Man After Man An Anthropology Of The Future:

Man After Man Dougal Dixon, 1990 The Hypothetical Species Michael Charles Tobias, Jane Gray Morrison, 2019-03-28

This book is a provocative and invigorating real time exploration of the future of human evolution by two of the world's leading interdisciplinary ecologists Michael Charles Tobias and Jane Gray Morrison. Steeped in a rich multitude of the sciences and humanities, the book enshrines an elegant narrative that is highly empathetic, personally and scientifically wide ranging and original. It focuses on the geo positioning of the human Self and its corresponding species. The book's overarching viewpoints and poignant through story examine and powerfully challenge concepts associated historically with assertions of human superiority over all other life forms. Ultimately The Hypothetical Species: Variables of Human Evolution is a deeply considered treatise on the ecological and psychological state of humanity and her options both within and outside the rubrics of evolutionary research for survival. This important work is beautifully presented with nearly 200 diverse illustrations and is introduced with a foreword by famed paleobiologist Dr Melanie DeVore.

Theory for the World to Come Matthew J. Wolf-Meyer, 2019-04-15

Can social theories forge new paths into an uncertain future? The future has become increasingly difficult to imagine. We might be able to predict a few events, but imagining how looming disasters will coincide is simultaneously necessary and impossible. Drawing on speculative fiction and social theory, Theory for the World to Come is the beginning of a conversation about theories that move beyond nihilistic conceptions of the capitalism caused Anthropocene and toward generative bodies of thought that provoke creative ways of thinking about the world ahead. Matthew J. Wolf-Meyer draws on such authors as Kim Stanley Robinson and Octavia Butler and engages with Afrofuturism, indigenous speculative fiction, and films from the 1970s and 80s to help think differently about the future and its possibilities.

Forerunners: Ideas First Short books of thought in process scholarship where intense analysis, questioning, and speculation take the lead.

Contemporary Futurist Thought Thomas Lombardo, 2006-06-23

Contemporary Futurist Thought describes recent thinking about the future, dealing with both the hopes and the fears expressed in modern times concerning what potentially lies ahead. There are many such hopes and fears, perhaps an overpowering number competing with each other and swirling about in the collective mind of humanity. Psychologist and futurist Tom Lombardo describes this mental universe of inspiring dreams and threatening premonitions regarding the future. The book begins with an in-depth examination of the highly influential literary genre of science fiction, which Dr Lombardo identifies as the mythology of the future. He next describes the modern academic discipline of future studies, which attempts to apply scientific methods and principles to an understanding of the future. Social and technological trends in the twentieth century are then reviewed, setting the stage for an analysis of the great contemporary transformation occurring in our present world. Given the powerful and pervasive changes taking place across the globe and throughout all aspects of human life, the questions arise: Where are we potentially heading, and perhaps more importantly, where should we be heading? The final chapter provides an extensive review of different answers to these questions Describing theories and approaches that highlight science technology culture human psychology and religion among other areas of focus as well as integrative views which attempt to provide big pictures of all aspects of human life the book provides a rich and broad overview of contemporary ideas and visions about the future In the conclusion Dr Lombardo assesses and synthesizes these myriad perspectives proposing a set of key ideas central to understanding the future This book completes the study of future consciousness begun in its companion volume The Evolution of Future Consciousness These two volumes rich in historical detail and concise observations on the interrelatedness of a wide range of interdisciplinary topics are a significant contribution to the field of future studies and a valuable resource for educators consultants and anyone wishing to explore the significance of thinking about the future

Complete Critical Assembly David Langford,2002-10-01 This new collection of essays commissioned from a range of scholars across the world takes as its theme the reception of Rome s greatest poet in a time of profound cultural change Amid the rise of Christianity the changing status of the city of Rome and the emergence of new governing classes Vergil remained a bedrock of Roman education and identity This volume considers the different ways in which Vergil was read understood and appropriated by poets commentators Church fathers orators and historians The introduction outlines the cultural and historical contexts Twelve chapters dedicated to individual writers or genres and the contributors make use of a wide range of approaches from contemporary reception theory An epilogue concludes the volume The Mind As a

Scientific Object Christina E. Erneling,David M. Johnson,2005-01-13 What holds together the various fields that are supposed to constitute the general intellectual discipline that people now call cognitive science In this book Erneling and Johnson identify two problems with defining this discipline First some theorists identify the common subject matter as the mind but scientists and philosophers have not been able to agree on any single satisfactory answer to the question of what the mind is Second those who speculate about the general characteristics that belong to cognitive science tend to assume that all the particular fields falling under the rubric psychology linguistics biology and so on are of roughly equal value in their ability to shed light on the nature of mind This book argues that all the cognitive science disciplines are not equally able to provide answers to ontological questions about the mind but rather that only neurophysiology and cultural psychology are suited to answer these questions However since the cultural account of mind has long been ignored in favor of the neurophysiological account Erneling and Johnson bring together contributions that focus especially on different versions of the cultural account of the mind Science Fiction and the Prediction of the Future Gary Westfahl,Wong Kin

The Future of Imago Dei Theologies in the Context of the New Challenges of Transhumanism Michal Valčo, Katarína Valčová, Transhumanism is often understood by scientific and technological enthusiasts as an expression of the innate human desire to excel to develop one's faculties and abilities to become better adapted to face adversities of the outside environment On the other hand it may also be perceived as a potentially proud attempt on the side of fragile humans to become more independent invulnerable and even immortal Our book discusses both the unique opportunities as well as unprecedented challenges of transhumanism using the expertise of international scholars from diverse cultural and academic backgrounds

In the Chamber of Risks William Leiss,2001 In In the Chamber of Risks William Leiss demonstrates that case studies of risk controversies show that those instincts are unreliable guides to effective risk management and that in all cases the opposite position is a far better guide As risk management is inherently disputable public perceptions of risk should be seen as legitimate and treated as such and the public should always be involved in discussions about risk evaluations made by scientists and risk managers Leiss chronicles the erratic course of risk management and communication in environmental management in Canada discussing the notable controversies that have arisen over pesticides and breast cancer vinyl toys genetically engineered food crops cellular telephones and antibiotic resistant bacteria among many others He focuses on risk management how we make decisions about and assess hazards in the environment and on risk communication social dialogue that deals with both our intuitive feelings of concern about substances or activities that might hurt our health or the environment and the scientific and probabilistic description of them Leiss shows that both risk management and risk communication when properly constructed require an elaborate process because the very things that can cause harm are in most cases the same things that bring us great benefits such as paper mills electricity from nuclear power generating stations or wireless telecommunications
