Personal and Public Lives and Relationships in a Changing Social World Rosemary Rae,Dr Sharon Wray,2014-07-24 The field of personal life is a relatively new area of sociological study that seeks to understand the complexities of contemporary personal and social relationships This includes exploration of the impact of social economic legal and political change on personal experiences opportunities and life styles This ground breaking edited collection presents research on personal and public lives in a period of rapid social and political change Relatively little is known about how personal and public aspects of life inter relate and even less about how the outcomes of this relationship shape different areas of life This book aims to capture and understand the effects of these overlapping spheres on the everyday lives of people in different geographical cultural and spatial settings It brings together research in four key areas migration and displacement gender sexuality and health with two main overarching themes The first theme is how individuals cope with social political geographical and cultural change in these diverse settings The second relates to how these changes produce diverse inequalities that impact on relationships roles and responsibilities The book thus seeks to increase the visibility of particular aspects of life that have often been neglected in social science research and subsequently open them up to further research and debate

'Muslim Woman'/Muslim women Patricia Jeffery,Kaveri Qureshi,2024-11-25 This book addresses South Asian Muslim women s lived experiences whilst questioning dominant concepts of agency Negative homogenising constructions of the Muslim Woman are not the result of a knowledge deficit but constitutive of Euro American and Hindu nationalist forms of civilizational self assurance Portraying the richness and diversity of Muslim women s voices and agency cannot therefore rectify discourses casting Muslim women as invisible or silent so long as the vision of agency is shackled to dominant feminist precepts Mindful of this problem the book examines Muslim women s legal agency with respect to the family their claims making upon the state livelihoods and the impact of male outmigration on left behind wives Working across these domains of everyday life contributors highlight how women s vulnerabilities within their families dovetail with oppressions experienced in the local state the labour market and in the streets Women s economic locations continue to shape their agency in crucial ways with upward mobility often entailing greater restrictions on women s mobility and independence yet the chapters caution against romanticising the ironic independence of poverty Collectively this volume showcases Muslim s women s diverse identities and desires that may be sidelined in dominant concepts of agency This book will be beneficial for scholars and students of South Asian Studies interested in gender justice politics and the intersection of religion culture and identity The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Contemporary South Asia Women, Aid, and Development Sudha V. Rao,Christine M. Cottam,1993 Discretionary Medicine in Pakistan Sanaullah Khan,2024-11-25 This book uses the notion of discretionary medicine to explore the landscape of contemporary healthcare in Pakistan It considers how patients frequently experience health interventions as out of touch with the suffering of everyday life and how healthcare provisions are viewed as intrusive corrupted and lacking in empathy towards the sick The study focuses on mental health acknowledging that the experience of mental illness in Pakistan is increasingly inseparable from conditions of chronic poverty caused directly by deepening inequality The chapters address the establishment of priorities by the Pakistani healthcare system in conjunction with global disease programs and investigate the misalignments between the priorities of global institutes and local expectations realities It is argued that the discretionary nature of medicine is caused by the remnants of colonial era laws which link the maintenance of public health with questions of security This the author suggests frequently contributes to forms of care that are riddled with bureaucratic violence Using a combination of archival and ethnographic research the book offers a multi sited and interdisciplinary perspective on healthcare ranging from care within low income households and neighborhoods to diasporic communities and state institutions It will be of interest to scholars and students of medical psychiatric anthropology global health and history of medicine as well as South Asian and Pakistan studies Sociological Bulletin ,1995 Emotions as Bio-cultural Processes Birgitt Röttger-Rössler,Hans Jürgen Markowitsch,2009-06-12

Emotions have emerged as a topic of interest across the disciplines yet studies and findings on emotions tend to fall into two camps body versus brain nature versus nurture Emotions as Bio cultural Processes offers a unique collaboration across the biological social divide from psychology and neuroscience to cultural anthropology and sociology as 15 noted researchers develop a common language theoretical basis and methodology for examining this most sociocognitive aspect of our lives

Starting with our evolutionary past and continuing into our modern world of social classes and norms these multidisciplinary perspectives reveal the complex interplay of biological social cultural and personal factors at work in emotions with particular emphasis on the nuances involved in pride and shame A sampling of the topics 1 The roles of the brain in emotional processing 2 Emotional development milestones in childhood 3 Social feeling rules and the experience of loss 4 Emotions as commodities The management of feelings and the self help industry 5 Honor and dishonor societal and gender manifestations of pride and shame 6 Emotion regulation and youth culture 7 Pride and shame in the classroom A volume of such wide and integrative scope as Emotions as Bio cultural Processes should attract a large cohort of readers on both sides of the debate among them emotion researchers social and developmental psychologists sociologists social anthropologists and others who analyze the links between humans that on the one hand differentiate us as individuals but on the other hand tie us to our socio cultural worlds

Contributions to Indian Sociology, 2003 The Changing Division of Labor in South Asia James Warner Bjorkman, 1987 Revised versions of papers presented at a symposium held at the University of Wisconsin in November 1984 Status of Women in Asia and the Pacific Region, 1989 Female Infanticide and Social Structure L. S. Vishwanath, 2000 Female Demography Michel Oris, 2009 Women in Business Sheila Allen, Carole Truman, 2016-12-19 This important collection first published in 1993 brings together the most comprehensive analyses of women s experience in business to date The small business world usually associated with men is unpacked to display the multiple roles played by women Links are made between lifestyles and business styles the interface between business and family life paid and unpaid work and changing social and economic patterns Throughout the limitations of current theory practice and policies in underestimating the significance of female entrepreneurship are shown International in perspective and drawing on the work of leading researchers in work and employment this volume illuminates the hidden assumptions underlying approaches which concern themselves only with businessmen It points the way to a better understanding of the meaning of self employment and small business enterprise in market economies and to a more effective explanation of their role

The Changing Family in Asia Unesco. Principal Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific, 1992 Socio-cultural and Attitudinal Factors Affecting the Status of Women in South Asia Trude Scarlett Epstein, 1986 Pamphlet research paper women rural women cultural factors sociological aspects attitudes Asia division of labour family and population structures political system legal system ideology religion Bibliography diagrams Women and Society Amit Kumar Gupta, 1986

Pakistani Women Sadaf Ahmad, Ali Khan, 2010 Pakistani Women attempts to capture some of the diversity to help move away from the homogenous images of Pakistani women that prevail in their representation in much of the world The different chapters cover an entire range of localities from rural to urban settings and from small town to diaspora Most of the chapters are driven by ethnographic data while some are more theoretical Yet despite this diversity of place and approach a number of cross cutting themes emerge themes that play a critical role in encouraging the reader to recognize the similarity and diversity of Pakistani women's experiences within a culture made up of a variety of ideologies that are often in conflict with each other
