

A scenic landscape photograph of a river flowing through a forested valley. In the foreground, the river flows over dark, wet rocks, creating white rapids. The river continues into the distance where a waterfall is visible, surrounded by dense evergreen trees. The sky is bright and hazy, suggesting a misty or overcast day. The overall tone is natural and serene.

Caste and nature Mukul Sharma, 2017-09-25 Rarely do Indian environmental discourses examine nature through the lens of caste Whereas nature is considered as universal and inherent caste is understood as a constructed historical and social entity Mukul Sharma shows how caste and nature are intimately connected He compares Dalit meanings of environment to ideas and practices of neo Brahmanism and certain mainstreams of environmental thought Showing how Dalit experiences of environment are ridden with metaphors of pollution impurity and dirt the author is able to bring forth new dimensions on both environment and Dalits without valorizing the latter's standpoint Rather than looking for a coherent understanding of their ecology the book explores the diverse and rich intellectual resources of Dalits such as movements songs myths memories and metaphors around nature These reveal their quest to define themselves in caste ridden nature and building a form of environmentalism free from the burdens of caste The Dalits also pose a critical challenge to Indian environmentalism which has until now marginalized such linkages between caste and nature Radical Human Ecology Rose Roberts,2016-04-08 Human ecology the study and practice of relationships between the natural and the social environment has gained prominence as scholars seek more effectively to engage with pressing global concerns In the past seventy years most human ecology has skirted the fringes of geography sociology and biology This volume pioneers radical new directions In particular it explores the power of indigenous and traditional peoples epistemologies both to critique and to complement insights from modernity and postmodernity Aimed at an international readership its contributors show that an inter cultural and transdisciplinary approach is required The demands of our era require a scholarship of ontological depth an approach that can not just debate issues but also address questions of practice and meaning Organized into three sections Head Heart and Hand this volume covers the following key research areas Theories of Human Ecology Indigenous and Wisdom Traditions Eco spiritual Epistemologies and Ontology Research practice in Human Ecology The researcher researched relationship Research priorities for a holistic world With the study of human ecology becoming increasingly imperative this comprehensive volume will be a valuable addition for classroom use Landscape Ecology in Asian Cultures Sun-Kee Hong,Jianguo Wu,Jae-Eun Kim,Nobukazu Nakagoshi,2010-12-25 Cultural landscapes are a product of the interactions between humans and natural settings They are landscapes and seascapes that are shaped by human history and land use Socioeconomic processes especially but also environmental changes and natural disturbances are some of the forces that make up landscape dynamics To understand and manage such complex landscapes interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary approaches are necessary emphasizing the integration of natural and social sciences and considering multiple landscape functions The spatial patterns of Asian landscapes are strongly related to human activities and their impacts Anthropogenic patterns and processes have created numerous traditional cultural landscapes throughout the region and understanding them requires indigenous knowledge Cultural landscape ecology from a uniquely Asian perspective is explored in this book as are the management of landscapes and land use policies Human dominated landscapes with long traditions such as those described herein provide useful information for all ecologists not only in Asia to better understand the human environmental relationship and landscape sustainability Civilizing Thoreau Richard J.
