Man Against The Desolate Antarctic:

Man Against the Desolate Antarctic Mountevans, 1951 Coldest March Susan Solomon, 2013-05-09 The Coldest March tells the tragic story of Captain Robert Falcon Scott and his British team who in November 1911 began a trek across the snows of Antarctica striving to be the first to reach the South Pole After marching and skiing more than nine hundred miles the men reached the Pole in January 1912 only to suffer the terrible realisation that a group of five Norwegians had been there about a month earlier Scott and his four companions died on the return journey Whether they were courageous heroes or tragic incompetents has been debated ever since Susan Solomon brings a scientific perspective to her understanding of the men of the expedition their agonising struggle and the reasons for their deaths Drawing on extensive meteorological data and on her personal knowledge of the Antarctic she depicts in detail the sights sounds legends and ferocious weather of that singular place She reaches the startling conclusion that the polar party was struck down by exceptionally frigid weather a rare misfortune that confounded the men's meticulous predictions of what to expect This poignant and beautifully written book restores Scott and his men to the place of honour they deserve Selected Maps and Charts of Antarctica Library of Congress. Map Division, 1959 On the Ice Gretchen Legler, 2005 McMurdo Station Antarctica is home to eighty mile per hour winds minus seventy degree temperatures and months of near total darkness Sent to Antarctica as an observer Gretchen Legler tells the story of her season spent at McMurdo Station Populated by people from all walks of life bankers MBAs therapists carpenters scientists laborers and military brass the individuals that Legler meets have gone to Antarctica to escape everything from parking tickets to angry spouses Hoping to get away from the complexities of her own life Legler arrives at McMurdo Station with the intention of researching the landscape what she finds instead is a zany population of people Part sociological study part historiography and part love story On the Ice is an exploration of one of the most unexplored places on earth and the people who are drawn to it BOOK JACKET The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints, 1975 Ernest Shackleton The Antarctic Rescuer, American Magazine, 1924 Antarctic Bibliography, 1951-1961 Library of Congress, 1970 Theodore Roosevelt in the Field Michael R. Canfield, 2015-11-16 Never has there been a president less content to sit still behind a desk than Theodore Roosevelt When we picture him he's on horseback or standing at a cliff's edge or dressed for safari And Roosevelt was more than just an adventurer he was also a naturalist and campaigner for conservation His love of the outdoor world began at an early age and was driven by a need not to simply observe nature but to be actively involved in the outdoors to be in the field As Michael R. Canfield reveals in Theodore Roosevelt in the Field throughout his life Roosevelt consistently took to the field as a naturalist hunter writer soldier and conservationist and it is in the field where his passion for science and nature his belief in the manly strenuous life and his drive for empire all came together Drawing extensively on Roosevelt's field notebooks diaries and letters Canfield takes readers into the field on adventures alongside him From Roosevelt's early childhood observations of ants to his notes on ornithology as a teenager Canfield shows how Roosevelt's quest for knowledge coincided with his interest in the outdoors We later travel to the Badlands after the deaths of Roosevelt's wife and mother to understand his embrace of the rugged freedom of the ranch lifestyle and the Western wilderness Finally Canfield takes us to Africa and South America as we consider Roosevelt's travels and writings after his presidency Throughout we see how the seemingly contradictory aspects of Roosevelt's biography as a hunter and a naturalist are actually complementary traits of a man eager to directly understand and experience the environment around him As our connection to the natural world seems to be more tenuous Theodore Roosevelt in the Field offers the chance to reinvigorate our enjoyment of nature alongside one of history's most bold and restlessly curious figures Blue Peter, 1927 Friends' Review Samuel Rhoads, Enoch Lewis, 1869
