description available for Fiction in French Fiction in Soviet The Eclipse of the Utopias of Labor Anson Rabinbach,2018-02-06 The Eclipse of the Utopias of Labor traces the shift from the eighteenth century concept of man as machine to the late twentieth century notion of digital organisms Step by step from Jacques de Vaucanson and his Digesting Duck through Karl Marx's Capital Hermann von Helmholtz's social thermodynamics Albert Speer's Beauty of Labor program in Nazi Germany and on to the post Fordist workplace Rabinbach shows how society the body and labor utopias dreamt up future societies and worked to bring them about This masterful follow up to The Human Motor Rabinbach's brilliant study of the European science of work bridges intellectual history labor history and the history of the body It shows the intellectual and policy reasons as to how a utopia of the body as motor won wide acceptance and moved beyond the man as machine model before tracing its steep decline after 1945 and along with it the eclipse of the great hopes that a more efficient workplace could provide the basis of a new more socially satisfactory society The Human Motor Anson

Rabinbach,1992-01-08 Masterfully integrating Europe wide debates in science philosophy technology economics and social policy Rabinbach has provided us with a profoundly original understanding of the productivist obsessions from which we are still painfully freeing ourselves A splendid example of the mutual enrichment of intellectual and social history It goes well beyond its central concern with the science of work to illuminate everything it discusses from Marxism to the social uses of photography from cultural decadence to the impact of the First World War Martin Jay University of California Berkeley

Homotopia? Jonathan Kemp,2015 There is not one corner of the earth where the alleged crime of sodomy has not had shrines and votaries Marquis de Sade Philosophy in the Bedroom Maybe the target nowadays is not to discover what we are but to refuse what we are We have to promote new forms of subjectivity through the refusal of this kind of individuality Michel Foucault The Subject and Power Do opposites attract Is desire lack These assumptions have become so much a part of the ways in which we conceive desire that they are rarely questioned Yet what do they say about how homosexuality a desire for the same is viewed in our culture This book takes as its starting point the absence of a suitable theory of homosexual desire a theory not predicated on such heterological assumptions It is an investigation into how such assumptions acquired meaning within homosexual discourse and as such is offered as an interruption within the hegemony of desire As such homosexual desire constitutes the biggest challenge to Western binaric thinking in that it dissolves the sacred distinctions between Same Other Desire Identification subject object male female Homotopia composed in 1997 but not published until now investigates the development of a homosexual discourse at the end of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth century and reveals how that discourse worked within heterosexualized models of desire Andre Gide's Corydon Edward Carpenter's The Intermediate Sex and John Addington Symonds's A Problem in Modern Ethics are all pseudo scientific texts written by non medical men of letters and were in their time highly influential on the emerging homosexual discourse The fourth text the twenty odd pages of Marcel Proust s novel A la recherche de temps perdu usually referred to as La Recherche is the most problematic in that it appeared under the guise of fiction But Proust originally planned this essay within a novel to be published separately In it he offers a pseudo scientific theory of male male love These four texts were published between the years 1891 and 1924 an historical moment when the concept of a distinct homosexual identity took shape within a medicalized discourse centered on essential identity traits and characteristics and they all work within the rubric of science contributing to a discourse which saw the human race divided into two distinct categories heterosexuals and homosexuals How did this division come about and what were its effects How was this discourse sustained and how were the meanings it produced received For men whose erotic interest was exclusively in other men what did it mean to see oneself and one s desires as the outcome of biology rather than moral lapse

The Proustian Mind Anna Elsner, Thomas Stern, 2022-12-30 When Marcel Proust started to work on In Search of Lost Time in 1908 he wrote this question in his notebook Should I make it a novel a philosophical study am I a novelist Throughout his famous multi volume work Proust directly engages several philosophers and few novels are as thoroughly saturated with philosophical themes and concepts as In Search of Lost Time The Proustian Mind is an outstanding reference source to the rich philosophical range of Proust s work and the first major volume of its kind Including 31 chapters by an international team of contributors the volume is divided into seven clear parts Proust s life and works metaphysics and epistemology mind and language aesthetics ethics gender and sexuality predecessors contemporaries and successors Within these sections key Proustian themes are explored from a philosophical standpoint including time the self memory imagination jealousy beauty love subjectivity and desire The final section considers Proust in relation to important philosophers such as Schopenhauer Nietzsche Bergson Merleau Ponty Sartre de Beauvoir and Deleuze The Proustian Mind is essential reading for those studying aesthetics philosophy of literature phenomenology and ethics and will also be of interest to those in literature studying modernism French literature and the relationship between literature and philosophy

Allergy Mark Jackson, 2007-08-15 Mark Jackson investigates how allergy has become the archetypal disease of civilization transforming from a fringe malady of the wealthy into one of the greatest medical disorders of the twentieth century

Sleep and the Novel Michael Greaney, 2018-04-04 Sleep and the Novel is a study of representations of the sleeping body in fiction from 1800 to the present day which traces the ways in which novelists have engaged with this universal indispensable but seemingly nondescript region of human experience Covering the narrativization of sleep in Austen the politicization of sleep in Dickens the queering of sleep in Goncharov the aestheticization of sleep in Proust and the medicalization of sleep in contemporary fiction it examines the ways in which novelists envision the figure of the sleeper the meanings they discover in human sleep and the values they attach to it It argues that literary fiction harbours on its margins a sleeping partner one that we can nickname the Schlafroman or sleep novel whose quiet absorption in the wordlessness and passivity of human slumber subtly complicates the imperatives of self awareness and purposive action that traditionally govern the novel

Dysfluencies Chris Eagle, 2013-11-07 Dysfluencies is the first comprehensive study of how speech disorders are portrayed in modern literature Tracing the roots of this interaction between literary practice and speech pathology back to the rise of aphasiology in the 1860s Dysfluencies examines portrayals of disordered speech by writers like Zola Proust Joyce Melville and Mishima as well as contemporary writers like Philip Roth Gail Jones and Jonathan Lethem Dysfluencies thus speaks directly to the growing interest at present both in popular culture and the Humanities regarding the status of the Self in relation to speech pathology The need for this type of study is clear considering the number of prominent writers whose works foreground disorders of speech Melville Zola Kesey Mishima Roth et al Moreover thinkers like Freud Bergson and Jakobson were similarly concerned with the implications of language breakdown This volume shows this concern began with the rise of neurology and aphasiology which challenged spiritual conceptions of language and replaced them with a view of language as a material process rooted in the brain Dysfluencies traces the history of this interaction between literary practice and speech pathology arguing that works of literature have responded differently to the issue of language breakdown as the dominant views on the issue have shifted from neurological circa 1860s to 1920s to psychological circa 1920s to 1980s and back to neurological during the so called decade of the Brain the 1990s

Humorous Wit Djamel Ouis, 2020-01-17 Humorous Wit is a new compilation of quotations in their most humoristic form There are over 15 000 of these taken from various parts of the world with over 1 200 of them translated into English for the first time This book features 5 000 authors from every corner of the globe covering a period starting before classical antiquity when man first started to record his thoughts to modern times enriching the cultural heritage This does not in any way mean that the caveman was less humorous but the richness of the environment we live in today and the variety of subject matter contribute considerably to a refined sense of humour Moreover considering that chimps and other primates also possess the ability to laugh humour may have been around longer than the human race

Approaching Hysteria Mark S. Micale, 2019-01-15 What does this burgeoning corpus of writing tell us Why in recent years has the history of hysterical disorders carried such resonance for commentators in the sciences and humanities What can we learn from the textual traditions of hysteria about writing the history of disease in general What is the broader cultural meaning of the new hysteria studies In the second half of the book Micale discusses the many historical cultures of hysteria He reconstructs in detail the past usages of the hysteria concept as a powerful descriptive trope in various nonmedical domains including poetry fiction theater social thought political criticism and the arts His book is a pioneering attempt to write the historical phenomenology of disease in an age
