Making Things Grow:

Making Sense of Secondary Science Rosalind Driver, Peter Rushworth, Ann Squires, Valerie Wood-Robinson, 2004-03-10

When children begin secondary school they already have knowledge and ideas about many aspects of the natural world from their experiences both in primary classes and outside school. This collection of support materials is designed especially for teachers of the early years in secondary school to give guidance both on the ideas which children are likely to bring with them and also on using these ideas to help pupils to make sense of their experiences in science lessons. The materials are in 24 sections structured around three themes: life and living processes; materials and their properties; and physical processes. Included in each section is a science map identifying key science ideas and also a set of learning guides which give detailed advice on helping children to develop these ideas. Written in collaboration with teachers, field tested in schools and suitable for use with any published science scheme, these materials will be an essential resource for all science teachers who are planning teaching schemes and developing science lessons within the National Curriculum. A separate paperback Making Sense of Secondary Science: Research into Children's Ideas comes with the file and is also available separately. This provides a summary of research in the area and a detailed bibliography for those who want to pursue certain aspects further. Word

From Poustinia, Book I Robert Wild, 2018-11-28 From the Introduction I live in one of the poustinias at the Madonna House.

As many people know from Catherine Doherty's book Poustinia, the word means desert in Russian. A poustinia is a small cabin where people ordinarily go for a day of prayer and fasting, though some like myself live there several days a week as a way of life. This book contains words that I heard the Lord speaking to me. Many of them were shared at the Eucharist in the form of homilies; some were originally in the form of letters sent to my Madonna House family; some few were written for publication elsewhere; still others were jotted down for no particular reason. Writing from the poustinia is one of my ways of preaching the good news of Jesus, the exalted and unmerited privilege for which I was ordained. All Is Given Linda Neil, 2016-10-26

In this captivating memoir Linda Neil shares stories of travel taking us from the glitz of Shanghai to wintry London, from the outskirts of Ulaanbaatar to inner city Sydney. Writing songs and playing music as she traverses the globe, Linda finds her life enriched in ways she never could have imagined. As she forges unexpected connections with people, places, and even her past, she discovers that everyone everywhere has their own story to tell. Liberty Hyde Bailey Liberty Hyde Bailey, 2011-02-23

Nature study not only educates, but it educates nature ward and nature is ever our companion whether we will or no. Even though we are determined to shut ourselves in an office, nature sends her messengers. The light, the dark, the moon, the cloud, the rain, the wind, the falling leaf, the fly, the bouquet, the bird, the cockroach, they are all ours. If one is to be happy, he must be in sympathy with common things. He must live in harmony with his environment. One cannot be happy yonder nor tomorrow; he is happy here and now or never. Our stock of knowledge of common things should be great. Few of us can travel. We must know the things at home. From The Meaning of the Nature Study Movement.
