School Librarians are Linked to Improved Standardized Reading Test Scores

Improved Reading Scores

Studies conducted over the past two decades, both in Colorado and nationwide, show that students in schools with endorsed librarians score better on standardized achievement tests in reading, compared with students in schools without endorsed librarians.

This increase in scores exists regardless of:

In a Colorado study, the presence of school librarians positively impacted students' standardized reading scores even when controlling for student poverty (free and reduced-cost meal status).

Overall Staffing Losses<sup>2</sup>

In a national study, even if schools had overall staff declines between 2004 and 2008, students' standardized reading scores were better in schools that maintained or gained a librarian during this time period.

What other school library characteristics are associated with better test scores?

School Librarians Teaching Information Literacy Skills to Students<sup>3</sup>

Collaborative Planning Between School Librarians & Teachers<sup>3,4</sup>

Making The Grade Academic Libraries And Student Success:

Making the Grade Maurie Caitlin Kelly, Andrea Kross, 2002-01-01      Managing Academic Libraries Susan Higgins, 2016-10-11

Managing Academic Libraries Principles and Practice is aimed at professionals within the Library and Information Services LIS who are interested in learning more about the management of academic libraries. Written against a backdrop made up of the changes that digital technology has brought to academic libraries, this book uncovers how the library has changed its meaning from a physical to virtual icon and its effect on culture. The book aims to provide managers and students of LIS at all levels with the necessary management principles and practices needed to respond proactively to diverse audiences while also keeping a focus on the purposes of higher education. In addition, readers will find an examination of various aspects of library management and reviews on key management techniques that can be used for successful interpretation and implementation of academic library mission statements. Provides tactics on how to manage the centrality of learning and reading in academic libraries. Includes best practices on managing a learning organization. Covers proactive management principles and practices that are needed to respond to diverse audiences.      Getting Started with Evaluation

Peter Hernon, Robert E. Dugan, Joseph R. Matthews, 2014. Everyone agrees that evaluation of library services is essential, but without a background in research, it can be a challenge to apply abstract concepts such as strategic planning, evidence-based decision making, and accountability to real-world situations. Finally, library managers have a workbook to help them master key concepts of service quality assessment, offering directed exercises and worksheets to guide them. Firmly rooted in practical application, this book presents an overview of evaluation and the types of metrics linking them to strategic planning and infrastructure. Examines qualitative versus quantitative measures. Shows how to decide which metrics are relevant to one's own institution, covering benchmarking, best practices, peer group filters, and those metrics that offer a high return on investment. Includes pointers for launching and maintaining successful library evaluation through flexibility and smart delegation among library staff. Offers advice on marshaling data to effectively communicate the value and impact of a library and its services, no matter the audience. Complete with a detailed list of sources for metrics and concrete examples of evaluation in practice, this workbook will be both valuable and immediately useful to managers at academic and public libraries as well as to library trustees and others interested in assessing service quality.      The Value of Academic Libraries

Megan J. Oakleaf, 2010. This report provides Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL) leaders and the academic community with a clear view of the current state of the literature on the value of libraries within an institutional context, suggestions for immediate next steps in the demonstration of academic library value, and a Research Agenda for articulating academic library value. Its focus is to help librarians understand, based on professional literature, the current answer to the question: How does the library advance the missions of the institution? This report is also of interest to higher educational professionals external to libraries, including senior leaders, administrators, faculty, and student affairs professionals.      Higher Education Outcomes Assessment for the Twenty-First Century Peter Hernon, Robert E. Dugan, Candy Schwartz, 2013-05-09

This book discusses recent trends in outcomes assessment examines how state governments are reshaping the national discussion with higher education and explains how libraries must respond to these changes Higher Education Outcomes Assessment for the Twenty first Century focuses on recent developments in outcomes assessment especially from the perspectives of the federal government and state governments as well as foundations concerned about the state of higher education The authors identify the significant changes that these stakeholders call for information that academic librarians and anyone following outcomes assessment need to be aware of and interpret the discussions to identify implications for libraries Building upon the foundation of knowledge presented in the previous two Libraries Unlimited Outcomes Assessment in Higher Education titles this book provides readers with up to date coverage of topics such as the emerging metrics used to define student and institutional success the increased importance of accountability and the need to compare and assess the performance of programs and institutions rather than individual courses and the shift in prioritizing student outcomes over student learning outcomes The authors also spotlight the critical need for libraries to fit their role within the national discussion and suggest ways in which library managers and directors can play a role in redirecting the discussion to their benefit

Diversity Programming and Outreach for Academic Libraries Kathleen Hanna, Mindy Cooper, Robin Crumrin, 2011-06-24 This book outlines issues surrounding diversity among students faculty and staff and how one urban university library is working to embrace and celebrate the diversity found in its building on campus and in the local community This book illustrates how universities are uniquely situated to engage students in discussions about diversity and how academic libraries in particular can facilitate and ease these discussions A Diversity Council and the projects and programs it has developed have been instrumental in this work and may serve as an inspiration and launch pad for other libraries Diversity Programming and Outreach for Academic Libraries details anecdotal experiences and provides practical suggestions for developing diversity programs and forming collaborations with other campus units regardless of size staff or focus of the academic library Written by three academic librarians currently active in university level diversity initiatives Provides real world examples of diversity programming and events for academic libraries Indicates how to find commonalities in the range of diversity issues at universities internationally

Enhancing Teaching and Learning in the 21st-Century Academic Library Bradford Lee Eden, 2015-03-18 Libraries of all types have undergone significant developments in the last few decades The rate of change in the academic library a presence for decades now has been increasing in the first decade of this century It is no exaggeration to claim that it is undergoing a top to bottom redefinition In this second volume of the series Creating the 21st Century Academic Library we explore the initiatives in student learning and training that are underway in our academic libraries The 13 chapters range from librarians redesigning the space in the library in order to assume control of the campus bookstore to implementing a MOOC where the problems of providing material to potentially thousands of students taking an online course must somehow overcome copyright restrictions A chapter describes how the iPad has become the chosen delivery mechanism for a rich array of resources that finally begin to reflect the educational potential of the digital world Another chapter tells how a collaboration creates an audio archive to enrich the experiences of patrons and raise the visibility of the special collections unit on campus Gamification plays a role in two chapters and active learning is featured in another that employs the technologies of interactive whiteboards clickers and wireless slates These approaches employing new technologies and terminology signal that we have begun a new era in the definition and design of the academic library We can't expect the redefined academic library to assume its final shape any time soon if ever but the transformation is well underway
