
